Interesting Facts Everyone spends. Everyone works. Buy now. Things looked better around Salem Saturday. Business is to be better with the change in weather. Indian summers are nice but generally hard on business. Rain is what we need in Oregon. It makes us all feel better. Only 44 shopping days until Christmas. This counts out the two holidays, Armistice day and Thanksgiving besides. We noticed many men around town Saturday standing up listening to the radio reports of football games and only two or three in the lobby of the Marion hotel using the nice furniture. Why not enjoy comfort during these games. In 1929 there were 679,838 cars of revenue lumber loaded and in 1933 only 216,398. The figures are given for the year ending October 1. Business Opportunities Good grocery stock and building in good location for $1700, a real bargain. Better hurry. Jas. D. Sears, Realtor, 132 S. DRIED PRUNE MART IS REPORTED SLOW Northwest producers' sales of dried prunes were slow the past week, due largely to packers' offers dropping a quarter of a cent per pound over prices prevailing in late September and early October. Packers' quotations for Italians now are generally 4 1/2 cents on 30-34s, with a straight quarter cent drop between sizes, says the Market News Service. Producers are inclined to hold for a 5 cent market on 30-35s. Market News service comments: "No definite trend is observed. Some packers have withdrawn from the buying field altogether, temporarily, with their latest nominal offers of 4 1/2 cents. Certain districts, as at Riddle, in south Douglas county, report holding practically all in growers' hands. A north Douglas county grower reports that producers refuse to sell at present prices, and will enter into consignment contracts before selling at present values. Roseburg producers have sold very limited volume, mostly holding for market improvement in market tone, as judged by absence of price-cutting and increased volume of sales. Italians packed in 25-pound boxes in recent weeks, were sold almost universally at 5 1/2 cents per pound for 30-40s; 5 1/4 cents for 40-50s; and 5 cents for 50-60s. Little or no selling was effected below these values. Packers of stock showing prevalence of large sizes are holding for 30-40s, but with very few sales at this price. Prunes packed in bags sold at one-fourth cent below the boxed quotations. Active selling developed this week for export to United Kingdom, Germany and Scandinavian countries, 20-40s, but with very few sales at this price.
