Association of Manufacturers. Others out today were Swope, who, however, retains his chairmanship of the planning council and with Teagle will continue on the National Labor board, James A. Moffett, oil man now working with Secretary Ickes on administration of the oil code; Austin Finch, a North Carolina furniture manufacturer; John E. Elliott, California oil man.

Replacing them, Roper named: Pierre Du Pont, the Delaware industrialist; Clay Williams of Reynolds tobacco; Myron C. Taylor of U. S. Steel; General R. E. Wood of Sears Roebuck; and R. E. Flanders, mechanical engineer of Rutland, Vermont.

From now on all members of the board will serve four months terms, so that the entire present membership will have been supplanted by December 31.

Under the super chamber of commerce envisioned by Swope, trade associations would govern their industries through code authorities, which would have NRA members, or appointees of the department of the government taking over this work permanently.

They would do the policing, turning over recalcitrants to the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade commission. All regional associations would be bound together on regional lines paralleling the federal reserve districts so their information would be parallel to the financial data gather by the reserve system.

A new and bigger chamber would take in all the trade and industrial associations, grouping them in kindred units. Even the textile institute, the iron and steel institute and such big units of commercial rule would come into it. On its governing board would sit the secretary and assistant secretary of commerce.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—A planned system of industry, in which there would be prevention of unemployment and insurance for perfection of the child, was recommended today by Secretary of Labor Francis E. Perkins.

"We must demand of business that it evolve techniques for the prevention of unemployment so that we won't have recurrent periods of unemployment in which the children of the parents out of work are the chief sufferers," she said in an address at a luncheon rally which opened a campaign for funds for the crusade for children.

"Employment insurance, if properly safeguarded," she said, "would constitute a certain definite measure of security for many workers, their children and other dependents. If they had such inon the majority race in New York city regarded by political observers to have a direct effect on Mr. Roosevelt's control of the state, particularly over the electoral vote in the 1936 presidential election.

While denying reports of interest in the conflict, Mr. Roosevelt frequently has been at odds with Tammany Hall in the past, and federal patronage has been withheld from the organization.

Mayor John P. O'Brien is Tammany's candidate, while the Roosevelt wing of the party is backing Joseph V. McKee, the recovery candidate and former mayor of the city.

Florentino H. Laguardia, republican independent, is the fusion candidate and has the support of Samuel Seabury, Tammany enemy, and Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury in the Hoover cabinet.

McKee has the backing of Edward J. Flynn, Bronx democratic boss, and New York secretary of state. Reports say James A. Farley, postmaster general, and state and national democratic committee chairman, is throwing his influence to McKee.

Besides voting on national repeal, Pennsylvanians will decide upon 12 proposed constitutional amendments, including issuance of bonds for ex-service men's bonuses, and unemployment relief, modification of the Sunday blue laws and buying of toll bridges.

Ohioans also pass on constitutional amendments including state repeal, limitation of real estate taxes, old age pensions and reorganization of county governments.

Senator Harry F. Byrd is seeking election in Virginia to fill out the unexpired term of Claude A. Swanson, navy secretary. He is opposed by Henry A. Wise, a republican.

cheese factories that had been opened in defiance of several striking dairy farmers.

Despite Reno's statement, the strike continued actively in many parts of Wisconsin. Milk was dumped by pickets in Milwaukee, and many other Wisconsin cities obtained milk only on a ration basis.

The Minnesota Farmers Holiday association late yesterday voted to strike immediately to tie up farm products and added that its members would withhold payment of taxes and interest and contemnment "no forcible collection of debts" pending outcome of the strike.

In Illinois a suggestion was voiced for a conference of governors to establish a basis minimum price of 60 cents a bushel for corn on the farm.

A motecade of workers headed for the W. L. Douglas Shoe company at Brockton, Mass., was stoned by strikers in one of the few disturbances in industrial strikes.

Henry Ford decided to submit wage and hour data under the NRA.

START TODAY TO BUY FOREIGN GOLD

At the White House, it was said that Mr. Roosevelt had delegated all preparations for the foreign gold purchases to a committee consisting of Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the reconstruction corporation, Governor Eugene Black of the Federal Reserve board and Governor George Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve bank.

Uncertainty over events here was blamed in market dispatches for the continued downward movement of commodities. Prices fluctuated widely. The Moody index of 15 staples compiled daily for the Associated Press fell from 123.9 to 123.1. Stocks moved in a narrow range with the market inactive, although a rally closed the day.

The administration, meanwhile, continued its practice of pegging the price of newly mined gold a little higher each day. It was fixed at $32.26 an ounce, 14 cents above yesterday. At London, bullion was selling for $31.52, also an advance since yesterday when the price was $31.05. The dollar was weak.

The school fund is granted on a basis of $2 per pupil and the library fund on a basis of 10 cents per pupil.

litical stage was set for a new cast of characters.

Colonel Mandieta, leader of the powerful nationalists, still was undecided whether he should sacrifice his political future by becoming provisional president and reliable circles said he favored the return of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes.

President Gran San Martin told the press today that "the present government and constitution will be modified. The present judiciary commission will resign and a legislative assembly will be created."

While political conferences continued to hold the spotlight in Havana, the labor situation in the provinces continued to grow worse with the inauguration of an attempted 24-hour general strike at Santiago. It was still too early to tell whether the strike was fully effective. Street cars, buses and newspapers had suspended operations and stores were closing to prevent looting.

CUBAN STAGE SET FOR NEW LEADERS

TO TRY DYNAMITE TO LOCATE BODY

Today's efforts to drag the river were of no avail, the sheriff said, and permission was obtained from the state game commission to dynamite the stream.

Mass said that Zielinski's parents have purchased the powder, and an experienced powder man will be in charge of blasting operations.

Dynamite will be placed in the river every 200 feet down-stream from the point where the deputy sheriff's car was recovered.

Officers have expressed the belief that because of a heavy fog Zielinski failed to see a sharp curve in the market road over which he was returning to Salem from Estacada, and his car crashed over the embankment before he had time to apply the brakes.

TURN IN LIBERTIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Undersecretary Acheson of the treasury said tonight that more than $300,000,000 of fourth liberty loan bonds had been turned in for conversion into the new issue of bonds which the treasury is offering in exchange.

A total of $1,875,000,000 of the fourth liberties were called a fortnight ago.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO RUN 308 AT BILLIARDS

ERICH HAGENLOCHER, twice 18.2 ball-line billiard champion of the world. Healthy nerves have carried him through stern international competition to many titles. (In oval) Mr. Hagenlocher says: "For successful billiard play, watch your nerves! I've smoked Camels for years. They're milder. They never upset my nervous system."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

"I know of no sport," says Erich Hagenlocher, "that places a greater strain on the nerves than tournament billiards. The slightest inaccuracy can ruin an important run. One simple rule for success is, 'Watch your nerves!' I have smoked Camels for years. I like their taste better. Because they're milder, they never upset my nervous system, and believe me, I smoke plenty."

There is a difference between Camel's costlier tobaccos and the tobaccos used in other popular cigarettes. You'll notice the difference in taste and in mildness—and Camels never jangle your nerves. You can prove this yourself. Begin today!
