CAPITOL THEATRE TO RUN STEADILY

The Capitol theatre, operating on a part-week schedule here for some time, will open for a full-week run starting Saturday, Carl A. Porter, manager of Warner Bros. Capitol and Elsinore theatres here, announced Wednesday night. Porter had just returned from two days in Portland where he had booked pictures.

Mr. Porter said that a number of additional workers would be used to man the theatre on a full-week basis.

The showhouse will be run continuously on Saturdays and Sundays beginning at 2 p. m. and continuing until 11 p. m. Popular prices will prevail.

On weekdays other than Saturdays, the Capitol will open at 7 p. m. and run until 11 p. m.

For this weekend Mr. Porter has secured a double bill: "Fury of the Jungle" and "Above the Clouds." The two pictures will run for three days. A selected and arranged program of short features will also be run.

YARNES-ROTH CASE ENDS IN DEADLOCK

A deadlock resulted in the jury deliberations in connection with the damage action brought in justice court by Edward E. Roth against R. I. Yarnes as result of an automobile collision. The case occupied most of yesterday in Judge Hayden's court.

Roth sought to recover about $100, alleged damaged which occurred to his car at time of the crash. The accident occurred when, in order to avoid hitting a foreign machine which bolted a stop sign, Yarnes struck Roth's car. Roth and Yarnes were traveling opposite directions on State street at the intersection with Cottage at the time of the accident.

The deadlocked jury was dismissed late yesterday afternoon and a new trial will be held later.

'ELMER' HAS ROLE IN DAMAGE ACTION

"Elmer" but not the "Great Elmer"—in this case only a jitters old skeleton—made his way into circuit court here yesterday as a star exhibit in the case of Bert Howell against the Gilmore Oil company and several others who are defendants in a $36,000 damage action.

Physicians from Portland, called as expert witnesses by the defense, went into detail in explaining the human anatomy to the 12 jurors and "Elmer" stood close by to illustrate mooted points.

The accident in which Howell was involved occurred on South Commercial street here. He claims the Gilmore truck which he struck was improperly parked.

MARYNA ASKED TO AID DALLAS CAUSE

Senator McNary, through a committee of prominent Dallas citizens, was requested Wednesday to use his influence in securing modification of the national recovery act lumber code which, if enforced to the letter, will make it necessary to close down the Willamette Valley Lumber company's mill at Dallas for an indefinite period. Approximately 300 men would be thrown out of employment.

"We don't know what can be done to modify the ruling of the national recovery act administrator," Dr. A. B. Starbuck of Dallas told Senator McNary, "but we have not given up the fight." Starbuck expressed the opinion that the regulation in the lumber code restricting operations to 30 hours a week was being used to curtail competition and is a violation of the spirit of the national recovery act.

The Dallas mill has been operating 20 to 30 hours shifts each week. McNary promised to do everything possible to save the mill payroll. It was reported that curtailment of the output of the Willamette Lumber company also might make it necessary to reduce operation at the Salem plant of the Oregon Pulp and Paper com-

Hughey Pekingese Wins Honors When Shown at Chicago

Mrs. W. F. Hughey and son Edwin Grey have just returned from a three weeks trip to the world's fair, where they exhibited one of the famous Choi-Si-Pekingese at the fair's dog show. This dog is fast making a reputation for Mrs. Hughey's kennels, having won best of winners, and best of breed under several eastern judges.

While in the mid-west they visited her mother, Mrs. M. E. Cooke of Peoria, Ill., and many old friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hughey's former home was in Illinois. Mrs. Hughey states the buildings and lighting at the fair were beyond words.

Perfect Weather Encountered by Delaneys on Trip

Less than an hour's bad weather was encountered by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Delaney on their return motor trip from New York, which ended here Monday night. They made the long drive in nine days.

After the national American Legion convention, the Delaneys drove to New York to visit relatives of Mr. Delaney, then visited Washington, D. C., where they were shown about by representatives of United States Senator Frederick Steiwer. From Washington they drove to Indianapolis and on west via Denver, Ogden, Boise and Pendleton.

Program Planned For Spring Valley

The Spring Valley community club program Friday night at the schoolhouse in that district will feature a Scotch program, arranged by Robert Hutcheon of the Rotary club in conjunction with the chamber of commerce goodwill entertainments.

The program will include Scotch songs by Hutcheon, novelty numbers by A. E. Mayo, songs by Ted Gordon Jr. and numbers by H. Coursey's orchestra. Mrs. Ted Gordon will be accompanist.
