Sale of $10 bales of 1933 hops at prices ranging from 30 to 20 cents, has been reported this week. Collins & Collins of Independence sold 193 bales to Ray at 30 cents and Decoster sold 84 bales to Livesley at the same price. A lot of 33 bales of clusters at Mt. PORTLAND, Nov. 9. (P) -E. L. Martindale, president of the Portland produce exchange, today directed a telegram of protest to the secretary of agriculture because the Dairy Marketing corporation has established coast market prices on butter 1 1/2 cents a pound below the Chicago mar-

The corporation was designed to relieve the butter surplus through purchases for government account. It had been understood by officials here that the Portland price would be that quoted by Chicago, but latest instructions indicate Chicago is to be the high market for the country, although normally one of the lowest in open market trading,

Martindale said. His message said: "It was previously understood that Pacific coast dairy markets would be stabilized at Chicago quotations. Today's instructions from the Dairy Marketing corporation puts coast markets 11/2 cents below the Chicago market. Coast markets have been above Chicago until August 17 this year when stabilization work commenced. Pacific coast dairymen will resent this discrimination and agitation may result."
