

Woodburn's November 11 Plans Ready

WOODBURN, Nov. 9.—Woodburn will be one of the "biggest" cities in the state Armistice day, as far as entertainment goes. The third annual Armistice day carnival, sponsored by the Woodburn American Legion post, will be held, an all-day affair, starting at 11 o'clock in the morning with the big street parade and finishing up very late that night with the grand ball in the armory.

High spots of the day will include the big dinner to be served at the armory at noon by the auxiliary organization of the legion post, and the Gervais-Woodburn football game at the high school field beginning at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The street parade will get under way at 11 o'clock, the route being on Front street north to Lincoln, east on West Lincoln to First, south on First to armory. At the armory the parade will break up for the program to be given either outside or inside the armory, according to weather conditions. Sid George of Eugene, will be the principal speaker. There will be city councilmen from Woodburn, Hubbard, Mt. Angel and Gervais in the reviewing stand. Mrs. Myrtle Smith will have charge of the big dinner to be served at noon.

The day will be climaxed by the big dance at the armory in the evening, the dance to begin at 9 p. m. An orchestra of world war veterans from Portland has been signed to play the dance.

The parade lineup will be: First section, under charge of Oliver Olson, staff, Hubbard band, Howitzer company, 18th infantry, world war veterans, Mexican border veterans, auxiliary unit, Gold Star Mothers and civil war veterans, the last two contingents to be in automobiles; second section, under direction of H. M. Austin, Hungry Seven band, Spanish war veterans, Relief corps, baseball team which won regional junior title, Boy Scouts Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls; third section, under command of Milton Coy, Chemawa Indian school band, fraternal organizations, civic organizations, school classes and units costumes, parade and fire department.

Windows will be judged Friday afternoon by Mrs. Vera Dodge, chairman of the judging committee, and assistants. Judges of the costume parade will be Mrs.
