

ICKES RULING BAD FOR STATE

Coast Bridges Out in Cold if Secretary Withholds PWA Funds

Western senators and representatives however, that projects which already have been approved will not be affected either in Oregon or any other of the far western states which Ickes has listed as having received too much money from the public works administration.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 11. (AP)—A request that Public Works Administrator Ickes clarify his reported statement that the three Pacific coast states, particularly Oregon, have received their share of public works funds was wired to Ickes tonight by Marshal N. Dana, northwest regional adviser for the PWA.

"News dispatches today quote announcement by you that Washington, Oregon and California have been temporarily removed from public works allocations," Dana wired. "Does this refer to federal or non-federal projects or both? If non-federal, Oregon has been allowed one project calling for $15,000 of nearly $100,000-000 asked, and Washington, 20 projects calling for $1,800,000 of $103,000,000 asked. Please telegraph whether or the authorizations have been made or attitude incorrectly stated, as announcement is the cause of great confusion and unrest in the states affected."

The Oregon advisory board for the PWA today approved four projects totaling $491,000.

These projects were:
New library building at the University of Oregon, Eugene, $350,000.

Preliminary survey, Portland sewage disposal plant, $50,000.

Log driving on John Day river, Chee Lumber company, $50,000.
Gymnasium building for Oregon Normal at Monmouth, $41,000.

At Salem Senator Charles L. McNary declared today that a fight "with both fists with everything we have" will be his answer to Administrator Ickes' attitude.

Enlistments of 2 Local Youths Reported Here

Word of the enlistment of two local youths has reached the office of Sergeant Harry H. Stevenson, recruiting officer for the army here.

Donald Barry, Salem, has been assigned to the 30th infantry stationed at San Francisco, while Murel Rowley of Dallas is stationed at Vancouver as a member of the 7th infantry.

Two new announcements of vacancies were made from Stevenson's office in the postoffice building yesterday: In the infantry at Fort Douglas within the city limits of Salt Lake City and also in the cavalry at Monterey, Calif.

Snedecor Reports On Bridge Project

Representative Estes Snedecor of Multnomah county who is now in Washington, Friday telegraphed J. W. Devers, attorney for the state highway commission, that he had been informed by federal officials that the proposed loans for the five Oregon coast highway bridges, should be included in one application. Devers said that was the original plan but that a subsequent order from the government demanded that the loans be segregated. The cost of the five bridges was estimated at $5,200,000, of which amount 30 per cent will be obtained as a direct grant. The remaining 70 per cent of the funds would be borrowed from the government.

Silverton Bank One to Receive Time Extension

Extensions of time until December 31, in order to give seven state banks an opportunity to place their financial affairs on a 100 per cent operating basis, were granted in an order issued Friday by A. A. Schramm, state superintendent of banks. The banks affected by the order have been operating on a restricted basis since President Roosevelt declared a bank holiday.

Banks involved in the order include the Estacada State bank, Steiwer and Carpenter bank, Fossil; Umpqua Valley bank, Roseburg; Eastern Oregon Banking company, Shaniko; Coolidge and McClain bank, Silverton, and Troutdale State bank, Troutdale.

Three Convicts Receive Pardon At Meier Hands

Three conditional pardons involving as many men now serving 10 year terms in the Oregon state penitentiary for assault and robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon, were issued by Governor Meier Friday.

Raleigh S. Blackwell, one of the men to receive a pardon, was committed to the penitentiary on December 22, 1931, from Multnomah county. John Hill was received at the prison from Polk county on July 29, 1931, while Irwin O. James was received from Marion county November 12, 1931.

Under the terms of the pardons the three men are to report monthly to the state parole officer.

Medical Group Guests of Wives

The physicians and surgeons of Marion, Polk and Yamhill counties will forego their monthly discussions of hearts, livers and crania at the meeting of the Tri-County Medical association here Tuesday night to be entertained instead by their wives. Women of the auxiliary will be hosts to their husbands for dinner, cards and dancing at the Masonic temple here at 8:30 o'clock that night.

ADVERTISING AIDS BANKS SAYS COLT

Good Will, Confidence of Public Maintained, He Informs Ad Club

Bank advertising pays good dividends in public goodwill and confidence, O. C. Colt, executive vice-president of the First National Bank of Portland, told an Ad club audience here Friday noon. Colt said the experience of his bank in promoting a "Buy Now" campaign last March had won national recognition as well as the enthusiastic support and praise of many Portland businessmen.

He counseled that bank advertising could never produce results as tangible and direct as merchandise sale advertising but he held that the indirect, unseen dividends were large.

Touching on the public's opinion of banks and bankers, Colt who is president of the state association of banks, said he had been "shocked and dismayed" and had disapproved thoroughly of banking practices revealed by recent eastern exposures. Mr. Colt declared that in spite of these revelations there were "still honest bankers and sound banks."

Miss Mary Pentland, who prepared the Buy Now copy so successfully used in Portland, spoke briefly of the general idea of the advertising. She said it was launched at a timely period, was new and distinctive and thus enlisted public attention and support.

The campaign is now under way in Portland as a repeat measure and is to be run throughout November in local papers.

Margaret Duncan Called by Death; Widow of Judge

The many Salem friends of Mrs. Margaret Duncan were shocked to receive word of her death last week in a Portland hospital following an operation. Mrs. Duncan, widow of the late Judge J. M. Duncan of Linn county, had made her home at 2372 State street, Salem, for a number of years and was active in the work of the First Presbyterian church.

Funeral services will be held Monday, November 13, at the W. T. Rigdon & Son mortuary with Dr. Grover C. Birchett officiating.

MOVE FROM CORVALLIS

Clifford Herrold who has resided in Corvallis for several years as an auto salesman, has moved to Salem with his family to make his home. They have taken a house on Belmont street.

Paul Ellis Gets Master's Degree At State School

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 11. — Paul Warren Ellis, University of Oregon student from Salem, was voted a master of arts degree by the faculty for work completed at the university between commencement last June and the start of school this fall. It was announced by Earl M. Pallett, executive secretary and registrar.

Miss Elva S. Nissen, also of Salem, was voted a bachelor of science degree by the faculty for work completed during the same period. Miss Nissen majored in

Bid Wednesday On Widening Job

The project of widening and resurfacing North Capitol street here, the northern entrance of the Pacific highway to Salem, will be before the state highway commission next Wednesday for the awarding of bids. The bidder at the last meeting failed to qualify so the job has been re-advertised.

Highway and bridge work totaling $750,000 is to be awarded when the commission meets this week in Portland. Funds are provided by PWA.

Bond Firm Tries To Duck Liability On Aurora Smash

Alleging that a provision in its $10,000 bond posted to cover any liabilities of employment by Zeno Schwab, former Aurora State bank cashier who is now in the penitentiary under federal conviction, that notice of filing any claim under it must be made within three months after the employe leaves his employment and that such notice was not properly filed by the State Bank Superintendent Schramm, plaintiff in the case, the National Surety company has filed an amended answer in circuit court. The answer also states that the surety company ceased its business operations in Oregon, May 1, 1933, leaving posted with the treasurer $25,000 to fulfill its obligations in any defaults under its bonds, and intimates that the state banking superintendent should obtain the funds sought there.

The New Transparent Lipstick TATTOO at Capital Drug Store

J. H. WILLETT Salem, Ore. Corner State and Liberty

You put it on—let it set—then rub it off. Nothing remains on your lips but lovely, transparent color... the smartest eye-see. No pastimes... no purple cast... and no drying effect whatever. Four simply marvelous hues, exciting as a South Sea night... and really indelible.

No. 1 has an exciting orange pink tint. No. 2 is one shade of them all. No. 3 is a medium shade. No. 4 is of the type that changes color when applied to the lips. Given an unusually transparent richness and a depth of color that is truly amazing. It is called "PASTEL."

SHOE SALE at The Price Shoe Co.

We went in to the markets early in the season and bought a tremendous stock of merchandise and the sales through the latter part of September and October have not been up to our expectations, so we have more shoes than we can handle and sell at our already low prices, as we have not raised a single item in our entire
