

Howard Jones Demotes Two Stars in Drastic Shakeup

SAYS PLAYERS TOO SATISFIED

Griffith and Clark to Join Third String; Training Violation Charged

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13. (AP)—Johnny Drey, second string center of the University of Southern California varsity football squad was asked to turn in his suit today for breaking training rules and two other players were set down to the third eleven from the first team.

Those demoted were Gordon Clark, blocking fullback, and Homer Griffith, quarter and fullback.

"We were outplayed, outthought and outconditioned by Stanford," Coach Howard Jones told the players when he called them together for practice this afternoon.

"There must be some reason for this, particularly the latter, and I think I know why this was. I have accordingly made the changes which are likely to stick for a long time to come.

"Our schedule is more than half concluded. We have some mighty hard games left and there is next year to think about. There are at least half a dozen young players who have been itching for a chance to play regularly and I think they deserve to be given an opportunity, particularly as some of those upon whom we have been relying have not been doing their level best.

"Some of our older players have become self-satisfied and are therefore of less value to the team than those who are still seeking to improve."

As a result of the changes, Irvine Warburton was moved up to first string quarterback with Cliff Propst, fullback, and Cal Clemens and Bob McNeish, halves. Capt. Ford and Jimmie Biscoe continued at ends, while Bob Erskine, recovered from his knee injury and Hueston Harper, were the tackles; Aaron Rosenberg and Larry Stevens, guards, and Curtis Youel, center.

Trojan Game Next on List For Webfeet

EUGENE, Nov. 13. (AP)—While the University of Oregon regulars who defeated Oregon State college Saturday at the Pacific Coast conference limbered up a bit and then looked on the Webfoot reserves held a stiff scrimmage session with the freshman eleven in preparation for their final conference game at Los Angeles Saturday against the University of Southern California.

After their two-day rest, the regulars will go in for "heavy duty" practice tomorrow, Coach Prink Callison said. Indications are the squad will be in good shape for the contest that will mean the coast championship for the Webfooters if they can repeat Stanford's success in downing the men of Troy.

Biff Nilsson, veteran tackle out of the lineup for several weeks, is back in shape and will start against the Trojans, Callison said. Bernie Hughes, center and co-captain, will be able to play, with his shoulder, injured in Saturday's struggle against Oregon State, protected by a brace. Alex Eagle, tackle, will also be ready to go in against Southern California if he is needed. He suffered a dislocated elbow in the Oregon State game.

In celebration of Oregon's victory over the Beavers in the annual state classic, classes were dismissed today and the students held a huge rally dance at McArthur court where a new Oregon victory bell was presented to the student body by the Order of the O.

The deal calls for Portland to receive three players and cash.

Frank Ragland, a pitcher and Jimmy McLeon, infielder, both obtained from the Albany, N. Y., International league club last year, are two of the players going to Portland. The third man whose name was not announced, will be sent to the coast in the spring. The amount of cash was not announced.

When East Meets West

WHO WINDS UP A SUCCESSFUL FIRST SEASON AS OREGON STATE COACH THIS SATURDAY WHEN THE BEAVERS PLAY FORDHAM AT N.Y. ...

TWO youthful football coaches who have been very much in the limelight this year are Jimmy Crowley of Fordham and Lon Stiner of Oregon State. Both Crowley and Stiner are finishing their first season as coach at their respective institutions, and both have enjoyed notable success so far this year.

Crowley has built Fordham up to the point where it is just about the most popular football team in the East, and the Rams may eventually take Notre Dame's place as the nation's favorite eleven.

At Oregon State, the little known Mr. Stiner took over the reins when Paul Schissler resigned from the coaching job at the end of last season.

There was no blaring trumpet or advance ballyhoo when Stiner started in as head coach this fall, but as Oregon State kept on winning from favored rivals, people began to ask about this new coach, Lon Stiner's coaching job was assured for some years to come.

Stiner leads his sensational Beaver outfit against the powerful Fordham Rams this Saturday at New York, and football fans in the metropolis expect to see one of the greatest games of the year when these two brilliant eleven clash.

Among the players who are expected to stand out in Saturday's big inter-sectional battle are Ed Danowski, Fordham's captain and star backfield threat; "Red" Franklin, marvelous Oregon State triple threat, touted as the best on the Pacific Coast, and Johnny Del Isola, the Rams' candidate for All-American center.

This Del Isola is rated on a par with the great Tony Siano, Fordham's famous center of a couple of years back, so you can see he must be quite a pivot.

The lineup is as follows, the first four teams all playing each other and likewise the second four:

GRID CONTESTS SLATED FRIDAY

Bearcat - Pirate Fray to Be In Afternoon, Salem-Tillamook Night

Major football contests in Salem this coming weekend will be crowded into one day, it was revealed Monday when it was determined that Willamette's Bearcats and the Albany Pirates would play Friday afternoon, Salem high and Tillamook high that night, both teams to be on Sweetland field.

That seemed to be the only arrangement possible, since both games were originally scheduled for Friday and neither Albany college nor Tillamook high could change to Saturday, Albany because many of the players are employed on Saturdays, and could not get away from their jobs; Tillamook because it has a "rig" game scheduled Saturday which Coach Russell Rarey must also supervise.

Both of these contests have several unique angles which add to their interest. The college game will mark the first appearance here of Clyde J. "Red" Rupert in the role of football coach, though he has brought many baseball teams to Salem and they have always been scrappy no matter what the outcome; and it will be the last home game of the season for the Bearcats, and incidentally the last home appearance of three veteran linemen, "Wienie" Kaiser, Lowell Gribble and Ed Tweed.

The high school game brings here a team that has not been defeated in two seasons, and one which was widely regarded a year ago as the eleven that should have been given the call for the Portland "state championship" game. There is also an element of revenge in it, for Salem lost to Tillamook 31 to 0 a year ago.

Inasmuch as the major events, with stubborn late November and early December games still ahead, scarcely can hope to average two touchdowns per Saturday, there seems every likelihood of a further drop in the averages over the full season, and a corresponding increase in agitation this winter for more rule changes.

Lou Little, of Columbia, chairman of the coaches' advisory committee that meets with the rules committee, has opened the drive for further changes with the suggestion football eliminate the "dead ball" provisions on fumbles and blocked kicks.

Little had suggested, and several other head coaches have joined in the movement, returning to the old regulations, where fumbles and blocked kicks were free balls and could be picked up and advanced. Little believes the "dead ball" rule, devised to aid the offense by increasing use of the lateral pass through a decrease in the penalty for fumbling on this type of play, has not obtained its objective and has resulted only in complications for officials and players.

Many coaches believe the "dead ball" rule not only is desirable, from the standpoint of fairness

Golf League Team Scores Are Delayed

Interclass wrestling, with close to 80 boys participating, will start today, matches to be held at noon in the gymnasium. All wrestlers who hope to make the high school team must participate in the interclass series.

Low Scores on Grid Point To Throttled Offense and Need of New Rule Changes

By EDWARD J. NEIL
NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—College football scoring, on the basis of performances this season by teams representative of the entire country, has set a new low record, thereby adding weight today to arguments of coaches that the defense has gained the upper hand and, in effect, pretty well throttled the offense.

Despite the fact that most high scoring "breather" games are over, and only tight, low point battles lie ahead, average scores of 164 teams have dropped to 12.09 points a game. Over the entire season of 1932, 159 elevens averaged 12.83 points per game, a mark 1.77 points under the lowest previous average in the 11 years the Associated Press has kept such records.

The downward trend is all the more interesting in view of last winter's major rule change, specifically devised to aid the offense, and eliminating the necessity for wasting a down to carry the ball outside a fielder it had lodged close to the sidelines. Undulate the "season's" code the ball automatically comes in 10 yards whenever it is downed closer than that distance to the boundary.

Scoring averages have shown a steady downward trend from the high of a 19 point average set in 1922 when figures were kept on only 63 teams. By 1930 this average had dropped to 16 points per game and to 14 in 1931.

to the side losing possession, but that it has encouraged the offense to take more chances than it would under the old "recover and run" regulations.

IRISH OF PORTLAND TAKE ON BIG GAME

PORTLAND, Nov. 13. (AP)—Offensive power through the center of the line was the objective Coach Gene Murphy concentrated on today as he sent his Columbia university squad through a stiff practice in preparation for next Sunday's game here with Gonzaga university of Spokane.

The Irish have shown great offensive ability in midfield, but have failed to produce the needed power, Coach Murphy said, when inside the opponents' 20-yard line. John Corcoran, plunging fullback, will be charged with the task Sunday of putting on the power when an extra yard is needed.

Merl Nebl, Columbia's flashy half, has been one of the team's outstanding players. He is a triple threat man, equally good at kicking, running with the ball or passing. He has also stood out as a defensive player against passes.

In their last four games the Irish have not been scored on, due largely to the work of Pete Leinweber, 220-pound tackle, who will probably be named captain for the Gonzaga game.

GRAPPLE SHOW TO BE TONIGHT

Clingman Does 'Iron Man'; Jack Dempsey Coming Soon as Referee

While Salem wrestling fans awaited tonight's show at the armory which will feature an "iron man" act by Otis Clingman who will meet two opponents, they were intrigued by a new announcement of considerable interest; namely that Jack Dempsey, ex-world champion heavyweight fighter more recently in the limelight as a successful promoter, would make an appearance here Herb Owen, matchmaker, announced he planned to bring Dempsey here as referee of the mat bouts December 12.

Dempsey has done considerable officiating at wrestling bouts in the last two years, and news reports occasionally have cited him as reverting to his old habits, using a knockout punch to tame obstreperous matmen.

Clingman's double event will include the main bout in which he will meet the "Masked Marvel," and another just previous, his opponent's name not being revealed until time for the match to start.

"Lightning" Rod Fenton and Rob Roy will meet in a one-hour bout which Owen promises will be fast, and Don Sugai, local boy, will meet Jesse McCann for the second time, also over the hour route on this occasion though it took him much less time to dispose of McCann with a sonnenberg a week ago.
