Governor Can't Attend — The special legislative session to convene here next Monday will make it impossible for Governor Meier to attend a meeting called by Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, for the purpose of outlining the civil works program. The meeting will be held in Washington next week. Governor Meier Tuesday telegraphed Hopkins that Oregon would be presented at the meeting by Elmer Goudy of the state relief committee and Burton Palmer of the state reconstruction board.

Meyer Case Heard — Arguments in the case brought by Fred Meyer, Inc., to test the constitutionality of an order issued by the state welfare commission, prohibiting women from working in Portland stores after 6 p. m., were heard by the state supreme court Tuesday. Attorneys for Meyer alleged that the ruling of the commission was unreasonable, discriminatory and unconstitutional. The lower court held for the plaintiff.

ill and could not be interviewed, Bennett declared.
"It is my understanding that Thomas is ready to go for lower telephone rates," Bennett said, "and I probably will recommend that the city of Portland join in his program rather than sponsor a separate campaign. I feel that such a plan would be more effective under present conditions."

County Court to Talk Roads Today

Members of the Marion county court are in Portland for the first part of this week, attending the annual meeting of county judges and commissioners. This group today meets with the state highway commission after a two-day convention dealing with problems before all county court members. James E. Smith, Marion county commissioner, is secretary of the state association. Sheriff A. C. Burk will go to Portland later to attend the sheriff's convention.

Hauser in McMinnville — Paul H. Hauser, deputy collector of internal revenue here, is in McMinnville. He will be in his office again Monday, November 20.

Coast Setup for Hop Men Talked

Probability that the coast hop industry will be organized into one big association at the hop growers' meeting here Saturday at the Marion hotel has been expressed by officials of the Oregon Hop Growers. The meeting is the second annual session and banquet for the Oregon growers.

Delegations are expected from California and Washington, with the result that growers from all three coast states are expected to move for a coast-wide organization, which would represent about 30,000 acres of hops.

"Not like others"

"That good taste you're talking about is the 'seasoning' of Turkish Tobacco —"

"I HAPPEN to be one of the men who buy Turkish tobacco for Chesterfield.

"Our men live in Constantinople, Samsoun, and Smyrna in Turkey; and Cavalla, Scres, Xanthi, and Patras in Greece. The best known Turkish tobaccos come from these sections, and we try to select the best grades for Chesterfield.

"There is no other tobacco just like Turkish—it has a taste and aroma all its own. Chesterfield seasons them just right.
