Salem Markets SPEGULATORS FIND

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (P)— Foreign exchanges provided the excitement in financial markets

today. The decreased gold value of dollars, as measured both by the R. F. C.'s daily purchasing price and the level assigned by European currencies— the latter was the lower of the two-gave speculative marksmen semething to shoot at, but the response of stocks and several commodities was not especially emphatic. Turnover was 2,169,310 shares. U. S. Steel and U. S. Smelting were off about a point. Union Pacific, New York Central, North American, Public Service of New Jersey, American Telephone and Baltimore & Ohio lost around half a point to 21/2. Alcohols came under late pressure.
