Committee Same As At Regular Session

The house reconvenes this morning at 10 o'clock.

Committee organization will remain the same as at the regular session with the addition of the special steering committee. Earl C. Snell, speaker, was allowed to augment his committee as he saw fit. Monday afternoon he added Representative Wiers as chairman of the game committee and Representative Lang as chairman of the committee on mines. Representatives Belton and Miller were added to the alcoholic control committee.

Representative Winslow, chairman of the joint committee on roads and highways, announced a public hearing on bus and truck legislation for this afternoon following house adjournment. Yesterday committees on education and unemployment relief, on health and public morals and on alcoholic control, all had gatherings.

The house engaged in extended debate Monday afternoon over the pay of the secretaries for its members. Representative John H. Hall of Multnomah county moved the pay of these workers be increased from $4 to $5 daily to correspond with the pay rate provided by the senate. The measure was defeated on a roll call vote, the Marion county delegation going solidly against the proposal. Representative Dickson first voted for the measure but changed his vote before the results were announced.

Winners for tonight's play will be announced Wednesday morning and grand prize winners will be announced Thursday, in order that scores for each of the eight evenings may be rechecked.

The standings of many players was extremely close as the tournament ended and tonight's play might upset any pair's position.

Under the tournament rules, each team may enter for the final grand prizes the six best scores made. The following shows the aggregate position scores of a number of the players, the first column showing the lowest five total scores made and the second the total of the lowest six scores made.

Players may either use the six score total shown here or add to the five-score total tonight's results, providing of course, that the new total would be lower than the six-total shown here.

OVERTIME PARKING FINES PROTESTED

"It's a shame," declared a man in a municipal court last week, as he was required to pay a 50 cent penalty for a violation of parking regulations. "Farmers come to town and find us city folk using all the parking spaces; we fine them. If the farmer I'm representing here pays this 50 cents he'll never come back to Salem to trade."

As a result of the latest drive on overtime and double parking motorists, Judge Mark Poulsen says he spends much of his time each day, listening to the culprits' complaints at having to pay a 50 cent penalty. Until recently, $1 was the usual fine for the offense.

A farmer was heard to declare he had received thousands of parking tags in the past 20 years but that "this is the first time they've ever cost me anything."

Soldier May Be Next New York Police Chief

The nation will watch with deep interest the manner in which a soldier deals with the crime problem if, as has been rumored, Mayor-elect Fiorello LaGuardia appoints one of these three men as new Police Commissioner of New York. Brigadier General Pelham D. Glassford can boast a distinguished record in the U. S. Army and as Police Chief of Washington, D. C., where his mastery handling of the bonus army situation aroused the admiration of the entire nation. Major General Fechet also has an enviable military career. He served in the World War with the U. S. air force. He became chief of the air corps in 1927 and resigned from the army last year. Major General John F. O'Ryan, one of the most decorated of American soldiers, commanded the 27th Division A. E. F. in France and Belgium. He is that rare combination of American soldier, business man and soldier.

water system for the city were filed with the council from the Hollywood Community club and Salem Lions club.

To the council incinerator committee was referred a bid by Robert M. Allen of Oswego and Portland to take over the city incinerator, operate it 12 hours daily, and collect garbage at no more than present rates for a five-year period. Allen offered to assume all operating expenses and pay the city a $250 annual fee.

The council put through first and second readings an ordinance to license the dart games starting up here, assessing them $50 every six months and requiring that no minors be permitted to play, the places closed between 12 midnight and 6 a. m. and no prizes excepting merchandise given. The proprietor of the first such place opened here suggested that minors be kept out, it was reported by Dr. O. A. Olson, who introduced the bill.

Plan Reconsidered

Mayor Douglas McKay's vote was required to break a tie and allow reconsideration of Dr. Olson's lengthy fire prevention ordinance which was defeated two weeks ago. The measure was referred to the fire committee.

A bill introduced by the mayor to repeal the 1921 ordinance forbidding truck parking in the fire zone was sent to committee.

The $60,000 six per cent serial bond issue to refund the old city hall issue due January 1, 1934, was agreed on by the council and December 18 set for time of opening bids. If no bids are received, the new bonds may be exchanged for the old.

A plea by Don Young that the ordinance regulating popcorn wagons and stands, being amended to permit operation of such a business near the State theatre, be revised also to give surrounding property owners a right to protest was disregarded.

Over Alderman H. H. Vandervort's protest, the aldermen appropriated $25 for expenses of the League of Oregon Cities at the present legislative session.

Change of lot one, block one, Martin's subdivision, from class residential to class three business special zone was approved.

RETRIAL IS ASKED IN DAMAGE ACTION

Petition for retrial of the $16,000 personal injury action which last week resulted in a $1,654 verdict for Louise M. Abery against the Oregon Motor Stages, a corporation, was filed in the office of the county clerk yesterday, by E. L. McDougal, defense counsel.

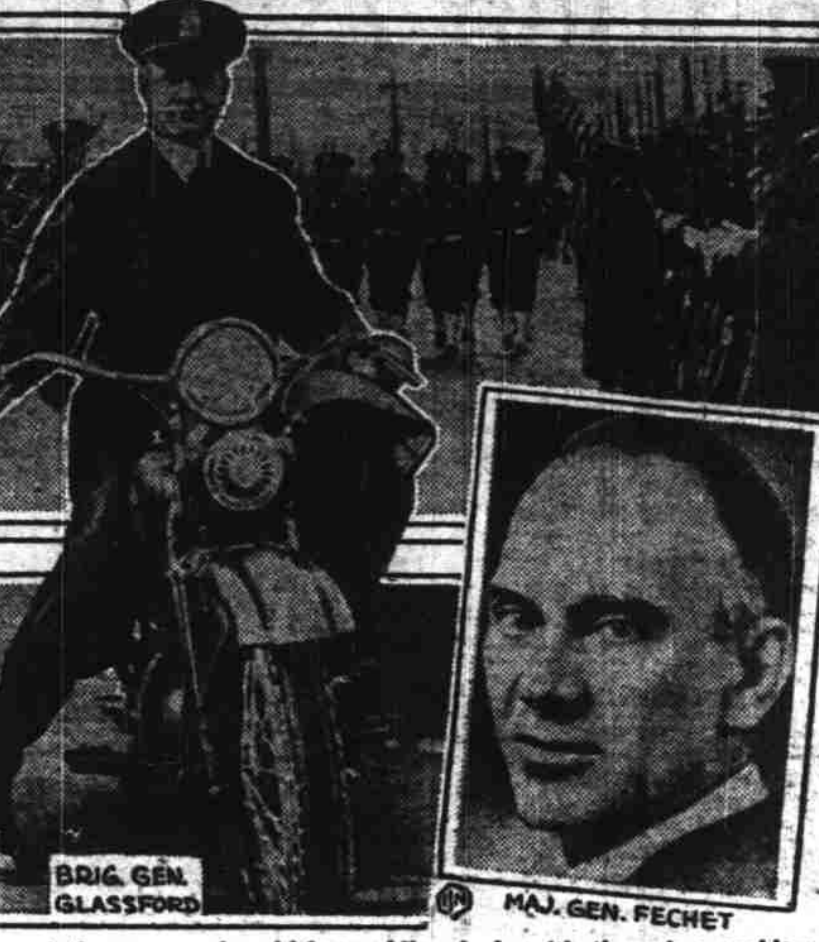

The verdict was returned by a circuit court jury last Thursday after a previous trial had resulted in a disagreement. The petition for the retrial contends the verdict awarded excessive damages, that there was insufficient evidence to justify a verdict for the plaintiff, and that there were errors of law in the trial record.

The suit is the outgrowth of an

Get 30 Days for Stealing Onions

Harold Ames and Mrs. Rose Sutfich were sentenced to 30 days each in county jail yesterday by Judge Hiram Overton of Woodburn justice court, when they pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing eight sacks of onions from a Japanese grower in the Labish district by whom they were employed at time of the theft. GRANGERS REPORT ON NATIONAL MEET

1000 Members Take Seventh Degree at Boise, Says Oregon Lecturer

A thousand members were given the seventh degree and 500 the fifth and sixth degrees at the national grange convention now in session in Boise, Idaho. Mrs. Marie Flint McCall, state lecturer of the Oregon grange, reported upon her return. The session continues into this week, but other duties caused Mrs. McCall's early return.

"Idaho certainly made us feel welcome; Wednesday night a banquet was held, with 750 seated; and Saturday afternoon a parade two miles long and a rodeo at the fairgrounds was held especially for us," Mrs. McCall stated.

Only three other states, Washington, Idaho and Colorado, were represented at the luncheon given at the Boise hotel for state grange lecturers, with James C. Farmer, national lecturer, the host. Two lecture conferences with Farmer were attended by Mrs. McCall.

A journey to the great dam site near Caldwell was arranged for early this week for the grangers. Business sessions and resolutions open this week.

Others attending the national grange meet from near Salem are Arthur Brown of Salem, state deputy; Mrs. Daisy Bump of North Howell; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dallas of the Red Hills grange. Mrs. McCall made the trip to Idaho in company with Creswell and Eugene friends, Dr. S. B. Laughlin attended early meetings.

LARGE INCREASE IN BIRTHS NOTED HERE

Indicative of increasing population in Marion county is the monthly report of the health department, showing that the birth rate has risen and the death rate decreased this year, according to Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, health officer. There were 63 births, 23 of them male, during October, bringing the total for 1933 to 714, or 11 over last year. Deaths numbered 48, of which 32 were male, raising the year's total to 548 as against 558 last year.

While two babies died last month and 22 during the past 10 months, the death rate of infants shows up favorably, Dr. Douglas pointed out. To November 1, 1932, 23 infants had died. Two more automobile fatalities last month brought the total in this class to 16 for the year, still seven under 1932. Other causes of death were: Communicable diseases four, cancer five, apoplexy two, heart disease 17, kidney disease four, accidents not caused by autos four, and other causes 10.

Twenty-four of the deaths were of persons in state institutions, classified as non-residents.
