

Local News Briefs

To Hear Pleas—Four prisoners, now held in the county jail, will be allowed to plead to various charges tomorrow morning when arraigned before Judge L. H. McMahan. The move is made to reduce the numbers of prisoners in the county jail at Thanksgiving time. The four who will plead tomorrow include Arthur Anderson and Rex Keene, charged with assault with intent to rob the Elker garage; Harry Hiddle, charged with auto theft; and W. B. Tucker, alleged bank check forger. Manly Hester, last defendant of a ring charged with stealing hops from James McKay of St. Paul, will be arraigned Monday.

Teachers Meet—First and second prize awards in the safety poster contest were given students of Albany high school by officials of the Willamette Valley Vocational-Educational Directors' association at the monthly meeting staged in the statehouse Wednesday night. Approximately 25 persons attended the meeting. C. A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction, O. D. Adams, state director of vocational education, and J. F. Santee, professor of education, Oregon Normal school, were the main speakers.

Mill Crisis Averted—Threatened closing of the Oregon Pulp & Paper company mill has been averted through the cooperation of the Columbia River Paper company. A report made yesterday by F. W. Leadbetter, president of the company, to the board of directors, stated that the mill would not be closed due to a shortage of pulp wood and hog fuel. The mill receives five carloads of pulp chips daily from the Dallas mill but this is not sufficient for operation.

Meeting Scheduled—A meeting of the members of the Christian Federation of Marion county is scheduled to be conducted at 7:45 o'clock tonight in the W. C. T. U. hall. A report of the special legislative committee of the organization, appointed to confer with legislators regarding liquor control, will be one of the features of the session. The organization also will formulate a policy regarding control of liquor after the repeal of the dry law.

Account Approved—The final account of the estate of Ethel Hedrick, showing receipts, disbursements and distribution to heirs, filed by Ladd and Bush Trust company, executor, was approved in probate court yesterday. Certain mortgages were allowed to be assigned from Ladd and Bush Trust company, as executor, to the company as trustee.

Drop Monmouth Line—Abandonment of Monmouth branch of the Southern Pacific lines in Polk county has been authorized by the Interstate commerce commission. It was announced at the state utility commission here yesterday. Hearing of the application was held by Charles M. Thomas, state utility commissioner, several months ago.

Set Fire Escape—A new fire escape is being placed on the northeast corner of the courthouse, in compliance with the recommendation of the grand jury. Two escapes lead from the fourth floor to the large landing on the third floor, offering a quicker exit in case of fire.

Commit Parole Violator—Charles Taylor, Salem youth, yesterday was committed to the state training school at Woodburn by Sheriff A. C. Burk, for violation of his parole.

Report Filed—Henry Stute yesterday filed with the county clerk his semi-annual report of the estate of Anna Stute, which was appraised at $10,044.74. The report shows receipts of $1,739.21 and disbursements of $629.53.

Beer Revenue High—Sales of beer revenue stamps at the city recorder's office yesterday netted the city coffers $57.55 profits. Beer vendors purchased 89 55 cent stamps for half barrels and 999 one cent stickers for bottles.

Sprague Elected—Wallace Sprague was elected editor of the Clarion annual in the elections held at Salem high school this week.

Loman Stead, Mary Schultz, Mrs. A. A. Schramm, Mrs. C. L. Sherman, E. A. Tillson and Paul Wallace.

Answer Filed—Albert Rich, former president of the Scotts Mills bank and defendant in a suit instituted by A. A. Schramm, superintendent of banks, yesterday answered the complaint in the case. The defendant alleges that he, with J. O. Dixon, entered into a contract for the purpose of guaranteeing compliance with a demand by Schramm to reduce the amount of fixed assets carried on the books. Before the order was completed, the answer states, the bank was closed and further compliance with the request was impossible.

Talk Monday—Carl D. Thompson, lecturer and writer, speaking under the auspices of those interested in municipal ownership, will give an address at the Chamber of Commerce next Monday night at 8 o'clock. The subject of his address will probably be "Roosevelt and Reconstruction." The public is invited.

Permits Total $505—Three building permits have been issued here the past two days for jobs to cost a total of $595. They are: P. H. Welch, alter dwelling at 505 North High street, at cost of $350; Mrs. Nadvornik, re-roof dwelling at 2396 State, $130; Donald Young, re-roof store at 395 North High, $115.

Johnson Sentenced—Cecil Johnson, returned Monday from San Francisco, yesterday was sentenced to serve one year in prison for passing fraudulent checks. He was paroled to District Attorney William H. Trindle. Johnson is to redeem the bogus checks and pay the cost of his extradition from California.

City Notices Out—City Treasurer C. O. Rice today will mail out over 500 cards notifying city property owners of improvement assessments or payments to the Hancock bond fund which come due December 1. He estimated the amounts due would total several thousand dollars.

Marriage License Issued—After the three day waiting period was waived yesterday a marriage license was issued from the office of the county clerk to John A. Goldade, 23, of Woodburn, and Mildred Butterfield, 20, of Woodburn.

Smith, Irwin Collide—Benjamin Wesley Smith, 412 North 21st street, reported to city police yesterday that his automobile had collided at Chemeketa and 21st with a machine driven by M. T. Irwin, 1246 Liberty. No damage was listed.

Arrests Scarce—City police yesterday went through their second day of no arrests. Though the blotter was a blank for the two days, however, the number of tags placed on cars parked too long or in unlawful manner mounted around the 100 mark.

Christmas Seal Significance is Told Two Clubs

Describing Christmas seals as not a mere decoration for packages and letters but rather as a sign that tuberculosis eradication is being carried out, Rev. S. Darlow Johnson, pastor of Leslie Methodist church and president of the Marion county public health association, last night urged Fraternis club members at the Gray Belle to buy a large number of the seals this year. He said Marion county would receive 60 per cent of the proceeds from the 1933 seal sale instead of 40 if it exceeded its 1932 record. Rev. Johnson addressed the Lions club yesterday noon on the same subject.

Sanction for Dances to Be Sought; Student Meet Is Called Today

Informal dinner party. Certain groups of the student body believe that by forcing the hand of the administration at this time, nothing can be gained, while others are in favor of concerted action. "We want to rid ourselves of this hypocrisy," one of the student leaders said yesterday. "It is no secret that we have been holding dances, we do not deny it. We want it known that Williamette is the only Methodist school in the country where such a ban is in effect. And this despite the fact the Methodist church has withdrawn its opposition to dancing and card playing. We do not blame the deans for the attitude they have taken because they only are doing their duty. The blame for the entire squabble lies at the door of the trustees."

Suspension of any student for dancing will mean an immediate strike by a large section of the student body, another of the leaders predicted. "Dancing is going to continue the same as it has in the past," he said. "The only difference is, now it is out in the open. I should think the authorities would rather have the students enjoy themselves at a supervised dance, well chaperoned, than at a public dance where there is no university supervision."

"I believe the students did the fair thing. Leaders of the various groups went to the deans and asked sanction for their dances. This was done after we were given to understand one dance which we staged would not be investigated. At first we thought the deans were in favor of the proposition and the reiteration of the ban, which came Wednesday, was a surprise."

"We have carried the campaign along this far and we are going through to a finish this time." Practically the entire student body was said to be in accord with the views expressed by Ren W. Young, editor of the Collegian, published yesterday. Young said in part: "The present system of bootlegging injects an unwholesome taint of hypocrisy into campus social affairs. Early dismissal of chaperones after banquets, the dance and subsequent allusions in the news reports of the party to 'musical games enjoyed' foist an unsavory sham into student functions."

In reiterating the dancing edict, the two deans offered stricter regulations for chaperones. In the future chaperones must be selected from either parents, faculty or alumni. To be eligible, alumni must have graduated from the school prior to 1924.

43 MEN ARE GIVEN WORK, SILVERTON

SILVERTON, Nov. 23.—(Special)—Silvertown's unemployment list will be 43 men shorter Friday morning when that many go to work under the allotment made Silvertown through the CWA. Of these 25 will be employed by the water department. The Silvertown water commission, of which Dr. A. W. Simmons is chairman, applied for and was granted, 6000 hours of unskilled labor and 1000 of skilled labor. The unskilled laborers will be employed at 50 cents an hour while the skilled ones will receive up to $1.20 an hour.

The water commission's plans call for the laying of 1270 feet of six inch pipe on Water street and 920 feet of 12 inch pipe on Main street. Work Friday morning will begin at the intersection of "A" and Water streets and work toward Main street. Later work on Main street will be from the Main street bridge to the corner of the S. Ames residence property. Eigin McCleary, superintendent of the Silvertown Water department, will supervise the work.

The men will put in 30 hours a week. Only local help registered at the U. S. employment bureau in charge of R. W. Davis will be employed. The 43 men will be employed at Silvertown will gather at the city hall Friday morning at 9:00 o'clock.

Case of Sleep Walking Hinted

Glad only in long underwear and a shirt, a barefooted man was found by city police wandering along the sidewalk near State and Commercial streets early Thursday morning. They were not inclined to believe his story of having been in a nearby hotel room where other occupants stole his clothes. They said he apparently was walking in his sleep. The man was returned to the Commercial hotel where he had a room. There were indications that he had been drinking earlier in the night, police stated.

FIGHT OPENED UPON CONTROL

Dr. Knox Defends His Plan For State Handling Of Hard Liquor

mit their modification to a vote of the people next May. He said in part: "Prohibition was defeated on the promise that the saloon would not be restored in any form. Political platforms of both parties made such recommendations? What difference is there between drinking liquor while sitting at a table and while standing at a bar?"

Mrs. Nan Honeyman followed Dr. Knox. Mrs. Honeyman was a leader in the repeal movement in this state but always declared her objective was abolition of the evils of prohibition and no return of the saloon. She declared her strong support of the majority report of the Knox committee of which she was a member and declared "the saloon or nothing like it will ever return with the consent of the women of the state."

George Neuner, former federal district attorney, also a member of the committee, endorsed the bill based on that report. He said: "The state is going into all kinds of business so why the howl about this venture? If we let the down the bars will go up. Experience under prohibition has taught that too severe penalties defeat the enforcement. The purpose of the discrimination between classes of liquors is to discourage the consumption of hard liquors in favor of those of low alcoholic content."

There were others who made suggestions as to the bill. E. S. Martin of Salem, representing the Christian Federation, urged substitution of the old local option law for the provisions on that subject in the pending bill. Another speaker urged restriction of exploitation of the business through high-powered advertising.

Bills for State Buildings Given Committee Okeh

The house unemployment committee voted Thursday to report out favorably three bills providing for the construction of state buildings aggregating a cost of approximately $710,000. The buildings would be constructed under the federal reconstruction program. The buildings include a state library at a cost of $300,000, boys' dormitory at the state blind school $60,000, and combined hospital, dining hall and refrigerating plant at the state penitentiary $300,000.

Emmons Leader For Lions Club Christmas Plan

Dr. Carl W. Emmons was elected chairman of the Lions club 1933 Christmas cheer committee at the organization's luncheon at the Gray Belle yesterday. He will be assisted by R. W. Niles and W. R. Newmyer in deciding how the club's relief fund will be expended this year. Dr. Emmons served as chairman last year.

Speaker for the luncheon was Charles Williams, Klamath county commissioner and Klamath Falls Lions club member, who discussed the civil works program.

STANFORD DEBATE DRAWS BIG CROWD

Before an audience of more than 200 persons in Waller chapel last night Willamette university debaters argued the relative worth of democracy and dictatorship in the saving of a nation, with representatives of Stanford university, Joe Scott, Portland, and William Mosher, Salem, upheld the affirmative or democratic side of the question against Robert Grantier and Rollin Woodbury, speaking smoothly and wittily for Stanford and incidentally for dictatorship.

The visitors had spent a major portion of the afternoon in the house of representatives at the statehouse and drew upon the experience for illustrations which brought roars of approval from their audience. They made the trip from Palo Alto to Vancouver, B. C., by boat and are returning in leisurely manner, debating as they go. Wednesday night they met Linfield college debaters in McMinnville, tonight they speak at Albany competing with representatives of the Albany college forensic squad, and tomorrow night they will debate Oregon State college men.

Leland Chapman, Willamette graduate and former director of public speaking and debate at the local university who coaches the Stanford team, did not accompany the men north.

SPEEDING CHARGED
Douglas M. Drager, 988 North Capitol street, was arrested last night on a charge of speeding, according to city police records. He was cited to appear in municipal court today.
