Salem Markets FOREIGN MART FOR

The northwest prune situation continues in a healthy condition, though export demand the past week has let down a bit, Market News Service reports. Packers' sales were largely to Germany, Poland and Scandinavian countries, with the United Kingdom also taking light supplies and Italy entering the market. Movement over the Portland dock continues unusually heavy for this time of year, but is largely in fulfillment of previous sales. Prices to growers are unchanged, with producers' sales mostly in small lots from scattered districts. Stocks in growers hands are light. Prices to growers are 4 % cents for $0-35s with straight quarter drop for each 5 point decline in size. Comments from producers are: Dilland - Last lot of prunes sold at 3%c for 45-55s, about 2000 pounds. North Donglas county - Crop practically all sold. Most sales of recent date 4 1/2c for 30-35s. Yamhill county-No prunes left in growers' hands. Last lot in Forest Grove district sold at close of week. The French prune market in California was a little stronger November 22. Demand was fairly good, particularly for small sizes. Prices advanced slightly on all sizes but trading, although fairly active, was mostly limited to small lots.

PORTLAND, Nov. 24. (AP)-Increasing weakness was suggested in the market on eggs, locally and generally along the coast. Seasonable depression was in fact suggested at most American trading points. Receipts of exthe pressure of storage stock becoming greater, there was still more or less disposition to shade the values officially named by the Pacife co-ops.

are shown as low as 26c dozen to retailers although so far as shown this extreme low selling is by producers rather than by the regular distributive trade. While there was no change in the butter market for the day, reports suggested that the buying quota of the government has about been reached, which would have a weakening influence here.

Butterfat values were mixed.

Sales of so-called fresh extras

Owing to the scarcity of offerings during the last few days, an advance in the buying price on Leghorn hens was in prosthe same as yesterday.
