Silverton business windows have attracted an unusual amount of interest this week. At the Syring and Bank grocery an exceptionally fine replica of a turkey is holding the interest of all the school children. The turkey is formed from brown coffee beans in a background of white rice. At the Women's Specialty shop chrysanthemums, some of them measuring five inches across, were grown by Mrs. Cal Schlador's sister, Mrs. Hattie Taylor White, who lives east of Silverton. Mrs. Schlador is manager of the shop. Mrs. White has long been known for her fine floral specimens.

PORTLAND, Nov. 29. (AP) -After an hour of trading, lower prices were named for eggs by the Pacific co-ops after being up against still lower priced sales by outsiders and pricate firms. Prices were down 1 cent all around except pullets. Owing to the increase in production and the inability of the trade to clean up, creamery interests were asking the government to increase its next quota from 300 to 400 cubes daily. Some accumulations were shown.

Practical cleanup of all live and dressed chickens received on the open market was suggested by the trade. Prices were showing no furthr changes. Ducks were cleaned up fairly well but few geese were received. First Lady apples of the season were reported from Bingen and priced nominally $2 apple box. Markets Firm

Rules in Street NEW YORK, Nov. 29. (AP)-Although markets were too much preoccupied today with thoughts of the impending Thanksgiving feast to give much attention to business, their tone was one of firmness. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Can, Westinghouse, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Harvester, Santa Fe, New York Central, General Motors, Chrysler, Du Pont and Kennecott were up a point or thereabouts, while Case and Dome gained 2 each and Homestake, in one of its periodic excursions, scored 24. Utilities were little changed. Turnover of 752,190 shares was the smallest for a five-hour market in some time.

Students' Vacation To Last Till Monday

SILVERTON, Nov. 29. - Silverton schools will enjoy a vacation from Wednesday night until Monday merning. There will be no sessions Friday. Many of the teachers plan to spend Thanksgiving at their homes or out of town with friends.
