

Willamette Aggregation Favored to Upset Whitman Today

BEARCAT TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE

Coach Keene Drills Machine On Defense Formations In Last Workout

Twenty-four confident Bearcats, all in good physical condition, were to assemble at Walla Walla this morning for the big Thanksgiving day battle against the Whitman football machine this afternoon. The Willamette aggregation, headed by Coach Roy S. Keene, left Salem last night for the game.

A short workout was staged yesterday afternoon on Swetland field before the team boarded the train for the Missionary stronghold. In the last drill, Coach Keene stressed kickoff formations and retouched the defense prepared to halt the speedy Whitman ball packers.

Both backfields possess speed. The game today is expected to be one of the most sensational of the season with both backfields possessing plenty of speed. The Bearcats will attempt to shake Johnny Orave, speedy back, loose for long gains while the Missionaries are pinning their hopes on "Hot" Gibson, whose sensational returns of punts this year has stamped him one of the most dangerous backs in the conference.

Comparative scores give the Bearcats an edge in the pre-game dope, but Whitman in the past has offered the strongest opposition of the season to the Willamette aggregation. Coach Keene last night was hoping for clear skies without the disadvantage of snow, which resulted in a 7 to 0 Whitman victory two years ago.

Four of the Willamette gridriders will be playing their final game in Bearcat uniforms today. The team will mark the last competition for Kaiser, Gribble, Clark and Haley.

The team members making the Walla Walla trip include Balcovic, Brandon, Clark, Connors, Frantz, Grannis, Gribble, Hoyt, Kalsler, McAdams, McKerrow, Mills, Newkirk, Olson, Orave, Pettys, Rhysa, Stone, Tweed, B. Williams, G. Williams, Weisser, Vagt, Versteeg and Haley.

FOOTBALL TEAM IS FETED BY LEGION

MONMOUTH, Nov. 29.—An event of interest Monday night was a dinner given by the American Legion post of Monmouth, and the auxiliary, complimenting the Oregon Normal school's football squad. Thirty-five boys and two coaches, Larry Wolfe and Al Cox were present, and men of the faculty.

Dr. L. E. Forbes, post commander welcomed the group. Brief talks were made by Al Cox, and by Gustafson, Edwards and Johnson, team members. Dean Walker of Independence, president of the Oregon State Hop Growers' association, and member of the state legislative assembly from Polk county, gave the principal address.

Larry Wolfe announced that the team members have voted Orville Johnson the honor of selection as utility man of the team for 1933.

Y Hoop League Schedule to be Set Up Friday

Representatives of the City Y league will gather Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. for the meeting originally scheduled Tuesday and later postponed so that definite schedules might be worked out. Friday's meeting will determine whether play starts December 5 or a week later, Dwight Adams, physical director at the Y, said last night.

Kay Mills first team, Pade's, Parker's, Don Hendrie's and probably the Willamette university freshmen will compose the A league while included in the membership of the B league are West Adams, Paper Converting company, Fay's Takit, teachers, Kay Mills second team and Floyd Goodie's. Delay in the meeting leaves the leagues still open for membership, Adams said.

"Gene" Eberhardt Manages DeNeffes

Rangy, curly-mopped "Gene" Eberhardt, familiar to Salem basketball fans for his performance with three Eugene teams, high school, university and most recently with DeNeff's town team, was in Salem yesterday in the capacity of manager for DeNeff's scheduling games with Salem quintets. Tentatively on the slate for play in Eugene next week are both Pade's and Parker's.

NEVADA RETAINS MITCHELL

RENO, Nev., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Clifford "Brick" Mitchell has signed a contract to coach the Nevada football team for another season, the university's coach committee announced today. It will be Mitchell's third year as Wolfpack mentor.

Lon Stiner Hopes to Wreck Nebraska Speed Machine in Oregon State Grid Windup

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 29. (AP)—Nebraska's Cornhuskers tonight prepared to pit their speed against the weight of the husky Beavers of Oregon State, coached by Lon Stiner, a Cornhusker from the old powerhouse days, in tomorrow's intercollegiate football game here at 2 p. m. A crowd of 26,000 was expected with favorable weather.

Stiner was elated by the prospect of near-summer temperature not unlike that prevailing on the Pacific slope.

Stiner was a tackle on the Cornhusker team which beat Notre Dame 17 to 0 in the last game between the two schools.

He captained the scarlet warriors in 1926. Tonight his chief hope was to shatter a three year Cornhusker period of keeping their slate clear of defeats on the home field.

The Cornhuskers, boasting 16 seniors but the lightest team in modern Nebraska football history, lost their last home game Thanksgiving day in 1930 to Kansas State.

land, and Dr. and Mrs. R. K. St. Pierre and small daughter, Madeleine of Anacortes, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson will be hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Stiner and son, Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson and son, Albert, all of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Baker and Miss Barbara Whipple will spend the holiday in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Beaver and Mrs. Mary Beaver will spend Thursday at the E. W. Shelton home in Dallas.

Civic Club Drama Is Well Attended; Tidy Sum is Netted

MOLALLA, Nov. 29.—Approximately 427 was cleared by the Molalla Civic club Friday night at the benefit play "Who's Guilty?" presented at the high school auditorium. Taking part in it were Florence Kirkwood, Jack Gregory, Audrey Henriksen, Chester Granquist, Ben Lindland and Howard Slyter. Al Ralston was director.

Among out-of-Molalla people who contributed specialty numbers were Valda Davis of Silverton, the Four Norsemen vocal quartet, also from Silverton, Ben Chingreen from Colton and Joseph Satrik from Needy. The high school orchestra played the overture and the high school harmonica band and girls trio entertained.

Honoring them, a 1 p. m. luncheon attended by more than 50 friends was given at the home of the bride's parents Sunday.

Eastern Star Plans Invitational Dance

MOLALLA, Nov. 29.—An invitational dance will be given December 7 at the Odd Fellows' hall by the Social club of the Molalla Eastern Star. In charge of refreshments will be Mrs. George Gregory and Frances Vick and of the invitations, Helen Worth. Ethel Shaver, Florence Kirkwood, Dorothy Dei Ridings, Audrey Henriksen and Theo Heiple.

OLD GUARD RALLIES TO YALE STANDARD

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 29. (AP)—The rally of the old guard to the standards of a floundering Yale football team gained today as Tad Jones, former coach, back at the field again to aid in the practice, was joined by Johnny Wilbur, last year's captain.

It was the second consecutive day that Tad led his busy coal yards to work with this Yale eleven, already defeated by Harvard, in the hopes that it may turn the tables on the undefeated united Princeton team Saturday in the bowl.

Once again the practice was devoted almost entirely to the attack. The only defensive work was against running back the kickoff, this, apparently, with Fergy

Seal Sale at Molalla In Charge Mrs. Moore

MOLALLA, Nov. 29.—Mrs. William Moore will have charge of the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals in Molalla this year. She is now preparing her allotment for distribution.

Marjorie Davis, who has been critically sick in an Oregon City hospital following an appendicitis operation, is reported to be improving, although she will not be able to have company for some time.

Locke's 90-yard run back for a Harvard touchdown still in mind. The day marked, also, a return of several cripples to the squad. Captain Bob Lassiter was back in uniform, though he did only light work. Earl Nikkel worked out with the second team, and Walter Kimball, lightweight end, who has been out nearly all season, returned.

Webfeet Rated as Underdogs In Annual St. Mary's Battle On San Francisco Grid Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29. (AP)—With the most powerful and polished team of many years and a tie for the Pacific coast conference title already written into the records, Oregon's Webfeet will line up against St. Mary's here tomorrow with high hopes of defeating the Gaels for the first time since this gridiron rivalry was established in 1929.

On the short end of 2 to 1 betting odds but cheerfully accepting the role of "underdogs," the Oregon team will place its full strength on the field against a St. Mary's eleven that aside from being the heaviest squad in the west, appears to have found it self in the closing weeks of the season. Odds making St. Mary's such an overwhelming favorite are considered false by Coach Ed Madigan of the Gaels who declared the game rightfully should be rated an "even up" affair. For psychological purposes, Coach Phyllis Callison is satisfied with the pre-game predictions.

The northerners will be called upon to bump into the biggest and most powerful line ever put together at St. Mary's. The forward wall averages better than 200 pounds to the man. The Gael fullbacks, George Wilson, of all-coast fame, and Al Nickellini, are the chief threats behind the huge line.

The "Governors' trophy," perpetual trophy donated by the governors of Oregon and California, will be awarded to the winner. The starting time is 1:30 p. m.

PARRISH WINS LESLIE BATTLE

Junior High School Football Series Winds up With 26 to 0 Tangle

Parrish junior high school gridriders, working as well as many high school teams, overwhelmed Leslie for the second time this season in a 26 to 0 romp at Sweetland field yesterday. The Parrish aggregation captured a 39 to 12 victory over Leslie Armistice day.

There was little room for speculation as to the winner after the first two plays in the opening quarter yesterday. Parrish kicked off and on the first play, Leslie fumbled. Parrish recovering on the Leslie 23 yard line. In their first offensive move, Takayama started wide around left end and lobbed a short lateral to Hoffert who raced the remaining distance for the opening score. The conversion was good.

After the second kickoff, Leslie was held for downs and forced to punt. The kick was blocked by several of the Parrish linemen who recovered on the Leslie 14 yard line. Parrish was held for downs, after being set back by a five yard penalty and Leslie took the ball on the nine yard line.

Hoffert Runs 85 Yards to Second Score. After one play, Chapman, Leslie quarterback, chose to kick out of danger. The boot sailed to the Leslie 35 yard line where Hoffert gathered it in, stepped to the sidelines and raced the 35 yards for the second Parrish score. The attempt to convert by running the ball, failed.

The other two touchdowns came later in the game with the Parrish backs using reverses, double reverses and spinners to keep the ball deep in the Leslie territory most of the game.

Hoffert was the main cog in the winners' attack while Wilson was the Leslie mainstay.

TIGERS DRILL FOR ELI GAME SATURDAY

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 29. (AP)—Coach Fritz Crisler continued to emphasize fundamentals as he sent his Tiger grid squad through another long drill here today in preparation for its climax game with Yale at New Haven Saturday.

A 45-minute dummy scrimmage completed the session.

Tad Wieman and Earl Martineau drilled the varsity linemen in blocking, sending two men against one in the defensive in hard contact work. It was an hour before the Princeton coaches were satisfied with the results, and later the whole squad put in a session at the tackling dummy.

Crisler meanwhile worked with the backs and centers in an effort to improve the pass defense and offense, with Len Kaufman, Gary Le Van, Ippy Ruion-Miller, and Katz Kadlic doing the tossing. Later they were changed to the defense to familiarize them with the Yale pass formations as demonstrated by the omelette backfield.

Another hour was well spent in developing the Princeton kicking.

In the dummy scrimmage against the scrubs, the varsity ran through its repertory of plays against the Yale defensive formations.

Tobin Picked To Spark N.D. In Army Mix

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 29. (AP)—Digging deep in his frayed bag for some scheme to beat the Army, Coach Hank Anderson today came up with John "Red" Tobin and decided to make him a fullback for the last stand against the untamed West Point mule of football. Tobin, a senior right halfback, had demonstrated flashes of brilliance during his service on the Notre Dame varsity, and Coach Anderson has a hunch that he might turn the trick like "Bucky" O'Connor did for the Ramblers against Southern California three years ago.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 29. (AP)—Holding their final full practice before the Notre Dame game at the Yankee stadium on Saturday, the Army football squad drilled today on the offense. Lieutenant Gar Davidson worked the first team in a dummy scrimmage against the green jerseyed "B" squad while his assistants were pitting the reserves against another scrub eleven.

A good hard scrimmage was in order for the substitute eleven primarily to determine whether Whitley Grove or Dick Legg would be the substitute for Henry Sebastian. Grove has completely recovered from his injury, but seems unable to regain his position from Legg, who played nearly three periods against the Navy.

TRADITIONAL GAMES ARE ON TAP TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. (AP)—There will be second helpings of tradition for all concerned, around the nation's football table tomorrow, but little nourishment on a Thanksgiving day menu for those who demand championship garnishes on their old-fashioned rivalry.

The big feast of the week, for those on the year's gridiron dais, is reserved for Saturday when the Army-Notre Dame and Yale-Princeton barbeques will share interest with climax courses served up in the south and southwest. Involved are the country's only remaining major unbeaten and untied teams Army, Princeton and Yale.

Although none of the day's participants will be chasing the Rose Bowl rainbow, tomorrow's activity will be marked by the renewal of some of football's most hothearted rivalries, such as the 40-year-old Pennsylvania-Cornell duel, as well as the inauguration of a new intercollegiate pairing, Nebraska and Oregon State, and at least one sector of decisive championship conflict.

Accompanied by their superintendent, Mr. Dry, and four teachers, the children ranged from lower to higher grades and from the high school. Their program numbers included rhythm band selections, dramatization, reading from ballads, tap dance, boys' chorus and orchestra.

Entertainment For Normal Pupils is By Blind Students

MONMOUTH, Nov. 29.—Under auspices of the "out-of-state" group of students at Oregon Normal school, 20 children from the state blind school were guests of the school Monday morning, and presented an entertaining program at the normal auditorium at assembly period; and at the training school for children there.

Accompanied by their superintendent, Mr. Dry, and four teachers, the children ranged from lower to higher grades and from the high school. Their program numbers included rhythm band selections, dramatization, reading from ballads, tap dance, boys' chorus and orchestra.

Attendance Labors For Sunday School Bringing Results

DALLAS, Nov. 29.—The Bible school attendance campaign at the Christian church is keeping the attendance well above the 200 mark. Several classes have been able to reach the goal set for the class which is an attendance double the same period of time last year. The campaign will continue through December.

"God's Return to You" will be the sermon to which K. E. Burke, pastor, will discuss Sunday morning, and "Will a Man Rob God?" is the evening subject.

Can Schmeling Come Back?

By BURNLEY

HOW WILL THE BAER KAYO AFFECT SCHMELING IN HIS PROSPECTIVE COMEBACK?

WHEN Joe Jacobs came back from Germany a few weeks ago, he announced that Max Schmeling was due to return to ring warfare next January. The former heavyweight champion watched the Carnera-Paulino fight from a ring-side chair, and according to Jacobs, "Moxie" was positive that he could have knocked out both the giant Italian and the ancient Basque.

Schmeling was so unimpressed with Carnera's showing, says Joe, that he immediately began to lay plans for his attempted comeback. Herr Schmeling is scheduled to arrive in this country shortly after the first of the year, and will box a suitable opponent in New York or Chicago sometime in January. If victorious in the tune-up battle, the Berlin Bomber expects to battle his former conqueror, Max Baer, in a return bout to be held in California next February.

Jacobs seems to be confident that Schmeling will be able to reverse the issue in his second battle with Baer.

"Schmeling was badly out of condition for the last fight with Baer," argues at that, he was licking the Californian until the finish. Schmeling couldn't lift his arms after the first six rounds and he would have fallen from exhaustion, even if Baer hadn't hit him."

And Jacobs prophesies that the Teuton will be in condition for the return battle.

However, it will be interesting to see just what effect the Baer kayo will have upon Schmeling in his forthcoming bouts. If you remember, not so long ago Jack Sharkey tried a comeback after being belted out by Carnera, with disastrous results. The kayo at the hands of the giant Venetian seemed to have taken all the starch out of the Boston Gob, and he was licked by both Levinsky and Loughran.

Particularly noticeable was the servitude that Sharkey's chin was much weaker after the Carnera knockout. He was knocked down by Levinsky and even the light tapping Loughran sent him to his knees.
