

HOLIDAY OBSERVED IN TYPICAL WAYS

Football, Dinners, Church Services are General Thanksgiving Day

(By the Associated Press)
Football, religious services and home firesides shared interest of the nation's millions in observance of a Thanksgiving day marked by pleasant weather from coast to coast.

With President Roosevelt setting the example by devoting himself to his family at the "Little White House" near Warm Springs, Ga., many families centered activity about the traditional turkey dinner table.

The nation's officials who remained at Washington observed the day quietly, some attending church services and others remaining with their families.

Several hundred thousand football fans took advantage of the holiday to cheer their favorites at games between old rivals.

In many cities special church services were held.

Americans abroad did not forget the day. In London, Berlin, Copenhagen, Paris and other European cities the American colonies held dinners and diplomatic representatives of President Roosevelt read his Thanksgiving proclamation.

New York and San Francisco reported temperatures considerably above normal for the date.

Trying to the feeling of the thousands who recently have been taken from unemployment relief rolls and given work on civil works projects, 400 persons paraded at Hutchinson, Kans., in praise of the recovery program.

Wheat farmers of the midwest took advantage of the day to celebrate the arrival of the first government checks issued them for curtailing their production for next year.

VIOLENCE NOTED IN TAXI MEN' STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30. (AP)—Despite police vigilance violence today marked the strike—or lock-out—of union taxicab drivers as the owners manned all possible cabs to meet demands of the Pennsylvania-Cornell football game through.

A motorcycle policeman riding as an escort with the driver of one taxi, was taken to a hospital with a possible skull fracture after 11 men stoned the vehicle, shattering every window. One man was arrested.

There was a heavy police cordon around the University of Pennsylvania's stadium, yet one taxi driver was beaten with a brick from the crowd.

The victim, William Hoskins, told police three men attacked him near the stadium. Three suspects were arrested.

Police broke into a house to make one arrest after a cab carrying two theatrical stars, driver and guard was stoned as it was driven toward the stadium.

Large numbers of police guarded buses of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company which controls the two large cab services in the city.

The union drivers charge they have been locked out by the P.R.T. because they insist on wearing union buttons; the company asserts the men went on strike because it refused to accede to their demands, including permission to wear the badges and increased pay.

ALLEGED KILLER IS NEAR DEATH, BELIEF

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (AP)—Dr. Alice L. Wynekoop looked up from her Bible in the county jail today and told her jailors she would not live to go on trial for murdering her daughter-in-law, Rheta.

Frail, worn out by hours of police questioning, her hands shaking as they turned the pages of the Bible, Dr. Alice announced she had diagnosed her own case, and was convinced that her death was not far off.

The 62-year-old woman doctor admitted that death might be "long and tedious," but she declared her health never would permit her trial. She indicated that death would not be unwelcome.

"All the medical men in the world can't help me," she told Dr. Francis W. McNamara, jail physician. "My case—I have diagnosed it. I don't need other medical aid."

Dr. McNamara said the woman's condition was about the same as for several days. The only change was an increase in her pulse to the unusually fast rate of 115. She is suffering from hardening of the arteries.

How They Advertise in Japan

Here is the way enterprising industrialists advertise their wares in the Island Empire. The hat merchants of Osaka, the Pittsburgh of Japan, desired to inform the public concerning the latest styles in headgear. So they dressed up some Frankenstein-like dummies and posted them on the lawn of a public park in the heart of the city. Specially made oversized headpieces were fashioned for each of the debonair grotesqueries.—Central Press Photo.

PRESIDENT ENJOYS TURKEY DAY FEAST

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 30. (AP)—It was family day at the "Little White House" today as President Roosevelt observed Thanksgiving in dinners at the cottage and tonight with the children of the Warm Springs foundation.

Mrs. Roosevelt arrived in time for the noon dinner in the cottage with the president and intimate members of the White House staff.

Mr. Roosevelt put presidential cares completely aside for the day and was on hand early for his annual get-together tonight with folks of the foundation who gathered about the dinner table in Georgia Hall.

In the bright sunshine, the president drove down to the pool for a swim during the morning, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt.

The holiday brought a huge crowd of tourists from this area. Cars rolled over the roads throughout the day and the trail led up the winding lane on Pine mountain to the gate before the little White House.

National guardsmen aided the secret service men in directing the traffic at the entrance to the cottage. No one was allowed to go beyond the gate.

A 35 pound turkey sent to the president by 96-year-old Mrs. Eliza Many of Goggin, Georgia, was the bird carved tonight by the president at the dinner with the foundation folks.

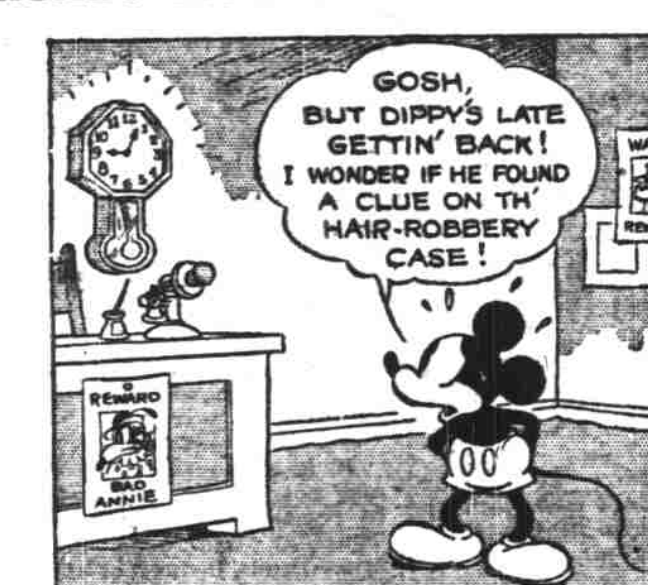

There were every manner of contributions to the feast by the people hereabout.
