

OREGON PAINTINGS ON DISPLAY AT Y.

Rhoda Hussey's Picture of Historic Log Cabin of Special Interest

An exhibit hung yesterday in the west lobby of the city Y. M. C. A. featuring oil paintings by two women artists of Oregon will be of special interest to two groups of Salem residents: old timers here and those who follow the work of that school of western painters whose dramatic nature studies are receiving growing recognition.

A historic log cabin, built by Richard Covington, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in 1842, originally located at Orchard, Washington, and later moved to its present site on the highway near Vancouver is the theme for an interestingly blue-shaded snow scene by Rhoda Hussey, secretary of the Oregon Society of Artists. Two still-life paintings of chrysanthemums and anemons by Mrs. Hussey are also displayed.

Anna Anderson, former Salem resident, has caught the atmosphere of spring as well as of the ocean, sky and water in "Hoover Swimming Pool" which many persons will recognize who have seen the original near Newberg. Mrs. Anderson, who has taken a number of ocean voyages, completed her picture of the sea, sky and water in "Lone Eagle" which she entitled it "Lone Eagle."

"Mt. Hood from Rhododendron" is a view of the mountain not familiar to many. "Washington Narrows near Bremerton," "Sand Dunes of Newport," "Crater Lake," "Deep Bay" and "Olympics from Seabeck" will appeal to Salem folk as true and lovely reproductions of familiar scenes.

Development of Valley Impends, Stidd Forecasts

Chas. L. Stidd, president of the Portland Ad club, spoke before the Salem organization Friday. He pointed out that the valley is on the eve of great development with the construction of the Bonneville dam and the government fostering of the flax-linen industry here. Advertising, he said, was a necessary part of modern distribution and would be needed in developing markets for production here.

Lee Players to Repeat Program

The Jason Lee Players will present "The Bishop's Candlesticks" for a second time at the evening church services December 24. The one-act play is taken from "Les Miserables" and is directed by Miss Beulah Graham. The cast includes Howard Cross, Roy Cole, Elverta Minton, Clara Burnside and Alvin Garner.

E. Smith, John F. Fritts, John F. McCoy; and for the eighth grade: Eloise Ferguson, Margaret Shipier and Elsie Jensen.

Legionnaires going from the Kingwood Post to the Polk county council meeting, held in Independence Wednesday, were: Elmer D. Cook, also vice-president of the council, H. W. Atkinson, Bob White and Col. Charles A. Robertson, who gave an address.

J. E. Douglas, who some time ago submitted to a foot amputation in a medical hospital in Portland, returned home about a fortnight ago and has gone back to work again. He is employed at the Tank and Furnace company.

Ernie Friesen and J. J. Funk featured in a thrilling experience at Toledo yesterday where they had gone with a heavy truck for a load of lumber. They were loading on a high dry dock about 10 feet high which gave way under the excess weight, causing the truck to be loaded truck to the ground below. Both men jumped to safety and were unhurt but the truck was very much wrecked.

John Friesen left Thursday afternoon for the scene of the trouble. The children of the public schools are preparing for Christmas in almost every room. The first and second grade rooms will have trees and a program in their own rooms; the third and fourth grades will present an operetta, "Santa in Storyland," with the two grades having a joint entertainment and tree in the new building; a fifth grade entertainment is being planned that the pupils may present in other rooms and the seventh graders will stage a Christmas party with Jack Gosser and Bill McClintock on the tree committee, John Combs and Evelyn Boatright on the program committee and January.

CRESCENDO CLUB'S PROGRAM OFFERED

A decidedly musical meeting was that held yesterday by the Crescendo club, organization of Salem high school musicians, when members of the society presented the following program of vocal and instrumental numbers: Prelude..... Heller Robert de Pres, piano

Largo..... Handel Georgia Harrington, violin Doris Barnett, accompanist Kashmiri Song..... Kashtmiri Woodforde-Finden Ruth Maers, vocal

Not only do these high school music students present full programs during the winter months from their membership but they also arrange their concerts with an eye to proper order and balance. Just at present they are preparing for a public appearance in January for the benefit of the grand opera and the equipment in the high school auditorium. Lena Belle Tartar is advisor to the group.

REAL PROPERTY ON MOVE AT SILVERTON

SILVERTON, Dec. 8.—A deal has been completed through the Homeowners' Agency in which Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kelly became the owners of the home on West Main street, formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hande. Two weeks before that a three-cornered deal was made through the agency, by which Hande transferred this home to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bartruff of Salem. Mr. Kelly and his partner, C. M. Flint, have just bought the Club Pool hall from John Ridd. Flint and Kelly came to Silvertown from Corvallis. Another sale was completed this week through the agency in which Jaye Bleakney, as administrator for the Josephine Bleakney estate, sold 80 acres of land in the Silver Creek Falls country to Mrs. Kittie Voiz. Mrs. Voiz owns several tracts in the vicinity of the Silver Creek park.

Mill to Operate Is Notification From Silvertown

SILVERTON, Dec. 8.—M. C. Woodard, manager of the Silver Falls Timber company at Silvertown, has notified the West Coast Lumberman's association, in response to an inquiry, that he intends to operate during the first three months of 1934.

Under the control of production regulations of the lumber code, production quotas will be allotted on December 20, for the first quarter of 1934. Each manufacturer who desires a quota for the period must be registered and the registration must be filed with the association on or before December 10.

Monmouth Given 4000 Hours Work

MONMOUTH, Dec. 8.—The city of Monmouth has been allotted 4000 hours under the civic works act. The use of this, as planned to date, will be for street drainage and sidewalk improvements; resurfacing, painting and lawn improvement for the high school. The Oregon Normal school has applied for work on a sidewalk length, relaying of bricks, and painting of two frame buildings.

Mickey Mouse NOTES

Let me be the first to wish you all a Merry Christmas—and to you, "Boots"—a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and have a good time on Valentine's day also.

Last Saturday a little girl's name was announced to do a number and that she was a pupil of Barbara Barnes' school of dancing. This little girl, a stranger to us at first, danced her way into the hearts of every one in that audience. This young miss was Lucille Shannon, a stranger in Salem, but not to us any more.

The Christmas party is all set and besides a special stage show for that day—we will also have free cake and ice cream for every Mickey Mouse member present. The date is December 23.
