Credit Men Will Choose Officers At Annual Dinner

The Salem Retail Credit association will hold a dinner meeting tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Masonic temple banquet hall, with annual election of officers to be one of the features. The meeting also marks the close of the attendance and membership campaign between the Lions and Lion Tamers.

The program will include brief talks on the last legislative session by Mrs. Hannah Martin, speaking on the sales tax, and Otto K. Pallas, who will discuss other phases of the unions' work. The entertainment features will be provided by the members of the local Credit Women's Breakfast club, of which Mrs. Carolyn Jensen is president.

The credit meeting which ordinarily falls on Friday is being held tonight because the banquet room was not available Friday night.

CAN'T WRITE FOR MONEY

EUGENE, Dec. 13. (P) — University of Oregon students bent on patronizing the Campus Coop store, had plenty to write home about today but nothing to write it with. A prospector who broke into the store last night stole 200 fountain pens valued at $1270. Nothing else was taken.

bank. Thomas Hewes, assistant secretary, resigned yesterday because of friction between himself and Morgenthau resulting from orders by the latter virtually stripping him of his responsibilities.

Earlier Morgenthau had announced a continuation for the day of the domestic newly mined gold price that has prevailed since December 1, $34.01. The treasury's bookkeepers wrote off additional sums from the scheduled receipts of December 15, with word that Belgium and Estonia had decided to default on war debt installments totaling $3,294,860.

The estimate of emergency expenditures, involving 15 billion, when present funds will be exhausted, included $350,000,000 which Mr. Roosevelt said today would be asked for the civil works administration, $250,000,000 Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator estimates as the minimum needs of the emergency relief corporation, including the federal surplus corporation, and that figure most generally mentioned for the public works administration, $1,875,000,000.

bridge over Pudding river on the Hillsboro-Woodburn section of a dary highway near Woodburn.

Regrading and resurfacing of the important Brunk's Corner—West Salem section of the Salem-Dallas road will probably be let to contract. This stretch is 5.36 miles in length.

The commission will also entertain bids for grading .86 of a mile of grading and resurfacing on the Brunk's Corner-Oak point stretch of road leading to Independence.

Bridges over Rickreall creek and Oak Point creek on the Independence road, a secondary highway, will be received.

The total cost of projects which will probably be awarded is set at $750,000. The commission will meet for two full days.

LUMBER CONTROL MAY REVISE CODE

National Committee Studies Problems in 10-Day Session at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13. (P) — A revision of the national lumber code to widen the scope of its authority over the industry by including wholesalers and commission men was discussed by the national control committee of the lumber code authority here today in an open business meeting.

The committee, which began its hearings yesterday, is expected to be in session for about ten days.

At the conclusion of the open meeting, the committee held a closed conference tonight on the suggested revision, and planned to be ready to announce a decision tomorrow. The committee members indicated this would continue to be the procedure; that is, a public hearing will be held, the committee will later meet privately to study the proposals made, and the decision will be announced the next day.

Today the committee announced that the request of the California Redwood association for an additional allotment of 12,000,000 feet for the last quarter of this year has been granted and the request of the Pacific Northwest Loggers' association for jurisdiction over the log production in the Pacific northwest has been ordered referred to the boards of the two agencies involved—the Loggers association and the West Coast Lumbermen's association, administrative agency for the lumber code in this region.

Representatives of the California Redwood association explained that the additional allocation was needed to meet demands for "tank" stock for the construction of wine vats.

The loggers' association request was referred to the two boards with instructions to "compose their differences on this subject and report back to the committee with recommendations."

Representatives of the loggers' association had set forth that present allocations work to the advantage of large mill owners who do their own logging and to the disadvantage of independent loggers who sell to independent mills.

RATING IS HIGH FOR RESERVE UNIT

Visiting officers of the regular army and the officers' reserve in uniform praised the Marion-Polk county chapter of the Reserve Officers' association on its record of having increased its membership 150 per cent during the past year, at a meeting held at Cole's cafe last night. The local chapter is highest on the Pacific coast in respect to membership activities, it was pointed out.

The five high officers present as host guests were: Colonel O. W. Bell, Portland, chief of staff, 96th division regular army, commandant of second reserve area; Colonel W. H. Munroe, Portland, unit instructor of 529th and 429th regiments regular army, executive of department of Oregon reserves; Captain J. J. W. James, Portland, adjutant of second reserve area; Captain L. D. Farnsworth, Portland, instructor for 249th coast artillery.

Plans for national defense week to be held starting February 12, 1934, were discussed by Colonels Bell and Steinhauser. The reserves state convention, it was announced, will be held at Bend at some date next May.

Colonel Carl Abrams served as toastmaster and Lieutenant Kenneth Dalton, chapter president, presided over the business session. Music for the banquet was provided by a quartet consisting of Maynard McKinley, Carl Mason, Wesley Ritchie and William Bush, voice students of Marjorie M. Ratcliffe. Accompaniment was played by Donald Allison.

The last chapter meeting of the year will be on week ahead of schedule, or December 20, Dalton announced.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES FOR JAFFEE TO BE THE WORLD'S CHAMPION SKATER

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

You've often seen his name and picture in the papers—Jaffee, the city-bred boy from the U.S.A. who beat the best that Europe had to offer, and became the skating champion of the world! Speaking of speed skating and cigarettes, Jaffee says: "It takes healthy nerves and plenty of wind to be an Olympic skating champion. I find that Camels, because of their costlier tobaccos, are mild and likable in taste. And, what is even more important to a champion athlete, they never upset the nerves."

Change to Camels and note the difference in your nerves... in the pleasure you get from smoking! Camels are milder... have a better taste. They never upset your nerves. Begin today!
