City-Y Basketball Program Starts Tonight at Parrish Gym

Basketball League to Follow Plan of Summer Kitball Play

Salem's first civic basketball program on a comprehensive scale will open tonight and it will open with a bang, the first night's program in the Parrish gymnasium including a clash between the two favorites in the "Major" league, teams which would look good in collegiate company. They are Parker's and Pade's, sponsored by the same firms which backed the leading kitball teams last summer, and they are expected to draw equal followings.

The City-Y basketball league is, in fact, a companion movement to the kithall league which proved so popular last summer, organized for the same purpose, a civic entertainment for everybody at nominal cost and a means for organized competition among Salem's many basketeers who are no longer engaged in scholastic

Lee Schoettler Has Broken Leg

Lee Schoettler, district manager of the Oregon lumber promotion association, sustained a broken right leg when he slipped into a deep ditch on a road near Dallas late Tuesday. He was in the Deaconess hospital here yeaterday, his leg had been set and he was reported to be resting comfortably.

The accident occurred after Schoettler had gone to a farm house to use the telephone to call for help in getting his car out of the ditch. In coming back to the machine he mistook the ditch for pavement, slipped on the bank and fell into the ditch which was about six feet deep. His cries for help brought assistance, a Dallas physician was called and Schoettler was brought to Salem. His wife and family live here. The office of the lumber promotion effice is in the Mason-banket is the highest of football laurels.

Asked by President John Heydler for their opinion, the National league managers voted unanimously for a livelier sphere. Only Bill Terry, manager of the world's championship New York Giants, cast a vote against it. Terry's pitchers rose to new hurling heights with the recognized National league ball and "dead" no one blamed him for fighting against a change.

The American league club owners did nothing about the ball, adopting a "watchful waiting" policy. They were convinced a uniform ball would be adopted and it would be the American league ball, a livelier sphere with a cover .005 of an inch thinner and one stitch less. It also was agreed by the man-

Rumors of more deals fairly flew about the hotel lobby as the club owners, spurred on by Connie Mack's deals and the surprising Red Sox, went into countless huddles. The White Sox admitted they were ready to part with their prize shortstop, Luke Appling, but wanted plenty from the New York Yankees. One report was that Appling would go to Yankees for Pitcher Charlie Ruff- lin. ing, Infielder Lynn Lary and Outfielder Sam Byrd.

The New York Yankees announced the purchase of Harry ruary 20. Smythe, star left handed pitcher, from the Baltimore Orioles. Smythe won 21 games for Baltimore last season.
