HOPES TO INCREASE S. S. ATTENDANCE

Fred de Vries is sending this week outline suggestions to the nearly 100 Sunday school superintendents in Marion county by which method he thinks it will be possible to increase the Sunday school attendance in Marion county at least 25 per cent if every superintendent and teacher will adopt the suggested plan.

The plan is not entirely new, as a similar plan has been used by various denominations in other places with considerable success, he also encloses with the plan for increased attendance a financial statement covering 10 months of the county work, including the convention held in Salem last February and also the Sunday school booth at the state fair.

According to the financial statement $5.80 was spent for postage, $1.10 for programs, $10.50 for tracts, $36.50 for 2150 gospels and $2.95 miscellaneous, a total of $49.90. During the 10 months $51.75 was received.
