SMALL ATTENDANCE

Stayton Has Sixth Lowest School on Per Pupil Cost Basis, Report

STAYTON, Dec. 20. - While he attendance at the P. T. A. meeting Monday night was the smallest during the season, the program was one of the most outstanding. Mrs. H. Champ, president, presided. Prof. Tobie gave a brief talk on excerpts from the last state school register. He brought out that out of 275 high schools in the state, Stayton was among 18 to rank sixth with the lowest cost per pupil. This was below $70 and for the year 1932-33.

Mrs. Victor Phelps, chairman of the committee which is to present early next year a play for the benefit of the organization, annouced that instead of giving two short plays as had been formerly planned, the play casts voted to give one three - act play, combining the casts. "Listen to Leon" is its title, and parts will be assigned immediately. Mr. Phelps, principal of the grade school, spoke of the 4-H club work which is soon to be taken up here. Miss Doris Neireiter will take charge of the hand work and Mr. Phelps will ask for volunteers to take charge of the sewing in division 1 and 2. He stated that 136 boys signed up to take camp cookery, but so far no one has been named to conduct this department. Other program numbers included piano selections by Quintin Gehlen; readings by Mrs. W. D. Roberts; solo by Mrs. Gweneth Mielke, accompanied by Mrs. Victor Phelps; reading, Mrs. W. H. Lyman; talk on citizenship by Miss Helen Patton; visitation to grade school, gay with holiday

PORTLAND, Dec. 20. (AP) Demand for butter has increased so rapidly during the last few days that there is no longer any material surplus in fresh churning. Prices were practically staedy at the late slight improvement from the extreme low point.

The public was buying two ounds of butter now where it bought only one pound when prices were higher. This is a big influence in maintaining values. Disappointment in the trade regarding the unwillingness of the government to purchase on the open market, but on bids, was freely expressed by the trade.

Increasing trading volume was suggested in the local egg market with quality goods setting at prices established by the co-ops or within a cent of them. Much so-called extras were lower.

A thorough study on the flax industry as it has already been developed in Salem and the valley has been concluded here within the past few days by W. J. Hart, Washington, D. C., and he will shortly be en route east to tell his findings to the cooperative division of the farm credit administration in the national capital. Hart's survey, was in connection with the Lipman application for a $3,500,000 loan to develop the flax industry in the Willamette valley. The Lipman application has been approved by the president and is now before the board for final approval or rejection, so the outcome may hinge entirely upon what Hart reports upon his return. While here, Hart held conferences with L. C. McLeod, manager of the Salem Linen mills and with H. R. Crawford, president of the Miles Linen plant. Hart also inspected a flax mill at Vancouver. Wash., and conferred at length with flax experts at Oregon State
