Removal of Station Brings Drain Relief

SALEM HEIGHTS, Dec. 20.—The gas station owned by the Standard Oil company was dismantled and removed this week from in front of the Robinson Grocery store. This is a great relief to many of the residents of that section of the heights. It seems that this station was an obstacle to putting an adequate drainage ditch through by the county. Due to this, whenever a heavy rain occurred, basements were filled and the entire section under flood water. The county is now finishing putting a deep ditch through and the last heavy rains have been carried away satisfactorily.
