

West Conquers East 12-0 in Hard Fought Charity Game

NEBRASKA STAR IS OUTSTANDING

Sauer Dashes to 2 Scores; Mikulak and Cuppoletti Help Materially

KEZAR STADIUM, San Francisco, Jan. 1 (AP)—Led by a slashing, crashing, backfield star, George Sauer of the University of Nebraska, West conquered East 12-0 today in the great football classic played here annually for charity.

Thirty thousand fans, who braved intermittent rains to sit through a miserable afternoon, saw the blonde haired Sauer turn in as brilliant a performance as has ever been witnessed in the nine games that have been played to date.

From the time he crashed over for the two touchdowns in the opening quarter until he intercepted a pass in the closing minutes of play to check a final eastern bid, the Nebraskan demonstrated just why he was selected for all-American honors after the 1933 season.

The West snatched at a "break" to make its first score. The easterners were backed up on their own 4-yard line but in possession of the ball, Charley Soles of Colgate, quarterback, fumbled the ball and Mike Mikulak of Oregon, fullback, recovered it on the 16-yard line.

From there Sarboe, Washington State, quarterback ripped off four yards and then Sauer took up the burden. On his fourth run with the ball, the Nebraskan crashed over from the 3-yard line.

A short time later, the West put the ball into play on the East's 44-yard line. Sarboe picked up a yard and then passed to Fred Caninus, end, St. Mary's, for a 17-yard gain.

It put the oval on the East's 28 and on the next play, Sauer broke through right tackle and continued over the goal line.

Bill Smith, end, Washington, failed to convert the two tries for point. One of his place kick attempts was wide and the other was blocked.

Beginning with the second period, the eastern team opened an attack that had their western rivals on the defense most of the time until the end of the game.

Three times the East, coached by Andy Kerr of Colgate and Dick Hanley of Northwestern, put on spectacular drives only to lost out on scoring changes when close to the goal.

The eastern thrusts all took place in the second half. In the third period the visiting stars moved the ball down the field for 44 yards to reach the West's 7-yard line. The ball was lost on an intercepted pass. Cuppoletti, guard, Oregon, catching a toss by Lukats, fullback, Notre Dame, on the 12-yard line.

Shortly after, the West maneuvered into position to try a place kick, after having its punt partly blocked. Lukats had his hand on the ball but could not hang onto it and Fred Caninus, end, St. Mary's, recovered for the West on the East 31.

The westerners drove down to the 7-yard line, then lost two. From this point, Carl Jorgensen, tackle, St. Mary's, place kicked, but the ball was too far to the side.

The East retaliated with a 70-yard march, the longest of the game, losing the ball when Beattie Feathers, halfback, Tennessee, tossed a pass that fell incomplete over the goal.

Ed Danowski, fullback, of Fordham, who occupied a starring role for the East, engineered the final bid for his team. He tossed a pass to Winston Anderson, end, that gained 13 yards and put the ball on the 30-yard mark. On the next play, the Husky Fordham boy whipped a forward to Anderson who tossed a lateral to Feathers and the latter ran 56 yards before being downed on the West's 14-yard line by John Norby, halfback, Idaho.

The easterners reached the 5-yard line on two plunges by Danowski. Feathers then lost four yards and a pass by Joe Laws, halfback, Iowa, was intercepted by Sauer. The game ended shortly after.

The play of Danowski stood out among the eastern ball carriers while Chuck Barnard, center, of Michigan, won applause for his work on the line.

Sauer was the individual star of the field while his teammates, Norby and Cuppoletti, were defensive giants.

Statistically the East outplayed the boys coached by Orin Hollingbery of Washington State and Percy Lacey of Denver. The easterners made 16 first downs to 7 for their rivals. The East chalked up 157 yards from scrimmage and 143 yards from eight passes. The West had 140 yards from scrimmage and 30 from two passes.

It was the sixth time since the game was inaugurated in 1925 that a western team had triumphed, with the East winning the other three.

Tiny Thornhill didn't consider it necessary to offer an alibi so why should any of the "fifty million" who, it now appears, can be wrong. Granting at the outset that we as well as least 95 per cent of the sport fans of America guessed the Stanford-Colgate game wrong, we can still lift up our voice and declare that Stanford had the stronger team, the one that would win at least a majority of the games if they played a prolonged series. Unfortunately, in football, they play only once.

Columbia had the better team Monday because it fought harder; we have no doubt whatever that the Cardinals agreed with all their western backers and the majority of the eastern critics that it would be a push-over for them. So they just pushed instead of crashing. It has happened before, and now we have a top-notch example of the reason every football coach tries to scare his team about the enemy, especially a supposed-to-be weaker enemy. It's a game in which nothing can be taken for granted.

Those fans in this district who howled so loudly because Mr. Sauer of Nebraska was named on some All-American teams ahead of Mike Mikulak, may also by this time have realized that after all the middle westerner is a pretty good football player and that maybe the critics have some arguments on their side. Mikulak played good ball but Sauer, though playing out of position, got the top honors.

On the other hand Bree Cuppoletti, selected as "second choice" after Rosenberg of U. S. C. had turned down a Shrine game bid, was one of the main performers for the west at San Francisco, and that's something else for the wise ones to cogitate.

The golfing has been quite satisfactory the last couple of days, and there were quite a few on the Salem club course Sunday and Monday though some may have been kept away by the fear that the casual winter was too extensive. It has ebbed appreciably since the latter part of last week.

A crowd of 11,000 watched a high school football game between Port Arthur and Beaumont, Tex., the past season.

PERKINS COMES TO SALEM MAT

Clean-Wrestling Midwestern Star Meets Jackson; Sugai on Card

Art Perkins, recognized in the east and middle west as one of the outstanding middleweight wrestlers of the clever, clean-grappling type, will show his wares before a Salem crowd tonight at the army. He meets "Bulldog" Jackson, which is sufficient announcement to advise the fans that it will not be an exceptionally clean bout on both sides, but rather one in which they may early find reason to become partisans on the side of the visitor from Michigan.

Another stranger in Salem's midst tonight will be Stan Crowley of Boston, who will meet Klem Kusek, the rough Bohemian from Tacoma.

Don Sugai, back on the home mat after a week's absence, will take tonight will match his flying tackle against the tenacious long-geared grips of "Totem Pole" Anderson.

The Auburn football team claims the record of having scored against all opponents in 23 consecutive games.

BEARCATS TO PLAY OREGON AT EUGENE

Basketballers of Willamette university and University of Oregon will play their return game at Eugene tonight and according to an agreement entered into by the respective coaches, "Spec" Keene and Bill Reinhardt, some important variations in the rules will be tried out.

There will be no free throws after fouls are called, except in case the foul was committed while its victim was in the act of shooting and did not score a field goal, in which case he shall have two shots.

Four personal fouls will, as usual disqualify a player, and with the foul which spoiled a shot for the basket as above noted, there will be no other penalty for fouls, the theory being that free throws take up a lot of time and that normally, both teams will score about equally on free throws during a game.

Tonight's game will be the last for the Bearcats prior to their contest here Friday night with Olson's Terrible Swedes.

Razorbacks and Gentlemen Tied

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 1. (AP)—Approximately eight thousand persons saw the Centenary college Gentlemen of Shreveport and the University of Arkansas Razorbacks play a 7 to 7 tie today at the Fair Park stadium in the annual Dixie classic, proceeds of which went to the Shrine's crippled children's hospital fund.

HUNK ANDERSON TO COACH N. CAROLINA

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 1. (AP)—Heartly W. "Hunk" Anderson, the late Knute Rockne's right hand man at Notre Dame and who succeeded him there, today signed a three-year contract to coach football at North Carolina State college here.

Anderson, who has been job-hunting since he parted with Notre Dame shortly after the end of last season's football wars, came to terms with T. S. Johnson, acting chairman of State's athletic council in Washington today.

The announcement, made here tonight by Dr. R. R. Serrin, State's athletic director, merely said the contract was for three years. It did not go into details of the agreement or the question of assistant coaches.

He will succeed John P. "Clipper" Smith, also a Notre Dame product, whose contract was not renewed after State's disastrous season last year. The Wolfpack won only one game but played ties with Florida, Davidson and Wake Forest.

Kercheval Leads Northern Squad To 7 to 0 Victory

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 1. (AP)—Punting, passing and charging hard through a mighty opposing line, Ralph Kercheval, Kentucky's great halfback, led a group of northern teammates to a 7 to 0 victory over a southern galaxy of stars in a charity game today before 12,000 cheering fans.

The teams were composed of seniors and former gridiron luminaries from the 13 schools of the southeastern conference.

MILLER IS WINNER IN TITLE CONTEST

CINCINNATI, Jan. 1. (AP)—Freddy Miller, Cincinnati, recognized by the National Boxing association as featherweight champion, bludgeoned Jackie Sharkey, Minneapolis contender, into submission in a fifth successful defense of his title here today.

Meeting Sharkey at his own slugging game, Miller twice floored the scrappy northerner to win a decisive victory.

A right and then a left to the jaw sent Sharkey to the floor for a count of seven before the second round was half over, but the Cincinnati boxer overcame a knock-out and missed a chance for a knockout.

Then Miller's left cracked the challenger on the jaw in the tenth, sending the Minneapolis boy down for another count of seven. But Sharkey came back to hold on and survive a storm of jabs.

MORGENTHAU GETS CABINET POSITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1. (AP)—President Roosevelt today gave evidence of his satisfaction with the progress of the administration's financial and monetary programs under the direction of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., by giving his old friend and neighbor the title as well as the responsibilities of secretary of the treasury.

After more than a month as acting head of the department, Morgenthau was promoted to full membership in the cabinet following the resignation of Secretary Woodin, who went on leave of absence in mid-November to seek rest and recovery from a persistent throat infection.

Thus Morgenthau assumed the portfolio with his own policies and ideas already in operation. His only comment was that they would be continued unchanged. The development left his old post of undersecretary vacant, arousing speculation as to who would be appointed.

When Woodin left the treasury, Mr. Roosevelt announced that he had declined to accept the cabinet officer's resignation and hoped for his return after a few months.

Steno Gatto, Kansas City amateur boxing and baseball enthusiast, once set a record for reaching first base on a bunt in 3.5 seconds.
