

MAJOR FAVORS MANAGER PLAN

Ten Per Cent Expense Cut Below Budget Advised In Annual Message

$150,000 in outstanding warrants. The banks are cashing our salary warrants at face value but are refusing to accept the warrants issued for payment of materials.

Pointing out that 1933 taxes are 7 per cent unpaid (and no one knows yet as to just what the results will be on the 1933 taxes), Mayor McKay urged the aldermen to lay off their expenditures and also "to think twice before appropriating any money from the emergency fund."

Aggressive Program of Collection Urged

Forecasting a "day of reckoning" for the city's present practice of paying interest on Bancroft bonds out of its Bancroft sinking fund in which "instead of approximately $185,000... we have only $50,000," McKay advised that the way and means committee and the city treasurer "immediately devise a follow-up system on collections of assessments... (and) when collection is impossible, the case should be turned over to the city attorney for immediate foreclosure."

He asked the council to keep in mind that principal payments on $349,955.93 in Bancroft bonds now outstanding would begin falling due in 1937.

For economical administration of city affairs, which the mayor said "cannot be properly handled efficiently by any 15 men in Salem on a part time basis," he recommended that he be authorized to appoint a committee of aldermen to study the problem of drafting a charter amendment to be submitted at the May, 1934, election to create a managerial form of government. A good city manager responsible only to the council "and with authority to co-ordinate the various departments and supervise the other city machinery could save his salary many times over," McKay declared.

Urges Passage of Contamination Plan

Mayor McKay recommended that the council pass the ordinance instituting condemnation proceedings against the Oregon-Washington Water Service company's local properties. He said this recommendation was made because "during the past year we have endeavored in every way possible to arrive at some agreement with the water company whereby we could acquire the existing plant at a reasonable price but thus far have been unsuccessful."

Lack of a budget item this year for sewer maintenance "may prove embarrassing," the mayor asserted, adding that careful attention nevertheless will be required of the city engineer and council sewerage committee to the problem of drainage in the southeast and east sections of the city. The situation of flooding basements and streets in these sections every winter, he said, "should be corrected before next winter." He pointed out possibility of much of the remedial work being accomplished through the CWA program.

"I have enjoyed my associations with the city council, city officials and city employees immensely during the past year and appreciate deeply the splendid co-operation that I have received from all of you," Mayor McKay said in conclusion. "I feel sure that with the friendly co-operative spirit that exists in the council we can work harmoniously and enthusiastically for the benefit of the citizenry of Salem at large."

Old License Use Cause of Arrest

State police yesterday continued their drive against automobile owners who had not yet purchased license plates for 1934 with the result that 250 motorists were stopped in the city and given citations. If they obtain their licenses immediately and report back to state police at the city hall office, the citations will be cancelled.

will have to revert back, at most, to its old 3.2 beer ordinance. It likewise will lose the revenue from 14 per cent liquors if the high court holds home rule no longer effective. The question is whether or not under the Knox law a city can collect a license and tax in addition to the state's fees.

The liquor ordinance which the mayor's signature made law last night is along the lines of the old 3.2 beer ordinance but it licenses and taxes manufacture and sale of wine and beer up to 14 per cent alcoholic content, revises license fees and makes conditions of sale more strict. It is designed in the main for the Knox law.

The council quickly passed an ordinance introduced by Alderman Olson specifying that liquor revenues be set aside in a special fund for payment of bond and warrant interest and principal.

The license committee was given the power to grant licenses to applicants, who filed their requests last night, as soon as changes in the new ordinance are compiled with and bond approved.

Woman Mayor is Ousted by Ballot

I guess it's all right," she said. She could be immediately located tonight for comment on the outcome of the recall.

Her last-minute house to house canvass, however, had failed to offset the charges brought against her by her all-male council, that she had been "Madame Mussolini" firing the town marshal, slashing budgets and blocking the "inauguration" of a couple of elected officials.

She had foreseen her defeat. "Of course, they'll beat me," she said.

"Next time, though, I'll go out for a big job. One that pays some money—sheriff or something."

Bulldozer Sent To CWA Job at Horseshoe Lake

The county court yesterday arranged to send a bulldozer, large dirt moving road machine, to its CWA project at Horseshoe lake where 3000 yards of dirt are to be moved. The machine is to be in operation today and several additional men are to be put on the project. It was found that moving all the dirt by wheelbarrows was impracticable.

Rain is Blamed For Auto Crash

Rain obscuring vision was blamed for the collision at Commercial and State streets last night of automobiles driven by Martha M. Chase, 639 Center street, and Darrell Lash, New Salem hotel, according to reports to police, A. A. Greer, Lowell, Ore., stated blinding lights caused a collision between his car and one driven by G. W. DeJardin last night at High and Court streets. No one was injured in either mishap.

tion would not reduce the water bill the city incurs there. Replying to a letter from Manager J. T. Delaney stating that the fairground water rate was on a meter and not a hydrant unit basis, Alderman O. A. Olson produced 1932 bills from the company based on the number of hydrants in service there.

Other matters handled by the council included the following: Ways-means committee given petition of Howard Hulseay as industrial committee chairman of the chamber of commerce that the city pay $200 of the $1050 expended in preparing an entrance to the city from the North Santiam highway. Hulseay said business men had contributed the remaining $850.

Petition of Custer E. Ross for paving South W. Winter between Cross and Lefelle streets received.

From street repair fund, $2000 transferred to sewer upkeep fund since nothing was budgeted for the latter.

Payment approved of $6 for two fees unpaid since 1932 on city's filing for water rights on the North Fork of the Santiam river. Notice received that city required to pay $400 back cost of gauging flow of water at Marion lake, on which it has filed.

Change of route for State street busses referred to street committee.

plause for its beautiful rendition of "Dear Land of Home" by Jean Sibellus. Enunciation of the meaningful words, careful shading for expression and perfect blending of powerful voices made the number outstanding. The chorus should be congratulated for its fine voices, its excellent training and its sincere performance.

Two numbers from "Christmas Night" by Rimsky-Korsakoff, "Merry Yuletide" and "Russian Carol," combined the delicacy of the women's voices and the deep background of the men's in melodious selections appropriate to the season. In places, the humming accompaniment of the male chorus was so subdued, so perfectly timed, that it might have been a fine pipe organ or symphony.

Mrs. Kenneth Rich and Ruth Bedford were the accompanists. Proceeds from the performance went to the Marion County Tuberculosis association.

Rubber Check is Offered Council Clerk as Reward

A rubber check so that Alderman Watson Townsend "can stretch it at any time" is the city council's expression of gratitude for his services as reading clerk the past year.

Alderman F. K. Neudham, after commending Townsend for his extra work, moved for his re-election at the session last night and jestingly tacked the rubber check idea on the motion.

Townsend was delegated to the tedious task last year to speed up council sessions. The city recorder ordinarily serves in this capacity.

Seals to Have Promotion and Publicity Man

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2. (AP)—Appointment of Fred Farnor, former local newspaper sports writer, as publicity and promotion manager for the San Francisco Seals baseball club was announced today by Charles Graham, vice president of the coast league outfit.

With nearly a million dollar investment on their hands, owners of the club and stadium plan to seek financial returns from other fields, in addition to baseball. The park will be leased out for various affairs and Farnor will be in charge of this enterprise.

First Couple to Secure License is Married by Judge

Norman Eugene Hocking, 42, Salem, secured the first marriage license of the new year at the county clerk's office Tuesday and proceeded at once to use it. He went across the courthouse hall, secured County Judge Slegmund, and the latter married him to Hettie Elizabeth Rice, 36, 1465 Mill street. Mr. Hocking is a printer; his bride a nurse.

The first wedding application filed in the county was that entered yesterday by Cleo McGorris, 1903 Broadway street, Salem, who asked a license to wed Veneta M. Kaser, Silverton.

ALL COMMITTEES OF COUNCIL STAY

The mayor and city council were in a harmonious mood last night with the result there were no upsets in the first of the year appointments and elections.

Mayor McKay announced he was reappointing all council standing committees as "all of you have served a year and are better equipped to serve efficiently." He added, however, that he reserved the right to "ask for resignations if the committee does not function properly."

Other appointments by the mayor, such as playground board and incinerator superintendent, will be made within a few days.

The council unanimously re-elected Chris J. Kovita, city attorney; Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, city health officer; Hug Rogers, engineer and street commissioner; Batty Cooper, sanitary inspector; E. C. Bushnell, building inspector.

T. M. Hicks was re-elected to the park board and George Riches named to fill the vacancy created by the death of Lewis P. Aldrich.

TELEPHONE FIRM'S SALARIES ARE HIT

Higher Ones Must be Cut, Utilities Commissioner Says; Views Budget

Declaring salaries paid executives of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company are unreasonably high, Charles M. Thomas, Oregon public utilities commissioner, yesterday ordered a sharp reduction in these salaries in the Oregon area under his jurisdiction.

Thomas said the salaries of upper bracket officials in Portland, San Francisco and Seattle now total $32,739, and that of this Oregon must pay $78,768. His order recommended the combined salaries be cut to $137,525, and ordered that Oregon's payment be reduced to $58,989.

In issuing his order Commissioner Thomas based his authority on a state law adopted last year giving him power to reject high salaries and to order reduction in Oregon, or to order reduction in these items.

While the commissioner's order set forth reductions in total salaries of telephone officials in the three cities, his office explained he could take jurisdiction only over Oregon's share. Salary slashes for officials outside Oregon were in the nature of recommendations and for the purpose of establishing a basis for determining the extent of reductions definitely ordered for Oregon.

Commissioner Thomas likewise rejected the proposed payment by the Pacific company of $101,000 to American Telephone & Telegraph company during 1934 as a "service fee."

Thomas ordered that the salary of E. D. White, general manager of H. D. Pillsbury, president of the Oregon Telephone & Telegraph company, be reduced from $13,607 to $9,525, and that other officials receiving around $7000 a year, be reduced to about $6300.

He recommended that in the San Francisco office, the salary of H. D. Pillsbury, president, be cut from $54,537 to $21,000, and he ordered that Oregon's share of this salary be slashed from $4846 to $1864. He proposed that N. E. Powell, San Francisco vice-president, be reduced from $31,829 to $18,200; F. J. Reagan, vice-president, from $21,801 to $11,801; W. G. Klein Schmidt, secretary-treasurer, $13,425 to $9000; C. E. Kleager, vice-president, $18,155 to $10,200, and C. S. Casassa, general auditor, from $21,809 to $12,000.

Commissioner Thomas recommended that in the Seattle office, a reduction from $11,891 to $395 be made in the salary of R. D. Sheldon, auditor.

Ballot titles were prepared Tuesday for the referendum measure attacking the so-called sales tax law approved at the recent legislative session and an initiative measure providing for the establishment of a state bank.

The sales tax law provides for a levy of one and one-half per cent on all retail sales of tangible property and certain exemptions affecting farmers and businesses. In case the required number of signatures are obtained this measure will go on the ballot at the special election to be held May 13.

The measure providing for the establishment of a state bank would go on the ballot at the general election next November.

Both measures are being sponsored by the Oregon state granage, State Federation of Labor and a number of other organizations.

MRS. NELLIE DAMON PASSES SUDDENLY

INDEPENDENCE, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Nellie Damon suffered a heart attack while at the postoffice here this morning to get her mail, and died immediately. She had just reached for the mail box when she was stricken. Mr. McBeth, clerk at bank, brought her and summoned aid, but to no avail.

Mrs. Damon was the mother of Mrs. Oliver Locke and Mrs. Grace Huff of Salem, Mrs. Nellie Stewart of Bend and Captain Sam Damon of the U. S. Engineers, stationed at Pullman, Wash.

Mrs. Damon was born in Scotland August 13, 1859, and came to Oregon with her parents at the age of 11 years. Her husband died here several years ago.

Funeral services will be announced later from the Kenney funeral home.

Inheritance Tax Total is Lower

Receipts of the state inheritance tax department during the period January 1 to December 31, 1933, aggregated $417,340.81, or approximately $200,000 less than the average for the past 10 years, a tabulation prepared Tuesday disclosed.

The largest payment during the year was that of $109,832.08 by the estate of the late Caroline A. Kamm, who died in Multnomah county.

Approximately $165,174.24 remained unrecipited in the inheritance tax department at the close of the year.

DIRECTOR OF PLAYS CHOSEN FOR GROUP

Marjorie Walker Ratcliffe In General Charge of Chemeketa Casts

Announcement was made Tuesday of the appointment of Mrs. Marjorie Walker Ratcliffe as director of productions of Chemeketa Players, Inc., local play producing group. Mrs. Ratcliffe will coordinate the work of the other three directors, Helen Grier, Beulah Graham and Clifford Burt. In addition she will coach one or two plays during the season.

In commenting upon Chemeketa Players yesterday Mrs. Ratcliffe was enthusiastic in her praise of the work being done by the group. She stated that the opportunities for dramatic advancement in Salem were equal to that of any locality with which she had come in contact. She was also pleased with the amount of talent shown by the members of the playing group.

"We feel that we have made another step toward success by securing the services of Mrs. Marjorie Walker Ratcliffe as director of productions," John Minto, president of the group, said last night. "While we have had many problems to meet, they are gradually becoming smaller and I feel that the people of Salem are beginning to realize that we have a group of players that are really worth seeing."

Mrs. Ratcliffe is well known in Salem for the quality of plays and musical productions she has directed. She was formerly director for the Salem Drama league and has coached many plays presented by Willamette university students. Mrs. Ratcliffe has had dramatic and light opera experience throughout the United States and Canada. She was cast in title roles by the Oregon Opera company and was a member of several companies traveling for the Ellison-White circuit.

HANES KILLED AS ENGINE DERAILED

DALLAS, Jan. 2.—Charles M. Hanes, 49, an engineer, was killed early Sunday morning when an engine plucked over a high bank about a mile and a half from the Willamette Valley Lumber company camp above Black Rock. Hanes was thrown from the cab of the engine and crushed when it rolled over him. The body was brought to Dallas and then sent on to Portland.

Lee Harrington, a brakeman, was scalded by steam when the accident occurred. Harrington was riding in the cab of the engine but managed to stay inside when it rolled to the bottom of the canyon. He was burned badly but was released from the Dallas hospital today.

DE LAPP ARRESTED; ARRAIGNMENT SOON

DALLAS, Jan. 2.—Francis DeLapp was arrested in Salem Saturday night for the Polk county authorities and brought to jail here. He was indicted last week by the grand jury on a charge of non-support. He was released Monday on bond.

This arrest clears up all the indictments returned by the grand jury of the week and time for trials will probably be set then. Jury cases are scheduled to start next Monday.

Sues For Divorce

Pauline Durette filed a suit for divorce here today against Harry Durette in which she charged desertion. The couple were married August 6, 1931 at Medford and have a minor child. No property rights are involved in the suit. The plaintiff also asks custody of the child, and $15 a month for the care of the child.

BRIEFS PROPOSED IN KNOX LAW CASE

Judge L. G. Lowelling yesterday suggested to attorneys in the case of City of Klamath Falls vs. the State Liquor Commission that they submit further arguments on the case in the form of written briefs, foregoing any additional oral arguments. Counsel for both sides late yesterday had not indicated whether or not they were willing that the issue rest on such a presentation. The suit involves the constitutionality of the Knox liquor control measure.

Judge Lowelling was not in court here yesterday, being busy with work in Albany. He is expected in Salem today but does not expect that George Neuner, counsel for the liquor commission, will be present.

The court is working to expedite consideration of the case.

Postal Receipts Set New Record By Wide Margin

"Wasn't such a bad year that was rung out at midnight Sunday—at least not at the Salem postoffice where receipts for 1933 exceeded by nearly $16,806.45 those of 1932. Figures released yesterday by Postmaster John H. Farrar had not been completely checked and so could be rated only as an estimate but were thought to be fairly accurate. Receipts for 1932 totaled $224,852.20 while estimates give 1933 $241,658.65.

December, 1933, with receipts of $25,708.83 slightly more than held its own over December, 1932, with its receipts of $24,391.86. A large percentage of the year's gain was made in the quarter ending September 30 when the $68,231.63 received at the Salem office topped all quarters on record.

PAVEMENT BREAKS Believed due to effects of the recent heavy rains, a small hole developed in the paving on Court street between 14th and 17th yesterday with the result city police were requested to place a red lantern over it. City Engineer Rogers said the hole was inconsequential.

LIQUOR TABOO FOR HIGHWAY WORKERS

May Not Drink During Work Hours; Conduct Must Avoid Reproach

Drinking of alcoholic liquor of any kind during working hours is prohibited in an order issued Tuesday by R. H. Baldoek, state highway engineer, for the guidance of employees of the state highway department.

"I am writing you with regard to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and its possible effect with relation to the conduct of the business administration and construction and maintenance operations of the state highway department," the order read.

"Prior to the enactment of the eighteenth amendment and other prohibition laws, corporations and other organizations employing large numbers of men found it necessary to promulgate and enforce rules of discipline with regard to the drinking of alcoholic liquors. Now that the restrictions of the prohibition laws have been removed, the same conditions which make such rules of discipline necessary again obtain."

The order continued: "There shall be no drinking of alcoholic liquor at any time, the effects of which are apparent or detectable during working hours. There shall be no drunkenness and no public display of intemperance or excessive drinking. No employee shall at any time, or for any cause conduct himself in a manner unbecoming a gentleman or in a manner which will reflect discredit on the state highway department.

A violation of any of these rules will result in immediate dismissal.

"Employees of the state highway department are public servants, and as such are subject to a more critical judgment than are others not so employed," the order continued. "They are also charged with the maintenance of the highway system and the erection of signs and safety devices for the protection of the traveling public.

It is especially necessary, therefore, for employees of this department to avoid any use of liquor for which either they or the highway department can be criticized."

TEMPORARY LIQUOR SALE PLAN TALKED

PORTLAND, Jan. 2. (AP)—Naming temporary agents to retail hard liquor pending operation of state liquor stores was considered by the Oregon liquor control commission here today.

This plan was urged to bring immediate revenue to the state from sale of liquor and to insure more rigid control. At present hard liquor is being sold by various retailers pending establishment of the state stores.

Selection of a liquor administrator was deferred pending interviews with more candidates. Constitutionality of the state liquor law has been attacked in a pending suit. This was believed another reason the commission wished to defer investing state money in liquor supplies.

Under a temporary city of Portland ordinance, hundreds of applications for hard liquor dispensing permits were filed here today by retail merchants. All applications must be approved by the city council.
