MINIMUM REDUCED, CLEANING CHARGES

Order is Received Cutting Required Price; Higher Charges Permitted

Reductions in the minimum charges for dry cleaning and pressing under the NRA code for the cleaning and dyeing industry have been ordered by General Hugh S. Johnson and are effective immediately in the four sections of Oregon, William P. Ellis, local NRA general, reports. The reductions ordered by General Johnson are about 20 per cent slashes in all classifications. The new price lists for the Oregon area follows:

Cleaning and pressing men's suits, 75 cents; pressing suits, 40 cents; wash linen suits, 75 cents; ties, 10 cents; flannel or sports trousers, 60 cents; cleaning trousers only, 40 cents; gloves, 20 cents; hats, 65 cents.

For women's garments: Cleaning plain dresses, 75 cents; fancy dresses $1.05; extra fancy dresses, $1.30; two-piece coat suits, 75 cents; three-piece coat suits, $1.05; short white gloves, 10 cents; plain coats, 75 cents; velvet coats $1.05; fur trimming on collars of plain coats will cost 25 cents additional and 40 cents extra on velvet coats; fur cuffs will increase the cost 20 cents.

Minimum for cleaning boys' suits and girls' dresses and children's coats is 40 cents.

"There is nothing to prevent cleaners from charging more than the minimum price, but to charge less than the fixed price is a violation of the fair trade practice provisions of the code," Ellis said.

Miss Magin Home — Margaret Magin, suffering from an injured right arm, is home here after treatments in a Portland hospital. She sustained injuries to her arm this fall at the Willamette university gymnasium although physicians think the ailment may date back to a serious scarlet fever sickness of a number of years ago. She is a freshman at Willamette; her father is superintendent of the Salem area of the Methodist church.

W. G. Winslow, Roy Harland and S. M. Lindcott have moved their offices from the Guardian Building to 406 Mason's Building.

Damages Allowed — The city council, on recommendation of the street committee, agreed to pay Oscar D. Nelson, 322 North Church street, $15 for damages done to his automobile when it struck an open manhole last month. Nelson originally sought $19.45.

First Permits Issued — First building permits here in the new year were issued yesterday to Carry E. Bartholomew to re-roof a dwelling at 960 North 17th street at cost of $25 and to C. P. Bishop to alter a store at 225 North High at cost of $10.

COUNTY'S OUTGO ON ROADS LOW IN 1933

Total $370,401; $131,386 Spent on Santiam; New Commitments Made

Marion county's expenditures on roads in 1933—$370,401—were the smallest made in this county since 1917, figures released yesterday at the county clerk's office showed. At that time the nation was engaged in war and all construction activities were curtailed. Ten years ago, in 1923, the county spent $715,000 on roads.

The largest expenditure last year went on the North Santiam road, the county putting up $131,386 for this project. It has additional large commitments for that road in 1934.

According to the figures of U. G. Boyer, county clerk, the county has spent the following sums annually on roads the last ten years:

1924, $588,836.39; 1925, $437,791.70; 1926, $521,936.49; 1927, $629,064.71; 1928, $577,753.30; 1929, $513,486.91; 1930, $628,708.13; 1931, $749,756.71; 1932, $483,045.04.

The segregation of road expenditures for 1933 follows:

County roads, bridges and ferries, $71,880.12; market road improvements, $18,897.93; market road maintenance, $25,233.89; reimbursable expenditures, $570.78; general road fund, $14,287.47; road district expenditures, $101,397.96; road district special tax expenditures, $7238.63; North Santiam highway, $131,386.53; total, $370,401.30.

FUNERAL IS TODAY FOR M. KEPPIINGER

The Michael J. Keppinger funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of the Salem Mortuary on North Capitol street with interment in Belcrest Memorial park. Keppinger, a well known Marion county resident, died in this city Monday at the age of 56, following an operation for removal of a stomach cancer.

Keppinger spent most of his life on his farm on the Pacific highway, consecrating his efforts on farming and stockraising. Aside from this, the deceased was considered an expert on powder blasting. He was born at Gervais March 2, 1877, and until a year ago lived near there.

He is survived by his widow, Lillian Keppinger of Salem; four sons, Wesley of Gervais, Cleo, Harold and Ross of Salem; three daughters, Mrs. Verna Christofferson of Gervais, Rita of Eugene and Lotis of Salem; two brothers, John of Idaho and Peter of Portland; two sisters, Mrs. Lena Krebs of Seattle and Mrs. Susie Hubbard of Salem.

City Warrants Are Called as Turnover Made

Receipt yesterday of a $10,902.04 tax turnover from the county treasurer will enable City Treasurer C. O. Rice to call in 46 once, as announced. The latter amount is the general fund apportionment from the turnover. Into the bond and interest fund goes $3204.53, sewer fund $226.27, fire tax fund $428.04, and street repair tax fund $630.64.

Included in the turnover were taxes as far back as 1923, as follows: 1923 roll, $24.25; 1924, $55.30; 1926, $37.60; 1927, $187.83; 1928, $318.52; 1931, $4097.50, and 1932, $6084.49.

The city has now received approximately 71 per cent of its 1932 levy, Rice said.

SEGREGATION VOTED
Hoping to speed payment of a $129.46 street assessment, the city council last night by special action passed an ordinance revising segregation of assessments for paving of portions of Fir and Owens streets in relation to lot two, block three, Southwest addition. It was said a loan company interested in the property was prepared to pay the assessment as soon as the segregation was permitted. The mayor immediately signed the bill.

Classes Resume At Willamette After Holidays

Work resumed at Willamette university Tuesday after a ten days' vacation for students and faculty. Forensics and basketball will be extra-curricular activities now receiving most attention. Semester examinations are scheduled to begin January 22.

Improper Lights — Driving with improper lights caused appearance of Gilbert H. Cowley in justice court yesterday. He pleaded guilty, was fined $2.50 and court costs, which he failed to pay.

Lions Meet Closed — The Salem Lions club meeting at the Gray Belle restaurant Thursday noon will be a closed session, according to Ralph Kietzing, secretary.

Traffic Arrests — Three men arrested for lack of operators' licenses were haled before Judge Everett D. Grubbe yesterday for guilty and in at liberty on his own recognizance. STATISTICS SHOW BENEFITS OF NRA

Marriage License and Bank Clearing Figures are Held Significant

Two figures alone from Oregon 1933 statistics indicate the improvement over the previous year, and since the boosts in both these figures coming during the last six-months period of the year, they may be said directly due to the NRA movement, says William P. Ellis, NRA general here.

Marriage licenses, accepted as a reliable indication of economic conditions, showed a 30 per cent increase in Multnomah county in the last six months of 1933. In the first half of the year, which includes the heavy-marrying month of June, 688 couples were wed in the Portland county; in the last half of the year, 893 couples took marriage licenses.

Bank clearings also showed a 30 per cent increase in the last six months of 1933 over the first half, according to figures issued by the federal reserve branch bank at Portland, Ellis says.

Reports from all over the state indicate increases in retail trade since recovery programs got into swing, though it was notable that increases were generally recorded in merchandise sold in the lower price brackets.

"This augmented trade in lower price merchandise indicates that the recovery program is succeeding in its first objective, which is distributing purchasing power among average families and the unemployed," says Mr. Ellis.

The best available figures, conservatively handled, indicate that not less than 35,000 persons have returned to work in Oregon as result of the NRA code workings, Mr. Ellis declared in reviewing some of the recovery accomplishments.

FINAL RITES HELD FOR HENRY BROWN

MILL CITY, Jan. 2 — Funeral services for Henry Brown were held Monday afternoon from the Catholic church at 2 o'clock, with Father Lueger of Jordan in charge. Burial was on Fairview cemetery. Pallbearers were Clyde Hill, Frank Thomas, Stoneval Wood, Frank Berry, Marion Elstun, and Frank Splawn.

Mr. Brown suffered a stroke of paralysis Monday afternoon, Dec. 25, and failed to rally, although he lingered until Saturday afternoon.

John Henry Brown was born April 19, 1872, in Clermont, Ky. On February 26, 1895, he married Sarah J. Jacobs at Uniontown, Ky. For several years following their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Brown continued to make their home in Kentucky. In 1904 they came to Oregon, making their home for the most part in Mill City, and two years later they again came west and since made their home in this city. Mrs. Brown died here in 1930.

Mr. Brown is survived by six children and three grandchildren. The children are Mrs. C. E. Mason, Mrs. W. Rhodes, Mrs. Frank Black and Mrs. Roger Harris all of Mill City, Mrs. F. J. Butler of Pacific Beach, Wash., and Oscar Brown of Longview, Wash. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Emma Guest.
