Roosevelt Asks Congress to Go on With His General Policies This Year

strengthening the financial structure "and of arriving eventually at a medium of exchange which will have over the years less variable purchasing power than the present for our people."

Current Stabilization

Held Long Way Distant

Internationally, difficulties of some foreign nations, he added, made the question of stabilization of currencies in the foreign exchange on a permanent and world-wide basis a long way off.

He said there had been "great strides" under the national industrial recovery act and proposed that this be made a permanent thing "under the supervision but not the arbitrary dictation of government itself."

"Actual experience with the operation of the agricultural adjustment act," he said, "leads to my belief that thus far the experience of seeking a balance between production and consumption is succeeding and has made progress entirely in line with reasonable expectations towards the restoration of farm prices to parity."

He looked ahead to the day when the Tennessee valley development could be extended to a national plan.

South American Conference

Held Outstanding Success

The president was not so enthusiastic about the situation in world affairs but said he regarded the recent Pan American conference at Montevideo "an outstanding success."

He asserted that fear of war in other parts of the world was preventing progress in peace or trade agreements but reiterated the willingness of this government to cooperate for the reduction of armaments and the lowering of tariffs. He added that the United States "cannot take part in political arrangements in Europe."

Mr. Roosevelt indicated new steps might come soon on the defaulted war debts, saying he would make a report later to congress on debt.

The president also made it definitely known that he would submit a specific recommendation to congress later on the tariff. He declined to discuss the details of this but the opinion persisted he would seek authority to negotiate reciprocal tariff agreements.

At the White House Mr. Roosevelt said he probably from time to time also would submit other messages but that there was no fixed schedule for this and he expects most of the legislation to originate in committees and be enacted in close cooperation between the White House and congress.

"Now that we are definitely in the process of recovery," he said, "lines have been rightly drawn between those to whom this recovery means a return to old methods—and the number of these people is small—and those for whom recovery means a reform of many old methods—a permanent readjustment of many of our ways of thinking and therefore of many of our social and economic arrangements."

Uncle Sam at Bat for Depositors

A few of the principals in the unprecedented suit the U. S. Government has filed in New York State Supreme Court to compel the twenty banks comprising the New York Clearing House Association to live up to an agreement that they would guarantee in full deposits of the defunct Harriman bank, whose former head, Joseph W. Harriman, is now under indictment charging falsifying records and misapplying bank funds. James F. O'Connor, Federal Controller of Currency, filed the suit on behalf of the government. Included in the complaint are eight bankers who comprised the clearing house committee which made the alleged agreement. Among them are Charles S. McCain, chairman, Chase National; George W. Davidson, chairman, Trust Co.; Percy H. Johnston, president, Chemical National and Trust Co.; and Mortimer N. Buckner, chairman, New York Trust Co. Should the Government win its action 11,000 depositors in the defunct bank would receive $9,375,000.

contained a picture of Babe Ruth with the notation on the bottom "will present this."

Dispatches from New York said Babe Ruth listened incredulously to the information he might be an intended kidnap victim.

"Well," he was quoted as saying, "I sure hope they get that guy. I never got any letters from him or anything, but I don't want him coming my way unless I can get my hands on a bat."

35 Men to Be Work On Project Given Okeh at Mt. Angel

Mt. Angel will get its first CWA project Friday when 35 men are to go to work there at improving streets and the water system, Administrator Glenn G. Niles announced here yesterday. All of the men will be placed by the national re-employment bureau here from its list of unemployed Mt. Angel residents. This project will not mean a definite increase in the number of CWA jobs through the county since other men are being laid off on account of injuries or because the jobs on which they have been working are completed.

Cannery Worker's Name Goes Far as Does Annual Paper

When an employee of a Salem cannery scratched his name and address on the outside of a can during the last packing season, he had little idea whether the purchaser would be right here in Salem, or in some foreign land.

Distance won, for early this week the employee received a note from William Flight, Beswick, Manchester, England, in return, the cannery worker mailed to Flight a copy of the annual edition of The Statesman.

Top Scores Given Out For Tourney; Match Point Used

Top scores in the benefit bridge tournament held Tuesday night at the Elks' temple under the auspices of the American Society for the Prevention of Cancer, were announced yesterday by Mrs. William H. Quinn, conductor.

Mrs. Roy Simmons and Mrs. J. H. Callaghan won high north and south; east and west high scores went to Earl Fisher and Karl Corey. Scoring was on the match-point basis. In the auction play top scores went to Mrs. R. V. Noll and to T. M. Barr.

Accident Funds in Outstanding Gain

Receipts of the state industrial accident commission have increased approximately $300,000 during the past six months, Albert Hunter, chairman, announced. He said the increase in receipts indicated a general improvement in business and industrial conditions throughout the entire state.

Church Colleges Praised by Bibb; Their Scope Told

President Thomas M. Bibb of Albany college made an impressive appeal on behalf of the Christian college and university in an address to the Salem Rotary club Wednesday. Such schools are performing a great work, he said, and there is a continuing need for them. Comparing enrollment in private with public institutions, he said that, leaving out the 147,000 students in the ten largest private universities, the total enrollment in smaller private schools exceeds that of all public colleges and universities by 40,000.

Planning Board to Meet Here Friday

The initial meeting of the Oregon planning board, which was appointed recently by Governor Meier to cooperate with the public works administration, will be held in the offices of the state utilities commissioner here tomorrow. The meeting was called by Charles M. Thomas, state utility commissioner. Other members of the board are D. O. Hood, Portland; Frank Dillard, Medford; Henry Cabell, Portland; R. H. Baldoek, state highway engineer; Charles Stricklin, state forester.

Railroads "Crack Down" on Tramps

Following up an announcement in The Statesman last Sunday, R. R. "Bob" Boardman, local transit relief supervisor, yesterday announced that all railroads had begun imposing stringent restrictions on the use of their trains by transients. The action of the railroads is in line with a federal regulation through which it is hoped that many transients will return to their homes and cease wandering aimlessly over the country.

Radio Quick Aid In Regaining Car

Before J. B. Young, 720 North Summer street, had spent many minutes worrying over the loss of his automobile by theft, city police notified him the missing machine had been found on a vacant lot on Maple avenue between South and Academy streets. Police radio was used in reporting the theft to prowl cars.

STATE STORES WIN IN HOUSE

Vote of 67 to 25 is Cast in Opposition to Letting Private Men Sell

The most important amendment written into the senate bill was one liberalizing the sale of wine. Under the change, wine of 17 per cent alcoholic content by weight, or approximately 22 per cent by volume, could be sold by the glass in restaurants, hotels and clubs.

A definition explaining fortified and unfortified wines was rewritten to limit all wines to 17 per cent by weight.

This was interpreted as meaning that the majority may defeat a later proposition to allow the sale by the glass of 22 per cent mixed drinks in restaurants, hotels and clubs.

The Steele bill, drafted by Governor Martin's advisory liquor commission, withstood a major attack at the outset this morning, when the house voted 88 to 3 against indefinitely postponing the measure.

Early Rainstorm Floods Silverton; Water Into Stores

SILVERTON, Jan. 3.—Late sleepers at Silverton Wednesday morning thought a new form of alarm clock had been installed when the most severe crash of thunder ever heard in these parts rumbled through at 7 o'clock. The first flash of lightning and crash of thunder were closely followed by a second one. Then a deluge of rain fell and the storm was over. A transformer a mile east of Silverton on the Monitor road was completely destroyed and had to be replaced. Five transformer fuses were also burned out in the country surrounding Silverton.

The rain came down so fast and heavy that the streets were flooded and water ran into basements and stores.

Goat-Eating Dogs Shot; Saucy Says 'No More Quarter'

Irked at the loss of ten goats and 15 sheep either killed or driven into the brush by dogs, David Saucy, operator of the Bush ranch north of Salem, announced the aid of Paul Marbach, dog license collector, yesterday morning and staged a hunt for the bloodthirsty canines. Six dogs were found near the gravel pit containing one of Saucy's goats; three were shot and the rest escaped.

"There'll be no quarter for dogs fooling around my ranch from now on," declared Saucy.

Machinery Bound For Amalgamated Spills Into Ditch

SILVERTON, Jan. 3.—A large truck loaded with mining machinery being taken from Portland to the Amalgamated mines on the North Santiam was ditched and turned over on the hill near the Miller cemetery east of Silverton. Although there were nine persons on the truck none were seriously injured.

San Pedro Freed; Cargo is Reloaded

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 3.—(P)—Undamaged after nearly 30 hours on a Columbia river sand spit near St. Helens, the freighter point San Pedro late today proceeded toward San Francisco. Fred Devine, Portland diver, declared the ship able to proceed. The cargo of 150,000 feet of lumber was reloaded. It was necessary to unload the lumber and 600 tons of bilge and fresh water to pull the craft from the spit.

TO GIVE PLAY FRIDAY

QUINBY, Jan. 3.—Young people of Quinby are to stage a play Friday night in the Lake Lash schoolhouse, entitled "Waiting for the Hickville Train." Proceeds from the sale of refreshments after the play will go toward a fund for building a new playground at the Quinby school.

CLUB MEETS TODAY

LIBERTY, Jan. 3.—The Women's club here will meet January 4 at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Roy B. Davidson, with Mrs. Bruce Cunningham as assistant hostess.

Princes Charged With Theft

No strangers to the national spotlight by reason of their marriages to prominent American women, the Georgian brothers, Prince David (left), and Prince Serge Mdivani (right), are again centers of the nation's interest by reason of their indictment at Los Angeles on 14 counts of grand theft. The charges arose through an investigation of the Pacific Shore Oil Co., promoted by the Mdivanis.

New Bid Shown, Culbertson

By MRS. WILLIAM H. QUINN
Statesman Tournament Conductor

One of the most interesting changes in the system is the forcing take out of partner's one no trump bid in an unbidable minor suit. This minor suit may be even a two card suit. After this forcing bid the opening hand will respond in a major suit if he holds four cards of that suit. If he does not hold four cards in a major suit he bids three no trump.

The reason for this change is evident. The effect that partner has opened the bidding with one no trump does not mean that game is in the major suit is impossible. Haven't you had the unhappy experience of trying to play a hand at three no trump that should have been played in four hearts or four spades? Often you, the opening hand, will have an unbidable 4 card major—your partner also has four of that suit and your last chance for game is in the suit rather than no trump.

Playing 1934 Culbertson if your partner has opened the bidding with one no trump and you feel that game is assured but you wish to know if he has four hearts or four spades, your response is three in a minor suit. Any bid by your partner other than three in a major denotes a four card major suit. Try it out and see if it works.

New Bids Called on 4-Mile Stretch for No. Santiam Road

The state highway commission yesterday issued a call for new bids on the 4.25-mile stretch of grading on the North Santiam highway between Mill City and Gates. Bids will be opened January 18 when $500,000 of road projects will be up for letting to contractors. The commission also asked for bids on a bridge over Mill creek on the Beaverton-Aurora secondary highway in this county.

A total of 17 road and bridge jobs will be in the contracts to be opened at the next meeting.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 3.—(P)—A guild for editorial newspaper workers with approximately 50 initial members was organized here today at a meeting held in the editorial rooms of the Post-Dispatch. Employees of all St. Louis papers will be invited to affiliate.

DEATH LOSS GROWS IN SOUTH TRAGEDY

In stream beds can be thoroughly searched, and the missing accounted for, one way or another. Distraught Relatives Search For Loved Ones

Tragic scenes were enacted today in the flood area as distraught relatives hunted missing loved ones and besieged organized searches and relief workers for information.

Tears came to the eyes of Governor Rolph as he saw the body of a little girl, about seven, recovered by CWA workers near Glendale. He was on a personal inspection tour of the main flood area.

Before he flew back to Sacramento, the governor instructed state department heads to redouble their efforts to relieve distress and aid in reconstruction. He telephoned to Earl Lee Kelly, director of the state department of public works to request the latter to come to Los Angeles immediately to direct members of that department in rebuilding roads and erecting bridges. Kelly said he would fly here tomorrow from Sacramento.

An estimate of $5,000,000 as total damage from the flood was described as conservative today by members of the county board of supervisors, and officials of the flood control and road departments.

Whitman Death is Shocking to Local Friend of Family

A Salem resident to whom the murder of Julian C. Whitman, prominent on the San Francisco stock exchange, at Martinez, Calif., December 28 came as a great shock is Mrs. E. E. Dent.

Mrs. Dent spent three months in the Whitman home a year ago and speaks very highly both of Mr. Whitman and his wife, Mrs. Frances Whitman, the latter former state president of the California League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Dent received first word of the tragedy from Oregon papers, but a more detailed account, sent by a sister of Mrs. Whitman, came this week. Mr. and Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Dent recounts, first met at her home in Spokane. Mrs. Whitman and a daughter of Mrs. Dent were school girl chums.

HOUSE PROBES LONG FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(P)—The Long and anti-Long factions in the Louisiana house delegation today passed to an elections committee the question of whether Mrs. Bolivar E. Komar Sr., or J. Y. Sanders, Jr., is entitled to the seat from the sixth district of that state.
