Striking Quilt Pattern

PALM PATTERN NO. 469

The Palm is the symbol of victory, and has been a decorative emblem ever since man commenced applying ornament. The unknown quiltmaker of generations ago who conceived this pattern indeed deserves the palm as a designation of a worth-while achievement.

Bits for Breakfast

Ord, with 60 men, on his way to Crescent City to escort a large train with army stores, was on April 29th attacked at Chelcoe river by about an equal number of Indians, losing in the skirmish one man killed and three wounded. The Indians were driven from the field with a loss of six killed. On other occasions the same hostility was displayed—in fact there was no hope for peace without first conquering the Indians.

The coast volunteers at no time ceased operations. Captains Harris, Creighton and Bledsoe gave the renegade Abost tribesmen no rest. Lieut. Abbott surprised a party of Coquilles on that river in two canoes, and killed 12, including one woman. Twice the Coquilles had agreed to go and remain on the reservation, and twice ran away.

Early in May Buchanan moved the whole force of regulars to Oak Flat, near the mouth of the Illinois river. Among surrendered or captured Indians, mostly women and children, some could be used as messengers to the various bands, urging them to meet him and the superintendent, to hold a council.

After a good deal of such contacting, the chiefs finally came together on May 21, no restraint being put upon them. They were John of Scott valley and his son, Rogue River George, Limpy, and other chiefs both of the Rogue river and Cow creek bands—now ready to listen to what the agents of the United States had to say, which they had mental reservations about accepting or rejecting, leaning mostly to the latter alternative.

LODGES INSTALL AT MILL CITY

MILL CITY, Jan. 6.—At a joint installation Tuesday evening officers of Santiam Rebekah lodge and Mill City I. O. O. F. lodge were installed for 1934. The installation ceremony was followed by a banquet with Mrs. A. L. Raines, Mrs. Leroy E. Dike, Mrs. Sig Jepsen and Mrs. Otto Geertson on the committee. Cards rounded out the evening.

Eva Raines, district deputy grand marshal, assisted by Gertrude Mason, grand marshal, installed the following officers for the Rebekahs: Nellie Ward N. G., Christina Phillips V. G., Abbie Geertson secretary, Mary Carter treasurer, Grace Taylor R. S. N. G., Clara Ellsworth L. S. N. G., Jennie Davis R. S. V. G., Nellie Wachter L. S. N. G., Gertrude Mason chaplain, Mall Robinson warden, Edna Tuftord conductor, Charles Wilson outside guardian, Millie Lavine inside guardian and Eva Raines musician.

The officers of Mill City I. O. O. F. were installed by district deputy grand master Walter Leisy, assisted by George Berry district deputy grand marshal. Chester Slater was installed as noble grand and James Selma vice grand. Other officers installed are Walter Leisy R. S. N. G., Charles Wilson L. S. N. G., Sam Jurgenson R. S. support, A. T. Koenke L. S. support, Warner Yunkers warden, George Berry conductor, William Lavine inside guardian, Frank Thomas R. S. V. G., M. H. Wilson S. V. G., and W. H. Mason chaplain.

Morgenthau Takes Office

Having moved up a step and assumed the title as well as the responsibilities of Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., is congratulated by his father, former Ambassador to Turkey, in the Oval Room of the White House, after he had been sworn in as a full-fledged member of the Cabinet. He was appointed by President Roosevelt following formal resignation of Secretary Woodin. Mrs. Morgenthau is at left.

MOVING HOUSES FOR RIGHT OF WAY

MILL CITY, Jan. 6.—Work of moving the house of Louis Rada, which is occupied by Dr. R. E. Silvis and family as a residence and dental office has been completed. The house stood on the new right-of-way of the North Santiam highway. It was moved to other property owned by Rada nearby. Work will be commenced on moving three other houses which are owned by the Hammond Lumber company and which are on the right-of-way. Before these houses are moved it will be necessary to excavate a large amount of dirt from the mountain side back of the buildings. When this is done it is understood that the houses will be moved back to the north of the present location and will still face the highway.

With a new bridge over the Santiam in Mill City and the prospect of the North Santiam highway on the Marion county side being pretty well completed this year, times are looking well in Mill City for a lively and prosperous summer. Contrary to many reports the Hammond mill did not close down as usual the first of the year for two weeks, although it was down three days due to a break in some machinery. With the mild winter experienced here it is probable that the logging camps will open earlier this spring, giving many men work. Six miles of railroad at Camp 26 was completed last year and more started. This will give access into a larger timber area.

During the past year many new residences were erected and repairs and improvements made to many others. At present it is almost impossible to secure a house to rent. The lumber company has a few houses that have been built for years and were intended to be discarded, but even these have been in demand and as a result have been repaired and are for the most part being occupied.

GIRLS' LEAGUE SELECTS COUNCIL

SCIO, Jan. 6.—Members of the Girls' League met Friday noon and elected a council member from their respective classes as follows: seniors, Sylvia Bartu; juniors, Doris Horsburgh; sophomore, Opal Long; freshman, Thelma Sprague. The council now consists of these four members and Maxine Arnold, president; Helen Myers, vice president; Elsie Fitzmaurice, treasurer; Norone Sims, secretary; and Miss Newhouse and Miss Neptune, advisors.

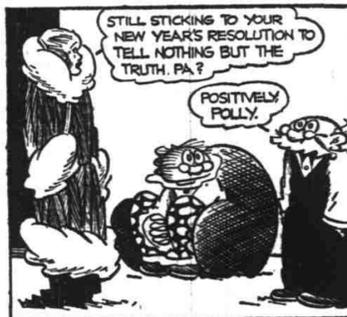

The council will meet Monday to appoint chairmen for the constitution, social, financial, entertainment and membership committees.

A series of programs will be presented during the activity period on Fridays by the various classes in the high school. At a recent meeting the faculty was voted that the faculty furnish the first program.

This was done Friday afternoon, January 5. A "takeoff" on a faculty meeting, at which department grades were determined, was presented. Miss Bernice Newhouse, Miss Doris Neptune, F. A. Gallagher, and Frances Keltner took part.

By ANNE ADAMS

Can't you see yourself looking pretty as a picture at your housework, wearing this attractive little apron that exactly matches your printed frock underneath? It's the combination a great idea! The frock with its fetching vest is pretty enough to wear when you greet callers, or go marketing—the apron case, of course, is worn with other frocks. The whole ensemble can be made for a mere song—gay cotton prints are so inexpensive, as is the colored binding used for trim.

Pattern 1743 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34. Size 16 takes 4 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric and 5 yards binding. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.
