how and introduce me as his 'official speaker.'

"Also, there has been no authority or reason to link my name with congressional candidacy next spring; I took particular pains at Corvallis the other night to knock this thing in the head."

Political gossip was to the effect that several prominent Oregon democrats were reported to have sent telegrams to Postmaster-General James A. Farley, protesting Chairman Fahey's instructions to Lipscomb.

Telegrams from similar sources were also sent to Farley, it was rumored designed to help place Walters in Lipscomb's place as Oregon HOLC manager.

Walters emphatically denied he intended to make a bid for Lipscomb's job.

Business League Asks Support for Local Print Firms

Vigorous protest against the any preference shown out-of-town printers in the award of the printing contract for the Wallulah, Willamette university annual publication, was expressed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Salem Business Men's league last night.

Pointing out that new NRA regulations remove any price advantage which outside firms might before have had, the league directors took the stand that local support of the university activities of all kinds justified a preference to Salem firms in the award of valuable contracts.

It was stated that business men were favorable to advertising in the Wallulah, provided it was printed in Salem.

A committee was appointed by Howard H. Hulsey, president of the league, to investigate complaint made that the Red Cross and Marion county court were favoring certain business houses in issuing requisitions for foods and supplies.

Court Soon to Pick Pension Checkers

The Marion county court shortly will be forced to choose one or more investigators to assist in getting the old-age pension plan under way if the request for CWA help in the project is not improved. James E. Smith, county commissioner, said yesterday the county would not be able to wait much longer before starting its old-age pension operations. County Judge Siegmund has been ill the week and no word has been received from Portland on the county's request for CWA help in paying for investigators.

BLANKS FOR FEDERAL INCOME TAX ARRIVE

Immediate Returns Urged But March 15 Deadline; Exemptions Down

Return blanks for 1933 federal income taxes are being received by Marion county taxpayers. The requirements for filing individual returns are the same as for the year 1932: 1. c. each single person with a net income of $1000 or over and each married person with a net income of $2500 or over or each person with a gross income of $5000 or over must file an income tax return.

If separate returns are filed by husband and wife, the exemption may be taken by either or divided between them. In addition to the personal exemption, a credit of $400 may be claimed for each person (other than husband or wife) under 18 years of age, or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective, who receives his or her chief support from the taxpayer during the taxable year.

Before preparing the return, the taxpayer should assemble carefully all information; he also should make a study of the instructions on the form. When the return has been completed, all working papers should be held by the taxpayer for future reference.

The oath will be administered without charge by the collector. Any deputy collector or internal revenue agent.

Although taxpayers have until March 15, 1934, in which to file returns, Collector J. W. Maloney wishes to impress upon each one the desirability of compiling his information and filing his return at an earlier date in order to avoid last minute rush. This early filing will permit all taxpayers to receive the full, courteous assistance Collector Maloney desires rendered by his corps of deputies.

Corporations and partnerships are required to file federal income tax returns, regardless of the amount of net income.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Portland civil service board has been asked to decide if the city has a right to lay off janitors and use prisoners in their place. Fred C. Shirakow said he was laid off as a police station janitor and his duties assigned to prisoners.

Fox Pelts in Demand; Plan For Show Out

Oregon fox breeders experienced a far better year in 1933 than the previous year, with demand greater than supply and markets much higher, comparatively speaking. Eugene Finley of Jefferson said while in Salem this week arranging for a meeting of the Oregon State Fox Breeders' association, to be held at the chamber of commerce here Saturday, January 20, Mr. Finley is secretary of the state group.

Two years ago the pelt market was way low, and in order to speed up sales, the Oregon breeders held their first fur show and sales as a unit. However, plans for another show last season were cut short when market strength developed to such an extent that breeders did not care to hold their pelts for show purposes.
