OPEN GOLF PLAY ON TODAY IN BAY AREA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Amateur professional golf stars, 200 strong, will tie off here tomorrow in the 18-hole qualifying round of the fourth annual $4,000 national match play open championship.

It is considered one of the outstanding tournaments of the winter season, unique in that it brings the professionals, most of them medal play artists, into match play competition.

The short qualifying test will swing the 64 low scorers into Friday's opening match play round of 18 holes. Sunday's semi-finals and next Monday's finals will be over 36 holes.

Most of the country's ranking pros and the state's best amateurs are primed for a whirl at the par 35-37-72 Lake Merced course, where the tournament was held two years ago.

Among the fairway trouper are the winners of the three previous titles and chief prize money, Leo Diegel of Philadelphia; Wiffy Cox of Brooklyn and the defending champion, Craig Wood of Deal, N. J.

Other prominent amateurs who will match strokes with the professional brigade include Frank Dolp, former Portland star but now a local resident and once holder of the western amateur title.

SOLONS CLUB TO BE BEATEN SAYS HARRIS

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Stanley "Bucky" Harris, new manager of the rebuilt Boston Red Sox, hastened here from his Washington home today to spread the alarm that his charges must beat the Senators to gain the American league pennant.

"Washington is still the club to beat," he reported to General Manager Eddie Collins before they went into their huddle over spring training camps.

"Too many ifs dot the Yankees' prospects," he continued, "and now that Mickey Cochrane has left Philadelphia to take over my old job in Detroit, you can bank on it that the A's pitching is not going to be anything to boast about."

"Personally I think the league has more balance than it has enjoyed for many years and the team with a consistent punch is going to finish on top. Don't be surprised to find the end of the 1934 American league race the same neck-and-neck affair that thrilled the national league last season."

To prove he isn't superstitious, Harris set Friday, March 2, as the date of the Red Sox's departure for the spring training camp at Sarasota, Fla.
