Interesting Facts

Keeping everlastingly at it brings success.

Alexander Hamilton, statesman, was born 177 years ago today.

At least we know who reads the paper when so many call our attention to "ball-up" in first page stories Wednesday morning. The right hand was over the wrong story, that's all.

The Mormon tabernacle at Salt Lake City is elliptical in form, 150 feet in extreme width by 250 feet in extreme length, 80 feet high and the auditorium will seat 8,000.

Ping Pong was first called table tennis and was played as early as 1880.

Ed Schroder, that congenial manager of Patia Taktis store on South Commercial street tried to tell us yesterday that he was ten years younger than we were. Well either we look old or Ed felt awfully young for we found there was only four years difference in our ages.

We do not like to brag all the time about our Friday food advertising but if you want the food advertising of Salem that's where you find it. In December alone The Statesman carried two and one half times as much local food advertising as any other Salem paper. The average for all of 1933 was about two and one third times. Watch the Friday paper for food news.

Charles McElhinny, special representative for the Oregon Mutual Life Insurance has printed out his calendar that he gave out this year 365 days of opportunity ahead. We believe he's right: 1934 will be a year of opportunity.

SALEM PICKED FOR NEXT LIQUOR MEET

The first meeting of the state liquor commission to be held in Salem has been set for next Saturday morning at the capitol building here. George L. Sammis, state administrator, called the meeting. All employees of the commission and the latter's three members will attend.

The call of the meeting was considered here yesterday as indicative that hereafter the central offices of the commission will be in Salem and its regular meeting place will be here.

The commission will be asked to examine and to approve application blanks for job seekers as well as other detailed procedure in connection with the commission's activities.

As yet no specific request has been made for office space at the statehouse. Anticipating that such a request would be made, Secretary of State Hons two weeks ago offered the commission his full cooperation in selecting an office here.
