

HEART EXCHANGE IS LIVELY COMEDY

Chemeketa Players are at Their Best in Vehicle With Many Laughs

By JESSIE STEELE Situations growing out of the combination of thwarted love, mistaken identity and rum runners make good entertainment in "The Heart Exchange," comedy drama showing at Nelson auditorium this week and part of next. Chemeketa Players, Inc., have demonstrated once more that their genius is best expressed in comedy. The play is presented under the skilful direction of Clifford Wayne Hurt.

Arnold Malsels as the scheming buddy of Keith Middleton, who can get people into scrapes without getting them out but who finally plucks a lemon for himself, repeats his hit performance of "Manhattan Honeymoon." Malsels is a natural and always in character. Pat Peterson shines as the dumb maid and as usual garners her share of the laughs. June Lochridge as the secretary of the phony matrimonial bureau is exceedingly attractive and a good actress. Jimmie Sehon as Socker Quigley, the tough little prize-fighter, is a knockout actor in addition to being good looking. He steals every scene in which he appears with his aside tirades and exaggerated swagger. The cast is too long to detail the performance of each character. Keith Middleton gets properly riled at being called "Algernon" by Mary Campbell, a terrible flapper who is trying to forget "Socker." Mike Panek, Jacquie Hughes, Mickey Zeran, Fred Remington, a new face in this season's productions, Tiny Frahm and Katherine Barz turn in creditable performances.

of Arkansas, the democratic leader, said, however, he would demand a new vote on it tomorrow. The senate gave its approval to three score nominations made by the president, among them that of William C. Bullitt of Pennsylvania, to be ambassador to Russia. This was the only opportunity the senate will have to take action regarding Russian recognition and there was insufficient opposition to cause a record vote. Talk of silver rehabilitation and monetary matters ran through the capitol, given added impetus by a meeting of President Roosevelt with his monetary advisers during the afternoon at which, among other things, they discussed commanding the gold of the federal reserve system. This would be preliminary to a revaluation of the dollar.

TELEPHONE COSTS INCREASED, CLAIM

Clark read from the interstate commerce commission's uniform accounts of 1913 to substantiate evidence offered by Lester that the company had refused to obey an order of the commission. The company's 1913 valuation given by the I. C. C. was adopted by the state commissioner and brought up to date by records of subsequent transactions.

Tax Funds Come In Steadily Now

Tax moneys are coming in quite steadily at the county sheriff's office although the new rolls for the 1933 taxes will not be out for a number of weeks. Twenty-three thousand, five hundred dollars have been collected in the fortnight since the last turnover to the county treasurer was made. These payments are all made on taxes of the year 1932 or theretofore.

election because the CWA has not yet assured the necessary funds for the job.

"No bonds will be sold and no money will be expended on the building job in question if the government agencies do not allot the balance of the $100,000 to the district. All we want on the Monday vote is permission from the public to use the old bond issue for the purposes outlined in the new building program."

Start Placing of CWA Cross Sewer

Laying of a 1400 foot sewer line along Cross street to relieve present congestion in the main sanitary system will get underway this morning. It was announced at the city engineer's office yesterday. The job, one of the city's civil works projects, will cost $12,076.74. Crews that have been working on other projects will be used on the new one.

Oh boy! NO MORE ASHES to carry out!

"No more ash-can drudgery for me! All the care our furnace needs now is two minutes in the morning, another two minutes in the evening. Yet the house stays an even, healthful temperature all the time. Best of all, I'm saving money on both fuel and doctor bills. Why didn't I get wise to Gasco Briquets years ago!"

Before you order fuel again, consider these special advantages of Gasco Briquets:

1. A 100% petroleum fuel - ideal for furnace, fireplace or stove. (No special equipment needed.)
2. Highest heat content of any solid fuel.
3. No banking or shanking! Hold fire all day or night!
4. No ashes or clinkers to carry out.
5. One ton of Briquets gives as much heat as two cords of first-growth fir; costs less per season than best Utah and Wyoming coal.

Ask the dealer in your city for a 100-lb. trial sack at the introductory price of $1.00.
