climbed upon it and the driver roared away in the direction of Lovelady.

The horn of an automobile was sounded continually during the shooting to guide the convicts and there were reports that the aide might have been Bonnie Parker, two-gun, cigar-smoking companion of Barrow on his three-year career of major crime.

Besides Hamilton and Palmer, the convicts who escaped were Henry Methvin, serving ten years; W. H. Bybee, serving a life sentence, and J. B. French, 12 years. Palmer was serving a 25-year sentence.

Other prisoners in the group of 17 who had just started to work made no attempt to escape. They told prison officials Barrow managed the machine gun.

Several persons reported seeing one of the automobiles on a road not far from the prison farm. Two men were in the rumble seat with their heads held low.

Radio, telephone and telegraph quickly spread the news of the break and every peace officer in central Texas was warned to be on the watch for the desperadoes. Extra precautions were taken in Dallas, where Barrow first ran afoul of the law in 1926.

Barrow's criminal record lists murders, robberies and kidnaping in virtually every middle western and southwestern state. Hamilton went with him on his depredations frequently but they separated over the affections of Bonnie Parker, Clyde, Bonnie and Buck Barrow, his brother, and Buck's wife teamed up for a time but the quartet was broken when Buck was fatally wounded in Iowa last summer when officers surrounded their camp.

With customary audacity, Barrow and his companions shot their way out of the trap and once again were free.

FEAR ARMY - NAVY CLASHES IN CUBA

would declare the mayor of Havana president.

There was no doubt that neither Batista with his army nor Guitierrez, with the support of the navy, was overlooking any possibilities for precaution.

As night fell Batista's soldiers continued to move arms and ammunition from Castillo Fuertza, former headquarters of the army on the waterfront near the city.

Whether Cuba's new government will swing to the right or to the left remained enigmatic. It was known that Guitierrez, widely known as a leftist, had communicated with his followers in the interior and that he was definitely pulling away from Hevia, whom he considered to be inclined to turn to the right.

Theoretically Batista was still supporting Hevia, but many informed persons said they believed the link between them was thin.

CWA WORKERS SEND THANKS TO F. D. R.

Reply to Former Message Is Received; Appreciation Is Expressed

Another telegram of thanks for jobs received was telegraphed to President Roosevelt yesterday, this time by workmen representing 60 families, employed on Marlon county CWA projects eight and 31. The message read: "The workers on CWA projects number eight and 31, Marlon county, Oregon, representing 60 families, wish to thank you for assistance and wish you a happy birthday and many of them. More power to you, Mr. President." The telegram was signed by Otto Hoven and L. E. Hennis, foremen on the two projects.

A reply from the president via the federal works administration, to a similar message sent by workers on the Salem school projects recently, was received here yesterday, reading as follows:

"Your telegram of January 7, addressed to the president also has been referred to me for reply. You express appreciation for the president's civil works program, especially as to its improving conditions in your locality.

"The spirit of helpfulness and cooperation with the administration as evidenced by your communication is sincerely appreciated.

"We are sure that those connected with the state federal civil works administration in Oregon would be pleased to see your generous message, and we are, therefore, passing your telegram along to them.

"We shall count upon your continued cooperation in the development of the president's great civil works program."

Asks Sample Prunes After Sees Recipes

LIBERTY, Jan. 16.—The Women's club is in receipt of a letter from Indianapolis, Ind., from a man who had received one of the club's 600 prune recipe booklets at the Century of Progress in Chicago.

The writer of the letter asked whether small samples for size and taste, were available and stated that demand was good there for the fruit. He also wrote that his son could do canvassing for orders, and he is interested in getting in touch with some prune grower.

John Dasch, club president, stated that any grower interested may obtain the name and address from her.

Dallas Methodist Church Planning Revival Meetings

The Methodist church of Dallas will open a revival series in February, with the Duff trio assisting the resident ministers, Rev. and Mrs. George W. Bruce, reports Dr. Louis Magin, district superintendent.

The Dallas church auditorium is now being redecorated and recently the church basement underwent renovations. Rev. and Mrs. Bruce were complimented at a party given recently by the congregation, and Mrs. Bruce was presented a set of table forks. Dr. Magin reports the Bruces have done outstanding work in their pastorate.

A beautiful girl in whose charms and intelligence are vested the power of an army corps is the role enacted by Constance Bennett in her latest release from RKO-Radio, "After Tonight," opening today at the Elsinore.

The dramatic trend of the story comes when disguised as a peasant girl she falls in love with a counter-espionage officer who little dreams of her real identity. Later he is assigned to capture her. Succeeding, he knows he must sentence her to death or himself become a traitor to his country. Gilbert Roland plays opposite Miss Bennett.

Many unemployed men in Salem vicinity are refusing to work for less than 50 cents an hour, the CWA scale for common labor, with the result that stumpage owners are unable to obtain workmen to cut up their wood. It was reported here yesterday. The demand for the higher wage may mean an increase in fuel prices next summer and fall, it was said.

A 50 per cent increase in wood cutting wages has been offered without avail. Hundreds of men were hired through the national re-employment agency here last winter to cut wood for $1 a cord but now they balk at $1.50 a cord.

CHURCH AT TOLEDO PAYS OFF BIG DEBT

Dr. Louis Magin, district M. E. superintendent, yesterday forwarded to the Methodist church at Toledo papers which show the payment of a nearly $16,000 debt which the church faced. The church building, used as a community center, and the parsonage faced foreclosure sale. However, at efforts of Dr. Magin and his predecessor, M. A. Marcy, the mortgage holder agreed to settle for $4000 if paid by January 15.

The board of home missions and church extension agreed to loan the church $3000 if an additional $1000 was raised by the Toledo congregation. The Toledo folks raised the necessary sum, and in addition paid off about $800 in local debts. And on January 15 the mortgages were taken up with the $4000. The congregation held a victory banquet recently to celebrate the event, 125 being present.

Rev. and Mrs. Feenstra have been in charge of the pastorate since last summer and the pastor with Dr. Magin did much of the work which resulted in getting local people there to wipe out or scale down the purely local debt from $800 to $242. The balance was raised by subscriptions and entertainments and donations from outside.

Many Boys Being Sent Home; Camp Will Open Soon

An average of three boys and young men transients daily are being sent back to their homes from Salem, according to R. R. "Bob" Boardman, local transient relief supervisor. For those who have no suitable home to return to, a camp is being prepared near Estacada by the transient relief administration. These boys will be given food, clothing, housing, work and recreation.

Boardman predicted that the government order banning free riding on freight trains would within a few weeks clear the railroads of most of the transients.

Griffith to be In Court Today

G. B. Griffith, against whom a larceny complaint was made two years ago by Rose Gwinn, will be given preliminary hearing in justice court this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The hearing has been held up from time to time as result of efforts at a compromise, but now Judge Hayden has called the hearing to clear his records.

Griffith is accused of larceny by ballot of 67 sheep belonging to Rose Gwinn.

Start River Control Unit For Santiam

JEFFERSON, Jan. 16.—A meeting was held Monday night at the Masonic hall to discuss problems of getting the Santiam river control project started. A. R. Mulligan, elected president at a meeting January 9, presided. A committee appointed earlier reported that about 10,000 acres would be affected by the project. An assessment of one-half cent per acre was voted to create a fund for expense of the control association.

The president and secretary, A. P. Ray, together with the investigation committee, Philip Jagelski, Charles Lamb, D. Turnidge, Williams Krebs, John Calahan and Henry Amundson were instructed to circulate a petition, to be presented to the county court for consideration in helping to get CWA funds to start the Santiam river control and reclamation project.

At the first meeting, D. A. Young of Salem told the group the best way to proceed was to get government help, with the CWA the most likely to be feasible now. The following people have already joined the project:

Myron Baker, H. A. McKee, Elmer Chleborad, A. C. Miller, Joe Okrasinski, J. G. Morgan, Verne McTimmons, J. A. Harris, N. F. Gilmour, J. M. Calavan, W. Wiedkerke, John Potts, George Potts, R.
