OLD GRANGE HALL EN ROUTE TO LIMBO

CENTRAL HOWELL, Jan. 18 — The old grange hall on the Central Howell school property which has been a landmark for many years is being torn down. Originally built for a grange hall the list of those interested in the property would include practically all of the names of earlier residents here. The resident estimates that the building has stood for 50 years. After the grange disbanded the hall was used for dances and entertainments, but during the past 10 years it has not been used for any purpose and had merely become an unsightly ramshackle building marring the looks of the school grounds.
