

Local News Briefs

CWA Supplies Granted—CWA Administrator Glenn C. Niles yesterday was notified that $1400 had been released for purchase of materials to be used on Marion county projects during the week ending January 25. He said release of a similar sum next week would permit completion of all projects. Harry L. Hopkins, national administrator, last week ordered that no supplies or materials should be purchased without the state administrator's specific approval. To insure completion of essential projects in this county, Niles has ordered workmen employed on less important jobs to be transferred to the others. None are being laid off; neither are any being hired.

Credit Teams to Gather Tonight; Lion Tamers Lose

Members of the Lions and Lion Tamers' teams in the recent attendance contest of the Retail Credit association will enjoy a party this evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Vinton Scott, 533 Statesman street, near the old people's home. Special guests will be husbands or wives of members.

The Tamers, losers in the contest, are providing the entertainment. Dr. Scott was head of the winning team, and Elva Allison captained the losers. Special program features will include numbers by pupils of Mrs. Marjorie Ratcliffe and Chinese scenes to be shown by Dr. Scott. Other program numbers have been arranged by the committee: June Dunn, Hulda Elfstrom, Mrs. Tom Galloway, Mrs. E. E. King and Genevieve Morgan. In charge of refreshments are May Seely, Hulda V. Liedstrom and Kathryn Carthew.

CORN-HOG PLAN TO BE EXPLAINED HERE

Farmers of Marion county will be given opportunity of learning of the corn-hog reduction program at a meeting to be held at Salem at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, January 27, at the high school auditorium. The corn-hog program will be of interest to a large number of farmers in the county. It provides for a benefit payment to growers who will reduce their hog production 25 per cent during 1934, and corn production 20 per cent as prescribed in the contract with the secretary of agriculture.

This corn-hog reduction program is similar to the wheat reduction plan which has just recently been completed in this section and which provide for Marion county growers in the neighborhood of $30,000 in the form of benefit payments.

All growers who are interested in taking part in this plan are urged to attend this meeting where questions will be answered regarding application of the plan to the farms of the county. H. A. Lindgren, extension specialist of Oregon State college, will be present to describe the provisions of the contract and to answer questions concerning it. Mr. Lindgren assisted with the wheat campaign in Marion county.

Precinct Posts Sought by Many; Democrats Busy

Filings for precinct committee-man of the republican and democratic committees for the county are coming in almost daily at the courthouse. Nearly 100 men and women are to be chosen at the May primaries. Thus far democratic filings have exceeded those of republican candidates. Ordinarily in this county, republican precinct committeemanships are more sought after in Marion county. In former election years there has often been an incomplete ticket for the democratic posts.

Yesterday's filings included the following: B. S. Martin, 1223 South 12th street; democrat; W. A. Rankin, Turner, democrat; R. L. Edwards, 625 South Church street, democrat.

CALIFORNIA STORM DEPICTED BY REED

U. S. Reed, 365 North 26th, has just returned from Los Angeles, where he spent a month with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Webster. While there, he experienced two earth shocks and one flood, but when he left there at 9 o'clock the morning of the 15th, he says men, women and children were to be seen parading in the surf or sitting in the sand holding shades over them.

He says at Glendale the water fell 12 inches in 24 hours, rushing down the high hills or mountains and sweeping on like a mighty monster, destroying lives and property. Montrose and Griffith park sections had the greatest losses.

"D. A. White and family, who are spending the winter in Los Angeles, and I drove about, and saw mud, stones and gravel left in dooryards or streets piled as high as tops of cars. These were loaded into trucks by hundreds of CWA men and power shovels," Reed said, adding:

"California is like an old time saloon, a den of a good place to come out of." He says the nearer he got to the Willamette valley, the better things looked.

LEAGUES ELECT
