

BUTTER CODE GETS GEHLHAR SIGNATURE

No Minimum Price is Set; "Chiseling" Attacked; Cost Must be Had

The butter trade in Oregon will be stabilized, both wholesale and retail, under the new butter code signed and adopted Wednesday by Max Gehlhar, director of agriculture, he announced. Consideration of the code was given last week when creamery-men over the state met here to discuss the proposed agreement.

While no minimum price was set by the code, the feature was elimination of "chiseling," price cutting and all below cost activities punishable by a $500 fine and revocation license, Gehlhar pointed out.

Second State Code Signed
This is the second code adopted under the laws of the state to cooperate with the federal government to promoting the rehabilitation of agriculture, an ice cream code having been adopted last week.

The code, Gehlhar announced, does not set up a creamery operator's or retailer's minimum margin high enough to protect the inefficient operator or which would give the efficient operator an undue profit. The clause providing such a minimum was eliminated by Gehlhar on the ground that it would put a half million dollars extra into the pockets of private creamerymen and retailers with no provision of passing it on to the farmer.

The only price cutting below cost would be allowed ones upon a permit from the butter board for wholesalers, while retailers may do so only by branding the package, "second grade butter." The code further holds that the sale of butter at wholesale by creameries, wholesalers and manufacturers, at a price less than the Portland cube price plus the entire cost of cutting, wrapping, selling and distribution would be prohibited. Manufacturers selling at retail shall add to the same minimum makeup as is required by retailers. A high minimum price for small and ice box deliveries.

$221,000 LEFT BY ALDRICH, BANKER

First Mortgages Backbone of Holdings; Currency Item is Large

L. P. Aldrich, Salem banker who died December 24, left an estate valued at $221,009, according to an appraisal filed in probate court here Wednesday. Of the assets in the estate, $90,000 consisted of real property and $212,009 of personal property.

By far the largest portion of the estate consists of first mortgages on Marion county real estate, some city and some rural, most of the mortgages being made at 6 per cent interest and in relatively large principal amounts.

Cash and currency left in the estate amount to $7420; savings accounts in banks total $99 and checking accounts $38. Life insurance totaled $2500.

Stock Holdings Small
Only four parcels of common stock were listed in the assets of the estate. One was a share of stock in the J. Wolfard & Co. business at Silverton, five shares of stock in the Ladd & Bush bank listed at $600; five shares of stock in the Ladd & Bush Trust company listed at $600; 2500 shares of Monarch Gold and Copper Mines stock of a cost price of $37.50 and appraised as of no value. Liberty bonds had a total appraised value of $712.

Mortgages held by the estate ranged from less than $1000 to one of $45,000 signed by J. O. Hayes and several others.

Real property consisted of the Aldrich home valued at $4000, and of a farm appraised at $5000. The court granted Mrs. Donna W. Aldrich, widow and sole heir,

Grangers' Column

LIBERTY, Jan. 24. — The Red Hills grange met here Tuesday night with 45 members present. Reports on Pomona grange were made by C. Ratcliff, C. H. Taylor and Mrs. W. R. Dallas. Mrs. Dallas was installed as the Station Frank Judd of this grange is a member of the county legislative committee.

A resolution opposing the sales tax was passed with but two favoring votes. Another resolution passed commending Ray Gill for his standing in opposition to the sales tax and pledged him the support of this grange.

$300 a month support money pending administration of the estate which is in the hands of the Ladd & Bush Trust company.

Meier Gives Way; Signs Bonds and Holman Winner

Governor Julius L. Meier, following refusal of State Treasurer Rufus C. Holman to retype two $5,000 bonds as requested by the executive because he thought the type too dim for reading, signed the bonds in their original state. It was learned at the state house Wednesday.

Holman last week criticized the governor for delaying state business because he "didn't like the blackness of the ink used." The bonds were previously signed by Secretary of State Howe who also asked they be retyped in conformity with the view of the governor. Holman refused to have this done. The bonds have now been sent to the parties to whom they were issued by the state highway commission and the World war veterans state aid commission.

Plans were announced for holding a turkey dinner Tuesday, February 6, serving from 6 to 8 o'clock. A good program being planned by Mrs. Dallas. Red Hills officers and members will go to Chemawa Thursday night, local officers to be in charge of a meeting and program. W. C. Hawley is to be speaker.

The evening's program featured neighborhood readings by Mrs. George Heckart and Mrs. Howard Zinser, talk by Victor Ballantyne, P. G. Judd read his newspaper, Red Hills Grange Advertiser.

Best, Pendleton, is First to File Here

James A. Best, member of the lower house of the legislature from the Umatilla county, was the first to file for any political office to be voted upon in the May primaries, the secretary of state announced Wednesday. Best will seek the republican nomination for state senator from Umatilla county, succeeding L. L. Mann whose term expires this year.

McMahan Withdraws — Judge L. H. McMahan yesterday voluntarily disqualified himself to serve as judge in the case of George Sucevich against the Tucker Coffee company. He said he had heard the substantial facts involved stated in a criminal case and had formed an opinion.

Wild Life Takes Fling About Town

SILVERTON, Jan. 24. — "Page Wild Life Lines" was the expression at Silverton early this week. The first "wild life" incident occurred Monday afternoon as C. W. Reed, mailcarrier was making his rounds up South Water street.

Close to the city hall a small owl, measuring but six inches from the tip of the head to the tip of the tail, had caught in its clutches a bird too large for it. The little owl, still holding the bird as large as itself, fell to the pavement and was picked up by Reed, who brought it into the city hall to be admired. The owl seemed unafraid and the other bird flew away unharmed.

Tuesday afternoon a large China pheasant rooster was seen to fly up from the lawn of the old Bock home on West Main street and fly over the Lindholm place and light somewhere in the city park.

McCord in City — Blaine McCord, Woodburn attorney, was in Salem yesterday to transact business here.
