18 S. H. S. PUPILS FORENSIC ENTRIES

Eighteen Salem high school students will be entered in the annual forensic meet at Linfield college in McMinnville February 2 and 3. Shannon Hogue, public speaking teacher and forensics coach, said yesterday.

Four distinct debate teams have been selected to make the trip and are composed of Eunice Hanks, Wallace Sprague, Frances Field, Ted Smith, Robert Hill, Marjorie Trron, Martha Robertson and Billy McReynolds. Dean Ellis and Kenneth Wood, who will represent Salem in the extemporaneous speaking contest, will also serve as alternates on the debate squad.

Joe Baker, third extempore speaker, will also be entered in the oratory and declamation contests, Hogue said. Billy Utely will be Salem's second entry in declamation.

Orators in addition to Baker are Lunelle Chapin, Maurice DeVries, Donald Duffield, Thomas Allport and Lionel Trommlitz.

No limitation has been placed on the number of entries in any one event, from any one high school this year at the Linfield tourney, which is celebrating its first birthday and is seeking patronage, and Hogue is taking students whose work in public speaking classes indicates they may stand a good chance of carrying off some of the honors.

MONETARY THEORIES OUTLINED TO LIONS

The United States monetary situation and theories of the various economic schools as to the best procedure for the government to follow during times of business stress were outlined in detail before members of Salem Lions club at the Gray Belle Thursday noon by Sheldon F. Sackett. The speaker listed the generally acknowledged features of the several schools of thought but neither upheld nor condemned any.

While conservative thinkers believe the government should do nothing, letting deflation take its course, President Roosevelt proposes by definitely artificial means to restore the 1926 level of prices, Sackett stated. At the same time he pointed out that there has been virtually no drop in electrical, telephone and freight rates, little in taxes and none in interest in most cases.

Of the three ways of restoring a former price level, recognition of silver as a monetary base is the least effective for this country, the speaker averred. And in the case of direct inflation of the currency, Sackett declared any extended increase in the value of currency has been found to be disastrous. The third scheme is that contemplated by the president—variable revaluation of the dollar in terms of gold to stabilize the commodity purchasing power of the dollar.

ATTORNEY GENERAL IS NOT IMPEACHED

TOPEKA, Kans., Jan. 25.—(AP)—The Kansas senate court of impeachment acquitted Attorney General Roland Boynton of misdemeanor charges today and then took up the trial of State Auditor Will J. French, also accused of dereliction in office as an outgrowth of the state forged bond scandal.

The senate today overruled by a vote of 32 to 2 motions to quash four articles of impeachment against his decreeing his trial shall be continued.

On only one of the four articles of impeachment on which Boynton was tried was there a majority for conviction. The vote was 22 to 18, or five less than the required two-thirds majority.

"I feel I have been fully vindicated," the attorney general said as he smilingly returned to his office.

The charges against both Boynton and French were brought by the house of representatives in connection with the operations of Ronald Finney, 35-year-old bond broker accused of engineering the million dollar bond swindle. Finney now is under penitentiary sentence for forgery.
