CONTRIBUTION OF CHURCH TO YEAR SERMON SUBJECT
AMITY, Jan. 26.—"Some Contributions the Church Can Make to 1934" is the special evening topic which is now being discussed at the Christian church. These phases of the subject have been applied to the present-day system of life and religion. A series of questions have been presented, among which have been, "Has the Church Failed in 1934?" "Whither Organized Religion?" "Does the Church Deserve to Live?" These questions have promoted much interest among those visiting the service.

Last Sunday night the phase of the subject discussed was, "The Perfect Law." This Sunday night, answers to the question as to how this law can be enforced will be given.

MID-WINTER SERIES FOR FRIENDS OPENS

A mid-winter revival begins on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Rosedale Friends church, seven miles south of Salem. Evangelists Edward F. Harmon and Frederick B. Baker both of Tacoma, are the speakers. Both young men are recorded ministers in the Friends church and have been continuously engaged for the last two years in evangelistic campaigns in Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

They have held meetings in all of the Friends churches in Portland this winter. At Lent's church, in Portland, 30 members were received into the church December 31. The first sermon here is "A Revival at Any Cost."

Other sermons which will be delivered are "The Worth of a Soul," "Unanswered Prayer," "The Deceitfulness of Sin," "The Prayer of a King," "The Devil's Dictionary and Holiness," "A Man and Three Neighbors," "What is Wrong with the Church," and "X-Ray of the Heart." Services will continue each evening, except Monday, until Sunday, February 11.

Milo Clifton Ross, pastor of the Rosedale congregation, announces special music for each evening.

COLLEGIAN COMING

A deputation team from Pacific college will have charge of the Sunday morning 11 o'clock service at the South Salem Friends church. Rev. C. C. Haworth, pastor, reported yesterday.
