different. It comes accompanied by the literature of an organization which is seeking control in our midst. It is a direct attempt at intimidation.

"The court preside over is not my court. It is the court of the people of this state. Following as it does in the wake of attempts at intimidation made and directed at other judges in a recent trial, I feel it is my duty to call it to the attention of the people and the prosecuting attorney.

"There should be no difficulty in tracing the source of this letter," he concluded.

Receipt of the letter came on the third day of the trial in which the estate of the late J. Roy Stewart, film actor and director, seeks damages from the Evans-Pitt on grounds she failed to abide by an agreement to appear in a motion picture, "Clay in the Potter's Hands."

VERNE SANKEY IS FOUND IN CHICAGO

Boettcher, who was abducted from his palatial home in Denver, is found in Chicago, as the man who kidnapped him last February 12.

said he also will request that Sankey be sent here.

The capture ended an international search for Sankey, who with Gordon Alcorn had been sought since Boettcher was returned on payment of $60,000 ransom.

Boettcher was abducted from his palatial home in Denver as he and his wife, Mrs. Anna Lou Boettcher, attractive society leader, drove into their garage on the night of February 12.

DENVER, Jan. 31.—(P)—Charles Boettcher, II, is confident he can identify Verne Sankey, arrested today at Chicago, as the man who kidnapped him last February 12.

"I'd know Sankey anywhere," Boettcher said tonight. "I got a number of good looks at him when I was held captive on his South Dakota ranch. Also when he first approached me the night of the abduction."

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(P)—Joseph Keenan, assistant U. S. attorney general, said tonight the capture of Verne Sankey in Chicago "means the end of the man who is really America's public enemy number one."

"We have him now," said Keenan. "and you can be sure that we'll keep him."

"He's much too important a man to be allowed any chance to escape and we'll find a safe jail for him."

Keenan said he had no comment to make concerning Sankey's connection with the Lindbergh case.

Tax Returns Start Coming in On 1933 Incomes

A much larger and more prompt return to income tax return requests has been noticed this year by the state tax commission than in January, 1933. It was reported yesterday at the statehouse. Fully three times as many reports are in now as a year past. One reason is the greater number of taxpayers under the lower exemptions this year but the tax commission believes that the general public is steadily becoming better educated in income tax paying.

The Portland staff has been busy steadily the past week helping taxpayers make out their reports.

Some Chinese farmers have been at the offices here during the week asking tax auditors to make up a profit and loss statement for their entire business year.

Defendants Win In Damage Suit Burch vs. Pickens

A verdict for the defendants was returned at 8:30 p. m. yesterday by a Marion county jury which heard the damage suit action brought by Nellie L. Burch against Frank Pickens and Pearl Pickens. The plaintiff sought $7700 in damages.

The case occupied three full days in court here and did not go to the jury until after 5 p. m. Wednesday.

The accident which brought the litigation occurred August 14, 1932, three miles west of Mt. Anglin on the "Million Dollar Products Highway." The plaintiff was a passenger with Leroy A. Esson, Pearl Pickens, defendant, was driving the other car, owned by her father and named as joint defendant.

The plaintiff claimed the defendant was grossly negligent. She asserted her specific damages were $100 and her general damages, due to severe injuries received, were $7600.

Hoffert Leads Parrish to Win Over Jefferson

Parrish junior high hoopers took an easy victory from the high school outfit of Jefferson last night on the Parrish floor, showing their superiority in the 29 to 15 score. Improved checking and shooting marked the local game with Captain Pete Hoffert out-twinkling the rest of his constellation to score 13 points for Parrish.

Lineups:

Jefferson: Marcum 4, Skopil 8, Gatchell 1, Wright 3, Mangis 2, Harris 2, Referee, Howard Maple.

Saturday only — Pat O'Brien in "The Final Edition" — midnight preview, first run of Charles Laughton in "The Private Life of Henry VIII".

Carveth Wells, author and explorer, discovered many unique things in his tour through Russia and the near east in filming his "Russia Today" which opens at the State theatre Thursday. Visiting monasteries in Armenia he found cherished relics—a piece of Noah's ark, a spear reputed to be the one used to pierce Jesus on the cross. He encountered the strange tribe of Khevsurs, said to be descendants of crusaders, and still wearing armor of their ancestors in the days of Richard the Lion-hearted.

The film itself was said to have been censored by the Russian government; but the dialogue which accompanied, was not. Prevailing interest in the Russian experiment has made the Carveth Wells picture of special importance at this time.

These certificates bear on their face the wording:

"This is to certify that there is on deposit in the treasury of the United States . . . dollars in gold, payable to bearer on demand as authorized by law."

"They also will carry the standard legal tender clause, which is as follows:

"This certificate is a legal tender in the amount thereof in payment of all debts and dues public and private."

"The new gold certificates will be of the same size as other currency in circulation and the only difference, other than the change in wording noted above, is that the backs of the new certificates will as usual be done, be printed in yellow ink. The certificates will be in denominations up to $100,000.

"In his proclamation of today, the president gives notice that he reserves the right, by virtue of the authority vested in him, to alter or modify the present proclamation as the interest of the United States may seem to require. The authority by later proclamations to accomplish other regulations of the dollar in terms of gold is contained in the gold reserve act signed on Tuesday.

"The secretary of the treasury, with the approval of the president, issued a public announcement that beginning February 1, 1934, he will buy through the Federal Reserve bank of New York as fiscal agent, for the account of the United States, any and all gold delivered to any United States mints or the assay offices in New York or Seattle, at the rate of $35.00 per fine Troy ounce, less the usual mint charges and less one fourth of one per cent for handling charges. Purchases, however, are subject to compliance with the regulations issued under the gold reserve act of 1934.

"The secretary of the treasury today promulgated new regulations with respect to the purchase and sale of gold by the mints. Under these regulations the mints are authorized to purchase gold recovered from national deposits in the United States or any place subject to its jurisdiction, unmelting scrap gold, gold imported into the United States after January 30, 1934, and such other gold as may be authorized from time to time by rulings of the secretary of the treasury. No gold, however, may be purchased which has been held in non-compliance with previous acts or orders, or non-compliance with the gold reserve act of 1934, or these regulations. Affidavits as to the source from which the gold was obtained are required, except in the case of nuggets or dust of less than five ounces, where a statement under oath will suffice. In the case of imported gold, the mints may purchase only that which has been in customs custody after its arrival in the United States.

"The price to be paid for gold purchased by the mints is to be $35.00 per Troy ounce of fine gold, less 3/4 of 1 per cent and less mint charges. This price may be changed by the secretary of the treasury at any time without notice.

PROTEST SHOWING OF NAZI PICTURE

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 31.—(P)—17 demonstrators carrying "down with Hitler" signs, were arrested here tonight in a demonstration of protest against showing of a film depicting the Nazi triumph over communism in Germany.

Uniformed policemen and plainclothes men patrolled the street until nearly 500 demonstrators disbanded. Outlying prowl car officers were called by radio to aid in policing the crowd.

The protest was made against the film entitled "S. A. Mann Brand," being shown tonight for the first time in the United States. J. R. Ellison, manager of the theatre where the picture was playing, described it as a German propaganda film.

Those arrested on charges of carrying improper banners were: Alford M. Cloud, 39, logger; Earl Steward, 26, farmer; Ingolf Carlson, 47, laborer; John Webber, 47, laborer. Bail of $25 each was not immediately raised and the five were placed in jail.

Yesterday the Portland Communist organization protested to Governor Julius L. Meier against the picture being shown. It was announced then that a demonstration would be held.

A youth named Bill Myers led the protesters tonight and announced they would picket the theatre each night until the film was stopped.

MRS. C. B. MOORES CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Charles B. Moores, Oregon pioneer and for many years a resident of Salem, died in Portland last night. She was a member of the First Methodist church here and a graduate of Willamette university with the class of 1873. As a three-year-old child, Sarah Chamberlin was brought to Oregon by her parents, coming by boat around the horn. Her husband, also of a prominent pioneer family, preceded her in death by four years.

For the past ten years she had been in ill health and more recently had suffered a number of severe heart attacks. Surviving Mrs. Moores are, one daughter, Mrs. A. S. Wells of Salem; sons, Chester A. and Merrill B. Moores of Portland and Gordon C. Moores of San Francisco; sisters, Mrs. Charles Weller of Salem, Miss Ellen Chamberlin, Mrs. Olive Belt and Mrs. James L. Schultz of Portland.

Funeral arrangements were not announced last night.

Fletcher Files, Klamath Judge

D. E. Fletcher of Klamath Falls has filed his declaration of candidacy for the office of circuit judge of Klamath county. He would succeed W. M. Duncan, incumbent.

Fletcher previously practiced law at Independence, Polk county, and served one term as a member of the lower house of the state legislature.

SPAUDLING PLANS TO RUN FOR SENATE

While not ready to make a final announcement of plans Senator C. K. Spaulding intends to seek election to succeed himself in the state senate from Marion county, he advised The Statesman last night.

Senator Spaulding was appointed by the governor to serve the term of the late Lloyd Reynolds who died between the election and the session of the legislature in 1931.

After the 1931 session Senator Spaulding was appointed a member of the state highway commission. His tenure there was a stormy one, marked by frequent clashes with J. C. Alsworth of Portland and Bill Hanley of Burns, fellow members, which was finally relieved by appointment of an entirely new commission. Since this breach with Governor Meier, Senator Spaulding has been "off the reservation" so far as supporting the state administration is concerned.

Senator Spaulding was frequently mentioned among the possible anti-Meier candidates for governor; but his colleague in the senate, Sam Brown, stepped out with his announcement. As both are from the same county, have teamed rather closely in legislation, and have a similar appeal, Brown's action sort of boxed Spaulding "at the pole."

One other candidate is already announced for the senate, Mayor Douglas McKay. The race is a free-for-all. Candidates do not stand for particular seats, the two highest winning the nomination.
