

PACIFIC RALLY WINS 32 TO 26

Willamette Loses for Second Time to Badgers; Play Proves Exciting

Adopting the policy "don't shoot until you see the whites of their eyes," Pacific university's hoopers made it two in a row over the 1933 Northwest conference champions of Willamette here Wednesday night, winning 32 to 26, after Willamette had held a 14 to 10 lead at half time and increased that to 18 to 10 before the Badgers got going in the second half.

Douglas, a sharpshooting forward who failed to score in the first half, then looped five field goals from afar in rapid succession, was the leading performer in the Badgers' inspired rally, though the fact that he was not closely guarded had something to do with the case.

The Bearcats really looked as though they were beginning to elick throughout a part of the first half and especially at the opening of the second. Bill Lemmon exhibited more speed and cleverness than in any preceding game, both in scoring himself and in setting up plays for teammates.

As the Cornell-coached team got under way in the second half Willamette's defense seemed to break apart, and a frantic effort to score that started too soon and became totally uncoordinated at the close as numerous substitutes raced onto the court, made the Bearcats look extremely ragged.

For a time in the second half the score was tied on every other basket and the game was one of the most exciting of the year, despite the disappointing outcome from the standpoint of Willamette rooters and Salem fans.

New Yale Mentor

The popular hero of the 1923 and 1924 Yale football teams, Raymond "Ducky" Pond will be in the trenches with Old Eli in the 1934 season as head coach. Ducky is the hero who "swam for a touchdown" in a sea of mud at the Harvard Stadium in 1923 to win for Yale.

YALE MAKES POND COACH OF VARSITY

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Standing pat on its traditional policy of graduate coaching Yale elevated Raymond "Ducky" Pond tonight from junior varsity coach to head coach of Yale varsity football.

To aid the man who made gridiron history for Yale in the mud battles of 1923 and 1924 against Harvard, three "outsiders" were called: Earle "Greasy" Neale of West Virginia, backfield coach; Denny E. Myers of West Virginia, line coach; Ivan B. Williamson of Michigan, end coach.

The appointments were made tonight by the board of athletic control, on the recommendation of Malcolm Farmer, chairman of athletics, after a controversy involving graduates and undergraduates since the close of last season.

CURTISS DROPS MICKEY M'GUIRE

Crawley Takes Semi-Wind-up on Foul From Logger Heibert

Mickey McGuire, popular West Salem grappler, missed a Sonnenberg at the armory last night and was dropped for the deciding fall of a three round match by Jack Curtiss, of New Mexico, in the windup bout of the weekly mat card. The bout was one of the most pleasing staged here in the last several weeks.

Both grapplers, wrestling cleanly throughout the bout, gave the fans plenty of action, working from one spectacular hold to another. McGuire won the first toss with the Indian death grip, his favorite hold, in 27:10 but lost the next two falls when Curtiss applied the fix. Curtiss took the second fall in 11:30 and the deciding fall in 4:55.

The card last night, included four bouts, the first two, decided over the one fall round. Art Perkins, recent arrival from Detroit, toppled Clem Kuskic, of Tacoma in 9:05 with a body slam, in the opener. Don Sugal, local wrestler, defeated George Gable, of Cincinnati, in 9:23 with a leg split.

The semi-windup, was two bouts in one. Logger Heibert of St. Helens, tangle with Stan Crawley, of Boston, dropped a double decision after the third and final fall of the match had been decided. Heibert took the first fall with a P-V special in

TRICKY TEACHERS TO PLAY M. C. 5

MONMOUTH, Jan. 31.—The Multnomah club hoopers of Portland, a quintet composed largely of former Portland high school stars, will meet the Oregon Normal school squad in Monmouth Thursday night. Coach Wolfe and his Tricky Teachers are home from a three-game invasion of eastern Oregon and Idaho, where they collected victories from the College of Idaho at Caldwell and two tilts from eastern Oregon Normal.

Multnomah club is recognized as one of the strongest independent teams in the state, so local fans are anticipating a good game.

The Wolves have played seven games to date winning all but one except their second encounter with the Bearcats of Willamette when they lost a one-point margin in an overtime period on the Independence high school gym floor January 17.

VINES WELCOMED AS PROFESSIONAL

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Back home, but no longer "broke," is Ellsworth Vines, Jr., by profession a tennis player. Gone is his fear of being termed a "tennis bum," a fear that haunted him for several years while his mother worked in a department store. Greatly improved is his game, a game that lifted him to the world's amateur championship.

Pasadena officially extended him the key to the city, showered praise on his performance as a member of a traveling tennis troupe, and wished him continued success in his new venture. The welcome smacked of the enthusiasm that accompanied his return with the Wimbledon and national crowns in 1932.

With all the feasting and hand-shaking and a third "business appointment" in as many nights with the one and only Bill Tilden, this time at Long Beach, Vines found time to discuss his vocation.

"It's great," he beamed in boyish enthusiasm. "My only regret is that I didn't get into professional tennis sooner."

"But it isn't as easy as I had expected. In fact, it's mighty hard work. That endurance grind Tilden and I put on in Los Angeles the other night tired me out completely. I could hardly raise my right hand after it was all over, and I guess Bill didn't feel exactly refreshed."

Vines says that in spite of the physical tax he is playing better tennis.

"What I like about it is that

CORVALLIS MEETS SALEM TONIGHT

Bothered no longer by the strain of having to maintain an undefeated record, the Salem high school basketball team will engage Corvallis high tonight on the home floor. Corvallis despite the loss of many veterans from the strong district champion 1933 team, has been making a good record this season, demonstrating the ability of Coach "Mush" Torsion to develop players when he needs them.

Corvallis defeated Astoria high recently and though it lost to Tillamook at the coast last week, outscored the Cheesemakers considerably in field goals, losing out in foul conversions.

In the past Corvallis has always been a thorn in Salem's flesh, particularly because it uses the same system and always knows just what Salem is attempting to do. Last year Corvallis won on its home floor and in the state tournament the year previous, a green Corvallis team took an enormous first half lead on Salem, then lost out.

KEYPI HELPS DRUB SALEM RAMBLERS

Two field goals by Keypi, forward, in the last few seconds of play last night gave Perrydale a 29 to 27 victory over the Salem Ramblers on the Perrydale floor. Keypi was the high point man of the contest, scoring 10 points for Perrydale.

Rickreall Girls Take Monmouth Team, 16 to 14

MONMOUTH, Jan. 31.—In a return engagement at Monmouth last night the local high school girls' basketball team was defeated by Rickreall high girls, score 16 to 14. The game was close and its outcome doubtful as Monmouth ran up a score of 6 to 1 in the first quarter and the lead slipped back and forth between the contenders until the final whistle. C. Wilson of Monmouth was referee.

The girls' and boys' teams of Monmouth high school will go to Independence Friday night to play return games there. The boys' game is the third conference encounter this season for Monmouth. They have lost to Dallas and won from Independence.

Aumsville Boys Defeat Silverton

AUMSVILLE, Jan. 31.—The Aumsville boys' basketball team was victorious in a game played here Tuesday night with the Silverton Cubs by a score of 30 to 16.
