of the country, including practically all industries."

With Frank C. Walker, national director of the emergency council, at his side, Mr. Roosevelt stressed to the directors the necessity for keeping the campaign free from the selfish and those who would use it for political purposes.

"Where we have fallen down these past months I would say in about 90 per cent of the cases," he observed, "the falling down has been caused quite frankly by individuals who tried to get either personal or political credit out of something that ought not to have either of those factors in the work in any shape, manner or form."

"This work has nothing to do with partisan politics—nothing at all," he added. "A great many of you are republicans, a good many are democrats—quite a number do not belong regularly to one party or the other. We are not the least bit interested in the partisan side of this picture."

PLOT TO DISFIGURE MAE WEST HINTED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Vague rumors of a plot to disfigure with caustic acid the attractive face of Mae West reached the ears of detectives tonight while a superior court jury undertook to determine the fate of Edward Friedman, accused of robbing the movie actress of $20,000 in jewels and cash.

The report that "underworld mobmen" might attempt to hurl acid into Miss West's face, thereby wreaking revenge on her for her testimony during the Friedman trial was received by Detectives Jack Chiss and Jack Southard.

They said the report came from a Hollywood film studio. Although the actress has been well guarded during the progress of the robbery trial, Chiss and Southard said they had posted additional men about her apartment home pending the conclusion of the case.

Detectives attributed the "acid plot" to Chicagoans, known to have arrived in Los Angeles soon after the Friedman trial started.

bats were predicting winter was over anyway.

E. C. Miller of Henderson Bay said thousands of geese passed overhead near Tacoma, on the way to Alaska, and that further three bats came out, and it's well known that bats prefer chimneys—hot ones, when the cold winds howl.

Indian legends say it is extremely lucky to catch a rock thrown by the thunderbird, that mythological creature northwest of the city, but no rocks were reported to day, and though the skies generally were overcast, it didn't even thunder, so local believers inclined to the belief that the bird had frightened the woodchucks, just as the legend said.

There doesn't seem to be any

DEFAULTER NATIONS ARE DENIED CREDIT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Eighteen foreign governments wholly or partly in default on their war and post-war debts to the United States learned from senate action today that they must pay up or go without future private credit from this country.

Without a roll call and after only brief discussion, the bill of Senator Johnson, (R., Calif.), prohibiting new financial dealings with the defaulters, was re-passed and sent to the house. Amendments making the measure satisfactory to the administration were approved.

House sentiment was described by democratic leaders as equal to the senate's in favor of the retaliatory proposal.

Russia owes the United States, as of January 1, $337,000,000, representing borrowings during the war by the czaristic and Kerensky governments.

As passed in amended form, the bill fixes a maximum penalty of $10,000 and five years' imprisonment for any person or private corporation who buys or sells any new issues of securities of defaulting countries or lends money to them or their political subdivisions.

Ornithologist Takes Own Life

TACOMA, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Widely known throughout the Pacific northwest as an ornithologist, J. Hooper Bowles, 59, took his own life by shooting here today. Friends blamed the act on nervous breakdown brought on by sleeplessness due to the incessant noise of pumps which the city had kept running near his apartment during the recent floods to carry off excess water.

GUNMEN GET AWAY IN STREET BATTLE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Three carloads of gunmen whom officers sought to question about the $24,000 robbery of the First National bank of Coleman staged a fight with Texas rangers on the streets of Blanco tonight, eluded pursuers and later disappeared between Johnson City and Dripping Springs.

Ranger Captain James Robbins and two men met the caravan while driving from Blanco to Johnson City. The officers turned back and followed the cars into Blanco, where they headed them and opened fire with machine guns on the main street. The bandits wheeled around and, in a hail of bullets, sped toward Johnson City, outdistancing the officers.

A woman driving a coupe which answered the description of one of the bandit cars was picked up at Cedar valley and taken to Austin by rangers for identification and questioning.
