Beavers Break Huskies' Winning Streak; Prevail 25-21 Bearcats Grab Lead, Keep Ahead of Albany Hoopsters to Win 26-19

Edmundson's Sharpshooters Get One Field Goal in First Ten Minutes

COR"ALLIS, Ore., Feb. 2.-(AP) -With a sensational defense the Oregon State basketball team tonight halted University of Washington's string of conference victories, winning 25 to 21.

The Huskies were caught flatfooted and held to one field goal the first 10 minutes of play. At half-time Oregon State led 13 to 5 and at the outset of the second half boosted their lead with two more field goals.

Then Galer, who had been held scoreless to that point, scored eight points before the Beavers patched their defense and protected their lead the remainder of the game.

The victory left the defending coast champions still in the race for north division honors, but Washington is still far in the lead with eight wins and a single loss. Oregon State has won five and lost four.

Captain Skeet O'Connell came out of his recent slump to tie Galer for high scoring honors with nine points. Folen, the Beavers' sophomore center, dominated the tipoff.

It was a thrilling defensive battle. Oregon State formed a formidable defensive mire, while Washington specialized in taking the ball away from the Beavers. In the first half the Huskies missed many easy shots.

The two teams meet here again tomorrow night. The Staters are still in second place, but another win appears to be their only hope of remaining in the championship running.

TITHICH of two Bearcat basketball teams - a smoothworking one that snaps the ball around with remarkable precision but can't seem to get it in position to score, and a rough and ready outfit with little finesse but a knack for scoring somehow-really is the best team, was the main question as the Willamette hoopsters kept ahead of Albany -college's quintet and chalked up a 26 to 19 victory Friday night. The statistics are hardly indicative, because the two outfits didn't play the same length of time and they were mixed up a trifle toward the end; but the starting Bearcats scored five field goals, three of them at long range by Hartley; and the four men who replaced all of the regulars except Hartley, scored four field goals. These questions persist. The Indian population of this country had begun to show an increase in 1910, and it persisted in 1920 and 1930, as shown by the census figures; though, at least in the last named count, the rules followed were rather broad. That is, many thousands were included who had a large mixture of other blood. One of the rules was to include any person who in his commun-ity was classed or considered as ity was chi an Indian.

As just said, Indian questions persist. That department at Washington, under the present administration, has notions that, if carried forward, will tend to give it long life, rather than, as formerly, to lead to the complete absorption of that race with the dominant one. The head of that department desires that tribal ad-
