Dogs Get Licenses—Licenses for 270 "county" dogs and for 54 "city" dogs have thus far been issued at the courthouse. Eighty per cent of the gross receipts for city dogs goes to the local municipality; all of the county dog revenues go to the fund to reimburse farmers for sheep killed in this county. Two dollars for females and $1 for males is the rate prevailing until March 1. After that a $1 penalty is added for the payment of each dog's license. All dogs over eight months old must be licensed.

Clinics Listed—Four clinics are scheduled for this week by the Marion county health department as follows: Tuesday afternoon, preschool clinic at Silverton conducted by Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, county health officer. Wednesday afternoon, school and chest clinic at Salem health center, by Dr. Douglas. Thursday morning, preschool clinic at Salem health center, by Dr. J. E. Backstrand; Saturday morning, regular immunization clinic at Salem health center.

The Veterinarian Cleaners wish to announce they have moved their business from 691 N. High to 230 N. Liberty. Phone 6982.

Child Clinic Postponed—Illness of two of Dr. Henry Dixon's assistants has forced postponement of the child guidance clinic which the Portland pediatricist has scheduled to conduct at Washington school here Monday. It is now planned to hold the clinic February 19. Purpose of the clinic will be to assist parents whose children present problems requiring special attention. Registrations for the clinic have far exceeded the number that can be accommodated.

Legion Profit $425—Management of the wrestling matches here has to date netted Capital Post No. 9, American Legion, $425 as its share of the profits, according to Adjutant William Bliven. The post has paid all of its local obligations and hereafter requests business men to demand a requisition in proper form before turning over merchandise of any sort to any person claiming to represent the legion.

Wanted, furniture, phone 5110.

On Crutches Six Weeks—Mrs. Cora Reid, deputy county school superintendent, will have to be absent on crutches for six weeks, she was advised by physicians yesterday. Mrs. Reid injured her left ankle in a tumble on the courthouse steps about ten days ago but at first did not realize the seriousness of her injury. She is hopeful she can be back at her desk Monday.

To Map Accidents—All traffic accidents in Oregon are to be listed by counties and plotted on large cork-covered maps. William Hammond, in charge of the operators division of the state motor vehicle division, declared yesterday. Hammond said this action would make it possible to determine danger spots and give valuable information to the highway commission.

Small Girl Hit—A four year old girl named Lonedia was struck but not seriously injured by an automobile driven by H. A. Pennington on North Commercial street, according to Penny's report to police. He stated her injuries consisted of bruises. Her address was given as 1595 North Commercial.

Shoplifting Investigated—City police took H. W. Bergstrom of Oregon City into custody here yesterday and held him for investigation. Police records show he was suspected of larceny. Officers stated they believed silk stockings and neckties found in Bergstrom's possession may have been "lifted" from local shops.

Seek Wittenmyer Here—Jack Allingham, Seattle detective, stopped here Friday night en route to California in search of George C. Wittenmyer, a missing King county treasurer, whose books were said to show a shortage of $31,000. Allingham conferred with state police but refused to make any statement to newspapermen.

Just received, another shipment of the new wonder set, the Westone radio, some with short-wave, at $14.95 to $19.95. Eoff Electric, Inc., 247 Court.

Phone Cases Slatel—Hearing involving the rural and farm lines of the Interurban Telephone company has been set for March 6 at Silverton, Charles M. Thomas, state utility commissioner, announced yesterday. The present rates were established by the old state railroad commission in 1920. Investigation of the rates was requested by the Waldo Hills community club, Brush Creek Booster club and a number of other organizations which are served by the utility.

The Pine Tree Tavern for rent, five miles from town, all furnished and equipped ready for business. Open for inspection Sunday, 10 to 4.

Hamilton Service Attended—Chief Justice Rand of the state supreme court, accompanied by Arthur Benson and Bryan Goodenough, bailiff, spent yesterday at Roseburg where they attended memorial services for the late Judge J. W. Hamilton of the Douglas county circuit court. Judge Hamilton died several months ago. He was the oldest circuit judge in Oregon, with relation to length of service, at the time of his death.

Assets Taken Over—Assets of the National Life Insurance company which recently was taken over by a receiver, have been acquired by the Hercules Insurance company of Chicago and reorganization is now in progress. A. H. Averill, state insurance commissioner, was advised yesterday. The records show that the National Life Insurance company had approximately 3600 policy holders in Oregon on January 1, 1933.

Fuels Tax Gains—Fuels tax receipts in Oregon showed an increase each month during the last half of the year 1933 when compared with the returns for the corresponding months in 1932, according to a tabulation released at the state department here yesterday. The increase in the fuels tax was attributed to the operation of more motor vehicles under the flat $5 annual license fee.

BUTTER MAKERS TRY TO "CHISEL" STATED

Gehlhar Denounces Private Interests; Extra 2c Spread Asked

Sixty organized private butter manufacturers whom Gehlhar, state director of agriculture, accused of attempting to "chisel" a two cent per pound additional spread for their product, were denounced as unfair and unreasonable in a lengthy statement issued by Gehlhar Saturday. Gehlhar declared that he had refused to grant these manufacturers a two cent per pound additional spread.

"Such a spread would amount to more than $250,000 a year," Gehlhar declared, "and would delve further into the farmer's dollar." Gehlhar said the request for the additional two cents per pound made to H. A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, was tabled indefinitely.

"The farmers' cannot become more prosperous through this type of farm relief which increases the spread between the producer and consumer," Gehlhar continued. "I refused point blank to give the private butter interests in Oregon a quarter of a million dollars a year of the other fellow's money despite that I was clothed with authority to do so. I make this statement in the face of an open threat that I would lose my job unless I signed on the dotted line."

"To compel signature of this code without modification an organized group of private butter interests, one of whom is flying the cooperative flag, have launched a most insidious lobby to coerce me into selling out the dairymen of Oregon. I have taken my stand with the farmers of Oregon who are fighting with their backs to the wall to prevent any further spread in the middlemen's share of the consumer's dollar. The farmer is now receiving only a small slice of this dollar."

Hearings Announced—Hearing of the application of Leonard Wilder of Portland, who desires to operate as a contract hauler under the state transportation act, has been set for February 8 in Salem, Charles M. Thomas, state utility commissioner, announced yesterday. Another hearing, involving the rates and charges of Elmer Landers of Roseburg, a contract carrier, will be held in Salem February 13.

Can't Use Statehouse—Marion county will not be allowed to use the senate chamber and hall of representative in the statehouse for circuit court sessions while the courthouse is being remodeled, state department officials announced yesterday. Quarters may be obtained in the postoffice building, members of the county court said, for the office of Harry Riches, emergency county agent.

Building Gains—A small gain in building operations here last week was indicated by the six permits issued by the city building inspector. The permits, all for repairs and alterations, had a total value of $1010, or $405 over the previous week's total. Last week's total slightly exceeded the weekly average throughout January.

Dairymple Files—A. M. Dairymple, in charge of the tax collection department of the sheriff's office, filed yesterday for reelection as committeeman in the 15th precinct in the county. As a slogan, Dairymple wrote: "I will fulfill the duties and requirements of the office." He lives at 735 North Commercial street.

Johnson to Portland—Stuart Johnson will spend Monday in Portland at the all-day sales congress of the Sun Life Assurance company of Canada. He is representing Salem at a banquet Monday night in the Portland hotel for sales managers and invited representatives.

Fuel Code Ready—Claude McKenny, president of the Salem Retail Fuel Dealers' association, yesterday received a telegram from Washington, D. C., stating that the retail solid fuel dealers' code was in the hands of the president but had not yet been approved.

Drunkness Charged—City police last night reported arresting Erwin Plank, Salem, on a charge of being drunk. Plank recently was arrested on the same count.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Elmer Rierson and Mrs. Emmett A. Dickson were joint hostesses for a charming post-nuptial gift shower at the Dickson home Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Merle Phillips, a recent bride and a sister-in-law of the hostesses was complimented. Mrs. Phillips was Miss Ida May Lyons and her marriage was an event of mid-December at Kelso, Wn.

Games, stunts and the opening of the beautiful gift shower of miscellaneous packages and showing of the lovely presents together with a social hour preceded the serving of appropriate dainty refreshments by the matrons.

Those honoring Mrs. Phillips included Mesdames Darrel T. Bradford, J. I. Miller, Guy C. Newcomb, J. R. Bedford, J. A. Gosser, Harry Casbeer, Wm. L. LaDue, F. M. Moore, Edith Wurm, Edwin Brock, Garnet Smith, Arthur Akers, Rex Swigart, Phil Hathaway, George Lathrop, A. T. Kelso, Frank P. Wells, L. T. Wallace, J. I. Thomas, Arthur Hathaway, W. D. Phillips, Wm. Sexton, Martha Rierson, Oscar Phillips, D. H. Gilliland, James M. Fisher, Emil Seiffert, and the Misses Charlotte L. Dues, Ruth Thomas and Lottie McAdams and the hostesses.

A double culvert will be placed across Piedmont avenue at a depth of 6 1/2 feet where the large drainage ditch passes and it is possible that one or two lateral smaller ditches may be dug from the swampy area on the Earle Patton property between 6th street and the Terrace. Already the entire region is better drained than it has ever been before and the crew said yesterday the committee would not put its own ticket in the field but would wait for candidates to announce themselves. Martin said he was certain a full ticket would be out for all city and county offices. John Marshall of Swegle is county chairman.

'Duck' Used in No Trumps
By MRS. WILLIAM H. QUINN
Culbertson Associate

Use of the "duck" in establishing a long suit in no trump, is demonstrated in the play of Board No. 17 which appeared in the recent Statesman contract bridge tournament. The board is as follows:

North	AKQ	AKQ	AKQ	AKQ
West	Jxxxx	AJx	Q10x
East
South	xxx	xxx	AKxxx

Declaration: 3 no trump by North.

The duck is one of the most important principles of no trump play. To duck is to refuse to take the first trick with a high card in order to establish a suit. We use the duck when a hand lacks re-entries and the small cards in a long suit are necessary to fulfill the contract. Board No. 17 is a typical duck situation. North needs the long suit tricks in clubs to make his nine tricks.

Opening lead, jack of spades. I am sure every East opened the spade suit by leading the jack. North covers the spade and plans the play. His longest and strongest suit is clubs, so he starts immediately to establish the club suit. He leads a club and ducks the first trick in dummy. When he gets in again he makes the four club tricks.
