PETITIONS REQUEST NEW BOOZE CONTROL

2 Initiative Measures Seek to Put Counties and Cities in Charge

Two initiative petitions which, if approved by the electorate, impliedly would repeal the Knox liquor control law enacted at the last legislative session, were filed in the state department Friday. The measure would vest the exclusive power to regulate or prohibit the sale of liquor in cities and towns while regulation in the territory outside of incorporated towns and cities would be imposed in the state or legislature.

The other measure would give to counties powers similar to those proposed for towns and cities.

Public Drinks Banned
Both measures provide that liquor containing more than 14 per cent alcoholic content by weight shall be sold only by licensed dealers in original packages and shall not be consumed on the premises.

Twenty-five per cent of the gross receipts would go into an indigent fund, to be administered by the county court or county board of commissioners. The money would be used for mothers' pensions, old age pensions and direct relief for the poor. Penalties for violation of the act by dispensers include fines up to $500 or cancellation of license.

The plan proposed in the amendments was said to be similar to that advocated during the last legislature by Senators Upton of Bend and Goss of Marshfield.

The petitions were filed by A. C. Buckman, 3043 southeast 17th avenue, Portland.

In case the completed petitions are filed in the state department by July 5 the initiative measures will go on the ballot at the November election.

The law provides that each of the petitions shall contain in excess of 26,600 signatures.

T. B. ASSOCIATION TO CONVENE HERE

The annual convention of the Oregon Tuberculosis association will be held in Salem February 27 and 28 at the chamber of commerce auditorium. Mrs. Saldie Orr, Dunbar, secretary, stated while here yesterday to confer with health officials and leaders relative to the program. About 50 workers are expected to attend, or about half the number working usually at the annual sessions heretofore held in Portland. The annual program will include a session for the medical profession, a dinner and workers' and laymen's sessions.

Mrs. Dunbar and H. A. Chamber, went to Monmouth to attend a joint meeting with the American Legion last night to confer there upon a tuberculosis project which the Legion post there is proposing for Polk county. From Monmouth, Mrs. Dunbar goes on to Albany to confer with health groups there.

Case Dismissed—Case of the state highway commission against Aurora Lodge 127 I. O. O. F. was dropped in circuit court Friday, the parties having made a settlement out of court. Involved in the litigation were rights to certain property sought by the state for a road.

Seek License—One marriage license application was filed in the county clerk's office here Friday. Emil V. Marx, 24, 1053 North Front street, a farmer, asked permission to marry Vera Smith, 20, 435 Division street, a stenographer.

Exhibit Closing—The exhibit of paintings by a group of Oregon artists which has brought much favorable comment during its showing at the city Y. W. C. A. the past three weeks is to be removed this afternoon. It will be open to the public, however, this morning from 9 to 12.

Ellis Back Today—William P. Ellis, rate counsel, is expected home today from Washington, where he has been for several weeks to present a rate case to the interstate commerce commission.

Raffia Class Today—Seventh grade Parish Girl Reserves will meet at 11 o'clock this morning at the Y. W. C. A. for their second class in raffia embroidery.

Cherrian Dinner Thursday—Because of a conflicting date, the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Cherrians has been postponed from Wednesday to Thursday night by King Bing George Arbuckle.

Extradition Granted—Governor Meier Friday authorized the extradition of Dick Smith, who is wanted at Sacramento, Calif., on a charge of forgery. Smith is under arrest at Medford.

Case Dropped—Suit of O. M. Baker against T. A. Quilhot and Ladd & Bush was ordered dropped in circuit court here Friday. The matter was settled out of court.

Sales Increase—Sales of the J. C. Penney stores throughout the nation show a 43 per cent increase in January, 1934, over January, 1933. It was reported locally yesterday.

Fire Calls—Burning grease in an oven was the cause of a fire scare which called members of the fire department to the Adkins residence, 365 North Church street yesterday morning.

ADVERTISING TIPS GIVEN BY WILKINS

Declaring himself a "boleshevik" in the field of advertising, President Mac Wilkins of the firm of Mac Wilkins and Cole, Portland, brought a forceful message to the Salem Advertising club Friday noon. Wilkins said a decade of experience had convinced him there was no universal advertising formula for each business to use and that in all cases related business problems were as important to success as the advertising problem itself.

Wilkins said a business without competent executive leadership would not succeed, with or without advertising. He stressed the need of a good sales campaign and of proper merchandising as conditions precedent to advertising. He said a worthy product was a necessary prerequisite to advertising which he placed as the fifth factor in a manufacturer's and a distributor's success.

"Don't advertise what you see in your product. Study the consumer. Find out what he is interested in. Then advertise a close relationship, telling him only the things he is interested in learning," Wilkins cautioned.

The speaker has recently been named chairman of the hospital committee of the Portland Advertising club which is to be held late this spring to the Pacific Coast Association of Advertising clubs.

PENSION LIST WILL BE SMALLER, BELIEF

The extended task of receiving applications for old-age pension in Marion county is nearing a close, according to a report from the pension board working yesterday on applicants whose names begin with "V" and "W". Nearly 400 applications have been filled out, a considerably smaller number than the original estimate of the court. At the time of the legislative session, Marion county's quota of pensioners was estimated at 911.

Inability of applicants to qualify because they have not been naturalized or because they have not lived a sufficiently long time in the county has greatly reduced the applicant list.

Investigators are busy checking the circumstances of each applicant. Some time next week the pension board is expected to begin its job of determining how much monthly pension shall go to each person seeking such county help.

Turner Man is Hurt When Car And Bus Crash

William Jones of Turner suffered cuts about the face as the result of a collision at Commercial and Mill streets Thursday between an auto driven by Margaret Feller of Turner and a city bus driven by P. R. Robertson, 265 North Fourth street, according to Robertson's report to city police.

Den W. Tucker, 457 South Commercial, reported another accident involving his car and one operated by Warren Hunt, 343 Marion, at Center and Liberty streets in which there were no injuries.

Revoke Penalties Explained

By MRS. WILLIAM H. QUINN

Culbertson Associate

The revoke penalty is the same in rubber bridge as in duplicate and causes much unhappiness. There is nothing so upsetting as to have to pay the revoke penalty.

A revoke is (1) failure to follow suit when able to do so, also (2) failure to lead as required by a penalty. The reason one feels so gully when he has an "established" revoke penalty is the fact that one established his own revoke. The revoke may be corrected as long as neither the offender nor his partner leads or plays to the following trick. Nothing that the opponents do affects the establishment of the revoke. A partnership has only itself to blame if a revoke becomes established. The penalty for an established revoke is much more severe than the penalty for a "corrected" revoke, so we make a great effort to turn our revokes into corrected revokes.

For an established revoke, the revoking side surrenders two tricks to the other side for the first revoke, and one trick for each subsequent revoke. A very heavy fine!

Only tricks won after the revoke can be taken. The reason for this is evident—why should a revoke be penalized by the transfer of those tricks which the revoke did not effect? Tricks won or lost, before the revoke occurred are not affected by the revoke. To make this clear, suppose you have a contract of five diamonds—and your opponents win the first three tricks—you winning the remaining ten. At the completion of the deal it is discovered that West revoked on the third trick. West won two tricks before the revoke. These two tricks are immune from penalty. Only one trick is surrendered. This would enable you to fulfill your contract.

A revoke cannot be claimed after all four players have returned their cards to the duplicate board.

Eugene Resident Dies While Here For Brief Visit

Joseph E. Wiper, 64, resident of Eugene, died early Thursday at the Salem home of his brother, Charles Wiper. Mr. Wiper arrived here from Eugene Tuesday with the intention of spending a week or 10 days with his brother.

Surviving are his widow and four children. Prior to coming to Oregon four years ago, Mr. Wiper was engaged in the grain business in North Dakota.

Three of G. O. P. Candidates File

Friday was G. O. P. day at the county clerk's office, three candidates of the party coming in to file their candidacies for a precinct committee post at the May 18 election. Hal D. Patton, former state senator from this county, filed for the election in precinct 11, Salem; K. O. Runner, route six, filed for election in his district; Henry Zorn, Aurora, filed for election in the Champog district.

COURT HESITANT IN GIVING NEW ROADS

Eight petitions for the establishment of county roads came formally before the county court Friday at an extended session but the court was wary about the establishment of new highways and continued each of the petitions over to the March 9 meeting with the exception of a road in district 14 petitioned by Oral Egan and others. The report of the viewers in this case was approved and the opening of the road ordered. The original petition was dated December 9, 1932, the proposed road having been before the court on several instances.

Roads to await further action include the following:
One in district 14 on petition of George Benson and others.
One in district 45 on petition of Elizabeth Schaefer and others.
One in district 8 1/2 on petition of E. F. Henry and others.
A road in districts 25 and 28 1/2 on petition of H. E. Bosell and others.
One in district 66 on petition of Ty McClellan and others.
A road in district 4 on petition of George Benson and others.
A road in districts 22 and 52 on petition of George Kleen and others.

Klamath Falls Pair Pardoned After 9 Years

Governor Meier issued conditional pardons Friday to W. S. Pate and Pete Sullivan, both of Klamath Falls, who were serving life terms in the state penitentiary here for first-degree murder in Klamath county. They were received at the prison February 17, 1935.

Records show that Pate and Sullivan were two of four men who killed a man while holding up a gambling game in Klamath Falls several years ago.

Under the terms of the pardons Pate will go to Los Angeles to live with a brother while Sullivan will go to Lawrence, Kansas, to make his home with relatives.

Old Timers Forget Winter Weather as Flowers Bloom

ZENA, Feb. 9 — Oldtimers in this valley are predicting an early spring with bountiful rains and balmy weather. The unusually mild weather of January and February is bringing forth flowers in fields and woods at least a month earlier than in former years.

The pale orchid tinted blossoms known as spring beauties and golden Johnny jump ups, buttercups, lamb tongues, daisies, and shrubs such as Oregon grape and scarlet wild currant are blooming profusely now.

In domestic flower gardens flowers such as the dainty snowdrop, crocus, primrose, pansy, violets, rose, daffodil, pansy, calendula and among the shrubs the spirea, forsythia, japonica, laurastina are blossoming.

DISTRICT CORN-HOG GROUPS ORGANIZED

Plans for the conducting of district meetings for the signing of farmers desiring to participate under the corn and hog production control program are under way here today, following a key meeting yesterday of the county advisory board, Harry Riches, county agent and W. L. Tuetsch, state extension leader. It is expected that approximately 600 farmers throughout the county will participate in the plan.

District committees will have charge of the signing of the farmers in the various areas, after which permanent county committees and members of the county board of directors will be elected. Officials here yesterday indicated participation in the corn and hog control program will be considerably heavier than in the wheat control project.

Members of the seven district committees named to supervise the preliminary work include, Mt. Angel, Joe Berndt, Mike Weinacht, and Pete M. Smith; Hubbard, George Grimps, Waldo Brown and Otto Bernong; Silverton, Oscar Loe, Earl Desart, and Oscar Johnson; Salem, Cass Nichols, A. Frankl, and Fred Gilbert; Stayton, P. T. Etzel, O. Humphreys, and Ed Highberger; Jefferson, George Marlat, Charles Meier, Jr., and D. E. Blinston; and St. Paul, Ross Coleman, Walter Smith, and John McKillop.

Bonds of Oregon Improve Steadily In Market Price

Bonds of Oregon are steadily improving in market price according to dispatcher from San Francisco. Veterans' bonds were quoted in San Francisco this week to yield 4.8 per cent instead of the 5.25 basis of a fortnight ago. State highway bonds were even stronger selling to net 4.6% this week compared to 4.8% two weeks ago.

California bonds commanded an even better market. A $6,000,000 issue of unemployment relief securities sold on a 3.8% basis this week. The bonds at par bore 4 1/2% interest but were marketed above the par price.

Normal Men Join Ranks Of Normals

MONMOUTH, Feb. 9. — Men students of the Normal school here have formed the Associated Men Students of the Oregon Normal school, with these officers: Valmore H. Bullis, Independence, president; Herbert Van Zant, Oswego, vice-president; Don Deming, Oregon City, secretary-treasurer.

"No longer," says the new president, "will the men have to carry out every whim and fancy of the mass of women students who have had things pretty much their own way for many years because their outnumbering the men by such unreasonable majorities, from 10 to 1, up to 50 to 1. In late years the ratio of men in proportion to the women on the campus has shifted from such odds until now the men are only outnumbered by the comparatively small margin of 2 1/2 to 3 women for every man on the campus.

Onlookers here could go back a bit further in the school's history and cite an instance when the ratio of women to men stood 200 to 1 for a time.

Insuring Titles Held Sufficient

Instead of requiring abstracts for all Home Owners' Loan Corporation refinancing deals, some mortgages may be closed by insurance of titles, it was indicated here yesterday. Effort is being made from Portland headquarters to speed up loan closings in Salem. Thus far only eight loans have been finished out of more than 400 applications submitted. Thirty-five loans are said to be ready for closing. Proposed guarantee of the principal of the bonds by the federal government is increasing the interest of mortgages in accepting HOLC securities.

New Seed Loans to Be Made Available Shortly Court Told

Seed loans for farmers will probably be made available by the federal government in a very short time. J. L. Thayer, Spokane, and Ira L. Hyde, Oregon supervisor of government seed loans, yesterday informed the county court. An appropriation for from $35,000,000 to $45,000,000 is now in conference between the two houses of congress.

The region's director of seed loans working out of Salt Lake headquarters, will meet all his assistants Monday in Spokane and go over details necessary to receiving the 1934 loans.

The court was told that 1933 loans here have been about 50 per cent repaid. Some are slow since alfalfa and clover crops have not been marketed. The situation here last winter when reseeded was necessary by many farmers, also hampered repayment.
