

Tillamook Hoopsters Invade Salem for Game Tonight

LOCAL GAGERS TO FACE TEST

Fans Wonder if Break Last Week in Losing Streak Really Significant

Basketball fans of Salem are expected to turn out 100 per cent tonight at the high school gymnasium to judge for themselves whether the apparent rejuvenation of the Salem high quintet, demonstrated in a 40 to 33 victory over Corvallis on the enemy's floor last Friday night, was the real thing.

To provide tonight's test, the Tillamook high quintet will make its annual appearance on Salem's floor. Tillamook has always been a dangerous opponent of the red and black, winning both games played last year though it took each by only a two-point margin.

Early this season Salem high went to the coast and defeated Tillamook 40 to 20, but that was while the red and black winning streak was in full swing. If Tillamook turns the tables tonight it will be another indication that the 1933 state champions have developed in reverse fashion this season; but the fans generally are confident that there has been a "new deal" dating from last Friday night and that Coach Hollis Huntington's boys will hold their own with almost any opposition for the remainder of the season.

Tillamook lost the two tall players who made its attack so effective last season, but has Baumgartner, 1933 scoring ace, and several other experienced men who form the nucleus for a faster though smaller quintet.

Three-Point Victory Won By Webfeet

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 19.—(P)—In a rough basketball game that contained 27 free throws for fouls, Oregon barely took Idaho into camp here tonight, 33 to 30.

Idaho started the scoring, running up five points before Olinger sunk one for Oregon, which then romped into the lead while Idaho went to pieces. With the score 20 to 7 in the visitor's favor, Idaho revived somewhat to cut it down to 22 to 14 by recess time.

Grenier, Idaho center, started the ball rolling in the second half by snaring a basket. A free throw, earned by Berg's foul, and a basket by Wally Geraghty closed the gap somewhat, 22 to 19.

From then on it was not easy sailing for the Oregonians.

SILVERTON LOOKING FOR TIGHT CONTEST

SILVERTON, Feb. 18.—Silvertown and Chemawa, one or the other of which for the past three years has won by a one to three point margin, will play here Friday night in what promises to be the closest game of this season for Silvertown. If Silvertown wins she will be the Marion county A champion and will enter the district tournament at Albany against the Linn county A and B teams and the Marion county B team for a chance to go to the state tournament.

If Chemawa should win, Chemawa and Silvertown would be required to play off the tie.

There will be two officials for the game as rivalry is keen and a lot is at stake. The preliminary game Friday night will begin at 7 o'clock.

Tillamook will play here Saturday night beginning at 8:30 with no preliminary game. Tillamook ruined Silvertown's chances last year for top place in the state tournament. It was the only team that Silvertown lost to a year ago.

CURT COMMENTS

Herr Hitler plans to do things about golf in the Fatherland. Build hundreds of courses, set club dues at 80 cents a year for a maximum and arrange for lower prices on equipment. A golfer's paradise—that far. But from what we have heard of Herr Hitler, we judge the next step will be to make golf compulsory—and what drudgery it will be then!

Up to date the football people in this country have taken the Carnegie Foundation's reports seriously. But if they don't watch out, those reports will soon prove nothing but a laugh. Notre Dame and U. S. C. are busy defending themselves against the latest terrible charges—namely that their teams have been "exploited" for commercial purposes.

By the way, what does that word "exploited" mean? Something "exploit" has a pleasant ring to it and "exploited" an unpleasant one. Ah yes, the Trojans and the Ramblers have performed some wonderful "exploits" but in the meantime they have been "exploited," according to the Foundation.

The facts, we believe, are pretty well known. At U. S. C., football players are "cared for" quite thoroughly and in return, they are rather completely under the thumb of the athletic department; for instance the boss says "stay in junior college a couple more years until we need you," they stay there. That indeed is exploitation in the unpleasant sense. But the boys don't really have to stay; two who didn't are Arbelbide, now at Washington State, and Van Vleet, now at Oregon. So we have to conclude that the boys, and the public, like the exploitation or there wouldn't be any Trojans nor any sell-outs at the Olympic stadium.

At Notre Dame from all we have heard, the situation is different. Catholics as a class are sports-minded people and Notre Dame represents to them the acme of Catholic achievement in sport. Every young Catholic boy who kicks a football around dreams of being a football hero at Notre Dame, and when he grows up, he goes there if he thinks he can make the team. And so Notre Dame can do big things in football without much active proselytizing. After they get there all the boys who are able-bodied play football and the best of them make the varsity. The prestige of Knute Rockne and of Jess Harper before him, drew to Notre Dame also a few outstanding gridsters who were not Catholics.

All we can see to the charges is that football players have earned four million dollars for Notre Dame and no doubt more than that for U. S. C. and the players themselves have received practically none of it—despite the stories about the luxurious cars a few of the Trojans have driven.

So it's easy to see that the boys, after all, are comparatively amateur even in those centers of alleged high-pressure football. That, we supposed, was what the Foundation wanted when it published its first bomb-shell report. This latest one would indicate that the Foundation wants the players to get what they earn. Blamed if we can reconcile the two ideas.

COLUMBIA DEFEATS MT. ANGEL, 17-29

MT. ANGEL, Feb. 19.—Despite hard playing Mt. Angel College failed to administer the hoped for defeat to Columbia, here Sunday afternoon, losing 29 to 17. The first score was made by the M. A. C. hoopers, and the first few minutes play saw them going fine. At the end of the quarter, however, Columbia had the lead by four points. Mt. Angel failed to score in the second quarter and at half-time the score was 17 to 4 in Columbia's favor.

In the second half M. A. C. made 13 points to Columbia's 12, doing their best playing in the last quarter, but were unable to break down the lead established by the Portland boys in the early part of the game.

Lineup: Mt. Angel: Tomman F 19 Rosal Christensen 4 F 3 Manion Saalfeld 6 C 6 Harmon Terhaar 2 G 6 Venglen Bucknum 2 C McCarthy Senter S 6 Leinweber Zerr S 6 Nelis A preliminary game between the Foresters and the high school team resulted in a score of 23 to 11 in favor of the Foresters. Saturday night Mt. Angel college was defeated by the Albany college quintet 33 to 25. In a preliminary game Mt. Angel won over the Silvertown Cubs with a score of 18 to 15.

REED-CURTISS BOUT TONIGHT

Close Contest is Expected; Achiu and Heinz Also Tangle on Mat

Robin Reed and Jack Curtiss will be the principals in tonight's main event wrestling match at the arena. Curtiss indicated that he is able to give Reed a hard battle when he last week won over Art Perkins who had previously won from Reed twice. However, Reed has never been outclassed, within the memory of Salem fans, and a victory for Curtiss is by no means assured.

The popularity that belonged to Perkins a few weeks ago, has switched over to Curtiss, not so much because he won last week as because Perkins apparently "backslid" from his former good manners in the ring and tried some "dirty work" and Curtiss made valiant strides toward converting him into a good boy again.

Walter Tinkit "Sneez" Achiu and "Cowboy" Heinz of Burns will figure on the second bout. The preliminary, an hour bout like the others, has not been announced as to personnel.

Pacific Beats Puget Sound Again; Willamette to Play On Linfield Floor Tonight

Close Contest is Expected; Achiu and Heinz Also Tangle on Mat

FOREST GROVE, Ore., Feb. 19.—(P)—Pacific university withstood a last half rally by the College of Puget Sound basketball team and won, 38 to 33, here tonight, making up its seventh northwest conference victory.

Willamette university's hoopers face one of their hardest games of the season tonight when they invade the stronghold of the Linfield Wildcats at McMinnville for a Northwest conference game. Going at their best, the Bears were able to defeat Linfield only by a four-point margin, 32 to 28, here several weeks ago, and they will be up against a determined bunch of Wildcats and facing the handicap of a strange court tonight.

Both teams are out of the conference championship race but they have that little matter of their own rivalry to inspire them tonight. Linfield has defeated Willamette only once since formation of the present conference, and that was on Linfield's floor and after Willamette had just lost its chance for a title, two years ago. Since meeting Willamette here early this month, Linfield has suffered the ignominy of a defeat at the hands of Albany college, but that was a case of Albany's team, reorganized rather completely since the second semester opened, finally hitting its stride, and not finally hitting that the Wildcats have weakened. That defeat will provide them with additional fire for a determined battle tonight.

MINOR LEAGUE QUINTS TO VIE

Three Have Chance to Get Into Playoff; Valley Motor Five Wins

The final round of games in the City-Y. Minor league will be played tonight, with each game having a direct bearing on the all-important second place race which will determine which team is to meet the Teachers, already assured of first place, in the playoff.

Square Deal Radio and Pay'n Takt are tied for second place now with Western Paper just a game behind. Should either Square Deal or Pay'n Takt win and the other lose, the winner will be "in" but if both win another game to decide the playoff entrant will be necessary, and if both lose and Western Paper wins, it will become a three-way tie again.

Western Paper plays Kay Woolen Mills at 7 o'clock, Square Deal meets Teachers at 8, Pay'n Takt plays Oregon Paper at 9.

Proof that Minor league ball isn't as fast as the Major league variety was furnished in an inter-league game Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. when Parker's of the Major league defeated Square Deal 72 to 26.
