WILDCATS PUT UP HARD FIGHT

Score Tied Midway of Last Period But Smoothies Then Settle Down

In the last nine minutes of play at McMinnville last night, and with the score tied 29-29, the Willamette "smoothies" settled down to accurate shooting and swift passing to emerge with a 39 to 36 victory over Linfield.

The first half opened with the Bearcats taking an early lead of five points. Linfield started the battle by sinking a swift field goal on the first tip-off. Burdett, Lemmon and Kloostra retaliated in one-two-three fashion and ran the score up to 7-2 in the first four minutes of play. Then the "smoothies" seemingly lost the elements of consistent playing, and allowed a hard-playing Wildcat quintet to end the half with a 19-17 lead. Willamette, in the first half, failed to follow the ball consistently. Linfield opened a passing attack that repeatedly took the ball close to the basket for set-up shots, and made an astonishing number of long tries good. Brostrom and Neely, forwards, were the big guns of the Wildcat attack, and worked through the Willamette defense with apparent ease. The Bearcats worked hard, but somewhat inconsistently, and managed to hold the score fairly even. With a minnte left to play in the first period, "Spec" Keene sent in an entire "roughneck" team, but they failed to change the score.

The second half opened with a rush. Linfield took the ball down the floor from the tipoff, and Brostrom worked in close to the basket and let go with a field goal. The "smoothies" clicked on the next play, and made the score 19-23. With Burdette and Hartley peppering the basket from close range, the ball was carried along on the wings of a swift passing attack which worked through the Wildcat defensive with ease. In a thrilling spurt, the game, which had apparently been the property of Linfield, became anybody's contest.

With the score at 29-27, Burdett took the tip-off, passed through to Hartley, and received the ball again under the basket to tie the score. With nine minutes to play, the Bearcats recovered "smoothie" style, and sank shot after shot, with the Linfield quintet running a close second. Kloostra went out on personals with Willamette holding the long end of a 34-29 score, and Petteys, first year center, took his place. The "smoothies" tightened up. and resorted to working in of the ball, and short passes. Successive scores by Hartley and Burdett placed the score in the last two minutes of play at 36-32. The "smoothies" went to the center for the tip-off, Hartley took the ball, and shot the tally up to 38 for the Bearcats. Burdett repeated the performance, Hartley sank a free throw, and the Bearcats' scoring for the evening ended. In the last minute of play, Brostrom and Neely of Linfield sank long shots to narrow the margin. Willamette (39)

Rope - Swing Works Once For Handsome Lad, is Boomerang Later

Robin Reed had too many tricks last night for his young opponent, Handsome Jack Curtiss, and took two out of three falls to win their wrestling match at the armory. Curtiss won the first fall with his favorite ropeswing, but the hold backfired at the end. Reed kicked him in the stomach and took an easy bodypress for his victory. He had previously taken the second with whip-wristlocks and a body press. Curtiss stayed out of range of Reed's flying feet during most of the evening, but the one mistake was enough. As usual, Reed showed distinct "dirty" tendencies, but Curtiss contributed some slugging of his own. Referee Harry Elliott had quite a bit of fun "admonishing" Reed by the neat process of kicking him where said kicks would do the most good. The latter two finished the evening by staging a bout of their own while Curtiss lay dazed.

Walter Tinkit Achiu, elegant Chinese wrestler, won the first fall in his match with Cowboy Tommy Heinz, but thereafter suffered so much punishment in his left arm that he gave up the second fall and failed to return for a third. Heinz used a short armscissors and a hammerlock to advantage for ten minutes or so, and Achiu's arm was put completely out of commission. Elliott helped amuse the crowd by kicking Heinz occasionally.

Art Perkins took the last two falls from Wildcat Grey in the curtain-raiser, after losing the 16 .... West Linn first in record time. At the start of the match Gray came out of his corner with a rush, butted Perkins in the stomach, and slapped on a neat Boston Crab to take the fall in less than 10 seconds. It was announced that Bulldog

Jackson and Elliott would be featured in a finish match next week. The two are old enemies, each having won one of their two engagements. A near-capacity crowd witnessed last night's matches.

Just a month from today the state tournament will get under way on the Willamette floor. No district race has been settled so far and there are no more definite indications than there were the last time we summarized the situation. But we'll just make a guess now and see how we come out. Last year, making our guess a little later and with more data, we picked ten out of the 16 teams that finally reached the tourney.

So herewith we list the districts as they appear on the bracket for this year's tournament; next the district champion last year and finally the team we think may represent that district this year: 1933 ist on a sheet of paper and draw a bracket out from it, leaving space to write in the district champions that we didn't pick, you'll have an idea of how the championship race in the tourney

You can see right off the bat that Salem has a tough row to hoe this year, meeting the Portland champs or McMinnville the second day if it gets past surprising little Athena. which is no sure thing. All this, of course, depends on our guesses being right. Corvallis, Eugene and Astoria are all below the middle line, which means they all stand potentially in Salem's way to the finals which the local quintet hasn't missed since 1929.
