GOVERNOR WILI NOT RUN AGAIN

Many Surprised; Republican Campaign Possibilities Taking New Angle

bangup primary race. There would be much support among the republican party stalwarts for an upstate man such as Willard Marks. The Albany man, to their mind, meets the qualifications for a good governor and a good 1934 candidate but Marks so far has resisted all importunings that he make the race. He has been close to Meier the last two years, has accepted the board of education leadership from the governor and would not have campaigned against him. Should Meier urge Marks to make the race and be willing to support him actively, the Linn county man might decide to make the contest. Willis Mahoney is Second Demo Entry

The situation on the democratic side of the fence was enlivened during the week by the entrance of Willis Mahoney of Klamath Falls in the lists. Mahoney is young, colorful, forceful and ambitious. He will ask greater selfgoverning power for Oregon's cities, he will attack the power "trust" constantly and will seek support from the war veterans and the younger men in the democratic party. Just now Mahoney is adjudged decidedly second-best to General Martin as a democratic candidate, the latter being much better known, far more experienced and strong in Multnomah county which usually can control a gubernatorial election. But Mahoney is not to be dismissed too lightly; it is conceivable that a well-planned, financed and vigorous campaign by Mahoney who is said to be an excellent stump speaker, might wrest the honors from General Martin who like Congressmen Pierce and Mott. must seek the nomination from Washington since congress is not to adjourn before the primaries. Hawley's "No" Decision Clears Situation

The situation cleared up in the first congressional district this week with the decision of W. C. Hawley that he would not seek of the Oregon state police." the republican nomination for congress. This means the field is made with James W. Mott seeking renomination and election and J. D. Devers, state highway department attorney, contesting 000 claims, totalling $647,796. Mott's ambitions. Devers has nearly completed legal details in connection with the coast bridge contracts and is expected next week to start a strenuous two-months' campaign for the nomination.

W. A. Delzell is still mulling over his long-standing wish to go to congress. Delzell would probably give up this hope if he were entirely positive of the Salem postmastership. Word from Washington during the week indicated that Delzell was not as certain of this favor from Walter M. Pierce as had been thought and that Henry Crawford of Salem might be named, irrespective of whether or not Delzell wished a refusal on the job. Another problem not decided by Delzell is the internal revenue position he holds; Delzell doesn't want to resign this for a campaign; if he had to take a leave of absence, make the race, and be assured of a steady job. whether he wins or loses, he will probably announce but the Roosevelt swing is against federal office-holders using their jobs as meal tickets prior to and after a campaign and here again Delzell's ambitions may be checkmated.

Earl Nott, district attorney for Yamhill county, is expected to seek the democratic nomination for congress if Delzell does not run. He will not enter the lists if Delzell announces, feeling that his support and Delzell's would overlap. John Goss of Marshfield has already filed as has R. R. Turner of Dallas. Goss will draw strongly from southwestern Oregon which goes back to the days of Binger Herman for its last congressman. Turner and Nott will overlap somewhat here in the valley. Nott will oppose the sales tax, back Roosevelt, stand on his record as a thrice-elected democrat in a republican county, as the strongest basis for his campaign.

Hunts to Handle Logans, Announce

Hunt Brothers cannery through W. G. Allen, manager, an-nounced yesterday that his company would take care of their old loganberry growers this year. No fixed price has been set, Allen de-clared. Allen said that while the company had not yet determined how much tonnage would be required, it would be its policy to accept all logans produced by the old growers. A recent freeze in some of the loganberry producing states may have a tendency to increase the market price in Oregon, the growers said.

Turning to the activities of his administration in the regulation of public utilities, Meier said $268,488 had been saved annually to the Portland General Electric company by the elimination of its holding corporation service fee. He said the utilities department stood for the reduction of grain rates in eastern Oregon, thus returning potentially, $300,-

Commenting on the precarious position of owners of public utility securities, Governor Meier said: "If Oregon had been under proper regulation in the past, these investors in public utility securities would not now be faced with passed dividends. The public utilities of Oregon are alone responsible for the financial difficulties with which they now find themselves confronted. Instead of accepting regulation, the utilities

Ford V-8 Design Means Fine Car Performance

IT TAKES eight cylinders to give you eightcylinder performance. If it's less than an eight in cylinders, it's less than an eight in speed, power, smoothness and motoring enjoyment. The Ford V-type eight-cylinder engine has certain definite engineering advantages that increase this margin of superiority.

The real quality of an automobile is invisible—it is hidden beneath the hood. But performance cannot be concealed -it is a definite, demonstrable fact. The Ford V-8 tells its own story of performance in traffic, on hills-on every road. A half-hour behind the wheel will TUNE IN TONIGHT tell you more about its power, safety and comfort than can be put into any written words. It is not too much to say that you will find it one of the most satisfying cars you have ever driven. There is an additional feature of the Ford V-8 that is of importance to every motorist. And that is economy. Millions of miles of constant use have proved to hundreds of thousands of Ford V-8 owners that this is the most economical Ford car ever built. It wouldn't be a Ford if it wasn't an economical car to own and drive.
