

COAST GUARDS ACT QUICKLY, SAVE MEN

TILLAMOOK, Ore., March 10. —(P)—Speedy action by coast guardsmen who saw a fishing boat capsized saved seven men from death in the dashing waves on the bar here today.

Mountainous breakers caught and capsized the fishing boat GA-58 when the tow line broke as it was being pulled across the bar by the Jerry B.

Captain Robert Farley and his coast guardsmen witnessed the accident and pushed through the breakers in a small boat, reaching the fishermen as they neared exhaustion.

The coast guard boat was too small to attempt bringing the men back through the breakers. However, the capsized boat was retrieved and tied to a whistling buoy where the men awaited for the tide to turn when they could be brought safely to shore.

Coast guardsmen reported they had saved Lloyd McCord, Rudolph Witt, Earl Eberly, E. H. McCormick, a man named Tobias and two others whose names they did not learn.

Mr. Bayne reports that mortgage-holders are showing more interest in accepting HOLC bonds than they did a few months ago. This he attributed to the indications that the federal government might move to guarantee the principal as well as the interest on these securities. If principal-guaranteed bonds are eventually issued, they may be exchanged for the present ones on which only the interest is guaranteed, Bayne predicted.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

By LILLIE L. MADSEN

WE are being constantly warned that we must pay for our glorious winter by a more strenuous fight against insects. Some of the insects which we do not stand the cold weather we usually have, have come through with flying colors this year. Other insects which have ordinarily hibernated and remained dormant during freezing weather have frisked about in the warm weather of this year and greatly increased in number. So we must do constant battle during the coming months if we wish to control the injurious insects sufficiently to have a semblance of a garden.

There are many ways of controlling insects. Some are preventive, others are cures. Aphids are already at work. I have seen some of the young rose sprouts literally packed with aphids. A comparatively strong solution of soap with a little nicotine added and applied to the bush by way of a hand spray pump has proved effective.

Pests Already Abound

Liberal applications of snail and tobacco powders, I have found, greatly assist in the control of earwigs, cut worms and slugs, three of our worst garden pests. Cut worms and slugs are both particularly plentiful this spring. The tobacco powder purchased for round worm in poultry seems to be disagreeable to the palate of slugs. Also I have found that by scattering tobacco powder under the rose bushes one keeps some of the rose pests away.

A pest of which we haven't heard much but which has been constantly with us, is the wireworm. This worm, we are told, does much to destroy plants, but so far not much has been done to destroy him. Likely this is true because he is a rather difficult individual to destroy. He likes vegetation and bothers very little about eating poisonous put out for his special benefits. He can, it is said, if sufficient in number, do considerable damage to a lawn. In agricultural centers he is controlled by starvation by means of summer fallowing. But one does or sweet peas right in the row, will do much to guard against insects eating the seed before it has sprouted, and the roots of the young plants after growth has started.

A commercial preparation known as Cro-tox, used when seeds are planted gives out an order which discourages many garden worms and also repels birds sufficiently to keep them from eating the seed.

Reckless Driving Charge is Filed

TWO FRATERNITIES BURGLAR VICTIMS

Burglars who ransacked the Sigma Tau fraternity house, 920 Oak street, and two rooms in the Alpha Psi Delta house, 895 Chemeketa, sometime early Saturday obtained around $20 in cash and two shirts, members reported last night. The prowlers apparently passed the Kappa Gamma Rho house, 316 North Church, and the three sorority houses, by.

At Sigma Tau, where a preference for billfolds rather than pocket change and cash in desk drawers was exhibited, approximately $15 was lost by Herbert Hardy, Manville Fetters, William Miller and Bud Pitt. Miles Woodworth and Ford Robertson lost $5 between them and Lowell Grubbe, two shirts, at Alpha Psi Delta.

Neither of the houses was locked. The fact that the members come and go at all hours of the night was believed to be the reason why the burglars were not noticed.

SCHOLARSHIP PLAN NOT LEGAL, RULED

The state board of higher education has no authority to grant scholarships to graduates of Oregon high schools, under which the students holding such scholarships would be permitted to attend the university, state colleges and normal schools, without payment of tuition fees, Attorney General Van Winkle held in an opinion yesterday.

The board had proposed to issue these scholarships up to a maximum two per cent of the number of graduates from Oregon high schools in January and June, based upon the rank of the students and their need for financial assistance.

Other scholarships were proposed for 50 out-of-state students with a waiver of non-resident tuition fees.

The attorney general held that in granting these scholarships certain students would receive a privilege not accorded to others. This distinction would be entirely arbitrary, Van Winkle ruled.

Free Criticism Is Defended by Chief of G. O. P.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 10.—(P)—It is essential that there be no abridgement of the right of free criticism, said Everett Sanders, chairman of the republican national committee, in a letter read at the annual banquet of the Indiana Republican Editorial association here tonight.

"The right of free speech and the preservation of a free press constitute the cornerstone of popular government," Sanders asserted.

LINDBERGH ADVISES ARMY AIR LEADERS

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(P)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh told Secretary Dern today what he thought was wrong with army aviation and gave his ideas for achieving greater efficiency in procurement, management and actual flying.

During the three-hour conference, Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war in charge of army airplane buying, was called into Dern's office to hear some of the famous flyer's suggestions.

Lindbergh smilingly declined to make any statement.

Dern confined himself to this brief statement:

"Col. Lindbergh was kind enough to fly down to Washington at my request for a general discussion of army aviation. I consider him to be our foremost authority on aviation questions and, since the army has a large amount of flying to do, I wanted the benefit of his excellent advice."

"I wanted accurate first-hand information on numerous questions and, since Col. Lindbergh is obviously one of the greatest flying aeronautical authorities, I knew he would be able to give us a great amount of information and some valuable ideas."
