

HOPE SEEN FOR PROJECTS HERE

School, Playground, Other Long Time Works Seem to Have Call Now being continued under ERA aid and possibly of the courthouse and city hall remodeling jobs being undertaken.

Long-time Projects May Get Preference

"As I understand the new plans," Chambers explained, "there will be no work relief in title under 5000 population. In those areas aid will be given needy residents in establishing subsistence homesteads, possibly providing them with a cow, garden seed and a cabin.

"In cities over 5000 work probably will be provided only for those actually in need and there may be some direct relief. It is probable that work projects selected will be ones that can be accelerated or retarded according to the need of relief employment."

A few non-relief jobs are now being obtained through the national re-employment office, according to Manager D. D. Johnson. Last week these numbered around 25, while this week 23 have been provided including 14 at farm, dairy and hopyard work, four on roads, and five at miscellaneous tasks. No great increase in seasonal employment is in immediate prospect.

TOURNEY HOOPERS ARRIVE IN SALEM

McMinnville, Senator hotel, Charles Versteeg.

The Dalles, Marion hotel, W. Merrifield.

Franklin, Marion hotel, Joe Harvey.

Eugene, Marion hotel, Fred Hagemann.

Ashland, Marion hotel, Gus Moore.

Klamath Falls, New Salem hotel, Dwight Aiden.

Jefferson, New Salem hotel, Billy Sutton.

The Salem high team which does not receive hotel accommodations nor expense money, will have Harry Mosher as its manager. Dallas and Silverton will go home each night instead of staying at the hotels assigned.

The tournament was heralded Tuesday night by a rally held at the Elsinore theatre in which yells and songs of Salem high as well as the Salem high brass band and the Salem and Pendleton teams had prominent parts. Coaches Huntington and Hines spoke briefly and non-committally.

The games will be announced, as has been the custom for the last two years, by Gardner Knapp at the microphone of the Cherry City Baking company loud speaker, and a portion of the tournament will be broadcast over KKL, Portland, with Carol Hanson announcing. Eleven games will be broadcast.

speaking contest. Fifty-six institutions have registered for the affair.

This and next week's activities will close four years of public speaking competition for Knotts and Rudin representing Willamette. On their return here they will each be presented with a silver cup.

Other plans for next year include two debate tours, one to Chicago and New Orleans and the other through Boise, Ogden, Salt Lake City and Reno.

AMERICANS REVEAL SPY RING ACTIVITY

Switzes would be shown leniency because of their revelations. They have been in separate jails since late in December, when they were arrested with eight others and a quantity of cameras, radio equipments, and documents were seized by police.

Union Pacific Stream-Lined Train Due Here Saturday

The Union Pacific stream-lined train will arrive in Salem at 9:10 a. m. Saturday, March 24. It will be parked for public inspection on Trade street between Church and Cottage from 9:30 a. m. to 7 p. m. Local arrangements are being handled by the Southern Pacific. The train is made up of three cars, yet its weight equals only that of one Pullman. It is driven by power generated by a 600 horsepower engine and the train is capable of a maximum speed of 110 miles an hour.

RETAINING SCOUTS PROGRAM IS TOPIC

Means of retaining and developing the Boy Scout program in Cascade area—Marion, Polk and Linn counties—will be discussed by area councilmen with James E. West, national chief executive, and Arthur Schuck, chief of the division of operations, at the northwest regional scout conference to be held at Portland next Monday. The area here has been hard pressed for funds the past several years and last summer was forced to drop its paid executive.

The area council since that time has collected sufficient money to pay off $1300 on its deficit and meet operating expenses but has not yet put its affairs in shape to permit hiring an executive, as is expected to be required by scout authorities.

Monday's conference, which a number of Salem men, including A. C. Haag, council president, will attend, will open with a noon luncheon at the Benson hotel. Following afternoon meetings there, a banquet will be held at the Portland Masonic temple at 6:30 p. m.

SPRING COMES BUT NO STORM IN SIGHT

If today follows the brilliant example of yesterday the good old tradition of a stormy vernal equinox will be smashed. In case you don't remember what an equinox is, it occurs March 21 and signifies the intersection of the great circle described by the sun with the terrestrial equator. The equinox happens in the fall, too, on September 21.

Today the sun should rise at 6 a. m. and set at 6 p. m., as the earth has exactly half of its surface exposed to old Sol. Violent storms throughout the world are traditional during the equinox period, said to be caused by the united tidal action of the sun and moon upon the atmosphere, which is greater at this time than at any other.

Spring begins officially today but since Oregon has been enjoying warm weather for the past two months it is doubtful if the vernal equinox will cause much stir.

CWA Rock Crusher Being Dismantled

The county court yesterday ordered its Battle Creek rock crusher plant dismantled, marking the conclusion of one of its best CWA projects. The crusher had given employment to a large number of laborers and had provided rock for many county jobs. It will not be fully dismantled as the court harbors a hope it may be started up again under federal aid next fall.

BYRD AIDS RESCUE OF MAROONED MEN

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica. (Via Mackay Radio), March 20.—(AP)—Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd flew today to the rescue of two members of his second Antarctic expedition whose plans were forced down during a heavy fog Saturday, but encountered difficulties himself.

Pilot William C. Bowlin and Wireless Operator Clay Bailey, who had to come down 15 miles from Little America on their return trip from a supply base, were found asleep in their fur bags in a small tent, near their monoplane.

Vernon Stohl is Victim of Crash

Vernon Stohl, 24, formerly a resident of Salem, died in a hospital at Hayward, Calif., Sunday, as the result of being struck by an automobile, telegrams received here Tuesday announced. The accident was said to have occurred late Saturday night.

Stohl was married here last June to E. Greta Schofield, a member of the 1933 high school graduating class.

MILK DEGRADING IS ENJOINED BY COURT

PORTLAND, March 20.—(AP)—A speedy determination of the legality of the Portland milk ordinance which provides for degrading milk will be sought, City Attorney James Bain said.

Tomorrow he will file answer to the H. E. Kriger suit to prevent the city to degrade its milk from "A" to "B" without submitting it to a board of arbitration.

A temporary restraining order against effectiveness of the degrading was granted today by Circuit Judge L. P. Hewitt. When the city answer is filed date for hearing on a permanent injunction will be held.

Judge Hewitt held that "if the milk were unclean it would be the duty of the city to debar it from sale altogether. . . . To degrade the milk merely means that the price would be lowered and those less able to protect themselves from disease or an epidemic would purchase and use it."

Kriger may sell his milk as grade "A" pending final action.

Lee Centennial Jaunt to Coast Latest Request

OCEAN LAKE, Ore., March 20.—(AP)—Inclusion of a pilgrimage to the coast in the celebration of the Jason Lee centennial when the Methodist conference meets in Oregon next September is sought by Mrs. Helen Myers Warren, D.A.R. worker.

The honeymoon trip of Jason Lee and his bride down the Salmon river trail to the mouth of Salmon river and thence to Tillamook where his first Christian convert was received are worthy of special attention, she believes.

It was also there that a Christian burial service was performed and that a couple was united in marriage. These were among Jason Lee's first ministerial duties, she declared.

WOOD REPLIES TO FINSETH'S CHARGE

Says He Refused CWA Job Because He Was Under Care of Doctor

Replying yesterday to charges that he had refused to accept a CWA job last January, Albert Wood of West Salem declared he had been injured while working for the Spaulding Logging company last December and was under a physician's care at the time such employment was offered him. The charge that he had refused to work was made Saturday night by Left Finseth, Polk county CWA director.

Wood said progress was being made towards clearing the relief situation in West Salem.

"The working people of West Salem desire a change in the distribution of Red Cross relief and many of them, including several business men, are signing the copy of the petition that was taken to Portland last Friday as we promised the state relief office 100 signatures on the petition," Wood explained. "We feel that we should have just as good a relief system as the city of Salem where the workers receive plenty of food, clothes and fuel, and God knows as well as the people that we don't get it in West Salem under the present system."

SENATE ASKS FOR ITS HOARDER LIST

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—The senate today was in the unusual position of demanding from the treasury a list of silver hoarders assembled by authority of its own subpoenas.

Special agents of the treasury, acting at Secretary Morgenthau's direction, obtained the long list of persons holding speculative silver stocks on the New York market. But the stimulus which made silver dealers supply the names was the authority of senate subpoenas.

This was disclosed today after senate approval of the resolution of Senator Robinson (R., Ind.) asking the treasury for the list which Morgenthau has said showed some silver advocates to be "not disinterested" in the market.

Shortly after the senate vote, Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the banking committee, visited Morgenthau's office.

At the treasury it was thought likely that when the senate resolution had been delivered, Morgenthau would forward the names on file, though the Robinson resolution would permit a refusal "if not compatible with the public interest."

Arguments for Ekwall Filing Heard Tuesday

Arguments of attorneys were heard in the state supreme court yesterday in the mandamus proceeding brought by Circuit Judge Ekwall of Portland to compel P. J. Stadelman, secretary of state, to file his declaration of candidacy for the republican nomination for representative in congress from the third congressional district.

Stadelman refused to file the declaration on the ground that Ekwall had signed an oath that he would not accept any office other than a judicial office during the term for which he was elected.

ery, which is in the old Capital National bank building on North Commercial street.

RILEY CONVICTION AFFIRMED TUESDAY

The state supreme court, in an opinion written by Justice Campbell, yesterday affirmed Judge Wood of the Harney county circuit court in the case involving Harry R. Riley, who is under death sentence for slaying his wife, Hilda Riley, at Burns on October 21, 1932. Riley also was alleged to have shot and killed his father-in-law, Carey Thornburg, but he was not tried for this offense.

The law provides that Riley will now have to be returned from the state penitentiary to Harney county for re-sentencing.

Records in the case show that Riley and his wife had some domestic difficulties with the result that she left him in Portland in September, 1932, and returned to the home of her parents at Burns. Mrs. Riley later filed suit for divorce against her husband but this had not been disposed of at the time of the tragedy.

ATTENDANCE GAIN AT FAIR FORECAST

150,000 Persons Expected, Says Gehlhar; Numerous Improvements Made

An attendance of 150,000 persons at the 1934 state fair was predicted yesterday noon by Max Gehlhar, director, speaking to the Salem Kiwanis club. "We had 100,000 last year; with our improvements to the plant and with new features we have planned, we hope for a 50 per cent increase," Gehlhar said.

FRANCIS WILSON IS NAMED AS DIRECTOR

Francis Wilson, Salem Heights, was named a member of the school board of that territory, district 128, late yesterday by Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent.

He succeeds Roy Bohannon, who resigned nearly a month ago. Wilson will serve until Monday, June 18, when the annual school election is held.

In making the appointment, Mrs. Fulkerson pointed out that it had been her policy to appoint a successor to a board vacancy ap-

Voters to Ballot on Manager Plan

The proposed charter amendment to create a managerial form of government for Salem will be brought before the voters by initiative petition in November if the council refuses to call a special election for the purpose May 18. Mayor Douglas McKay declared yesterday, Monday night the council failed to vote on the special election ordinance but it may do so at the April 2 meeting.

CLASSES IN FIRST AID STARTING SOON

A series of standard first aid classes given by the American Red Cross and continuing for two months with ten meetings will start a week from tonight, March 28, at the Y.M.C.A. with W. C. Marshall, county first aid chairman, in charge.

The course is free of charge except for the cost of a text book. Ralph Carlson will be the instructor for the initial class and comes from San Francisco where he is well known as a first aid and life-saving field representative.

Five instructors and 12 doctors will handle the classes which will meet weekly on Wednesday. State police will demonstrate roadside treatment and transportation of the injured. The Black Dragons, Salem life-saving corps, will put on the life-saving work.

Those who attend the ten classes and complete the course will receive proficiency cards in first aid.

Stop Beer Sales at Forest Grove

FOREST GROVE, Ore., March 20.—(AP)—Legalized sale of beer was short-lived here.

A store which sold beer two days last week was notified yesterday that the permit had been withdrawn. A delegation recently protested licensing of stores here before the Oregon liquor control commission. Their trip was not in vain.
