Salem Rallies to Remain in Race; Beats Pendleton by 33-26 Margin

Attendance Wednesday set a new first day record, with a good crowd in the afternoon and more people at night than attended the finals last year. Much of this attendance, however, was on single admissions and there are still a number of season reservations available.

Salem Rallies to Defeat Pendleton

Salem high had a tough evening but at the same time Coach Hollis Huntington's men looked good — except in the matter of marksmanship. They fought hard, their passing was excellent, but in the early stages of the game with Pendleton they couldn't hit the hoop. Pendleton took a 4 to 0 lead, Salem went ahead 8 to 6 at the end of the first quarter and then Pendleton came back to lead 13 to 10 at half time, Salem getting just one field goal in the second quarter.

The red and black finally hit something resembling its real stride and forged ahead although Pendleton tied it up at 18-all and continued to threaten until near the end, all because of the sharpshooting of Galloway, who scored 19 points.

Ike Wintermute carried the load for Salem with 14 points but Phil Salstrom pitched in and scored four field goals after recovering from his early nervousness, and DeJardin and Burrell both netted long shots just when they helped most. Peters, bothered by his ankle, got no field goals but collected four points from the gift stripe. Hobbs played a great defensive game but went out on fouls.

Salem		Pendleton
Wintermute 14	F	19 Galloway
Salstrom 8	F	4 Graybeal
Peters 4	C	3 Rosenberg
Hobbs 2	G	Rees
Burrell 2	G	Eason
DeJardin 2	S
Brownell 1	S

Silverton Beaten In Tight Contest

A hard-driving Klamath Falls quintet nosed out Silverton in a game that was replete with action; the score was 31 to 25 but the teams were more evenly matched than that; Silverton led 17-13 at half time and they were tied at 22-all at the end of the third period. The Pelicans kept Wayne Scott, Silverton's all-state forward, bottled up at all times and he scored only seven points, leading his team at that.

Miller, a center who could make anybody's ball team, was the Pelican's ace, getting eight field goals; he had valuable help from Egelhoff who compiled 11 points.

Klamath Falls		Silverton
Wakeman 2	F	7 Scott
Egelhoff 11	F	4 Crowder
Miller 16	C	6 Pettyjohn
Giovanini	G	2 Orren
Scroggin 2	G	6 Specht

Franklin Winner in Low-Score Contest

Franklin's 15 to 14 victory over McMinnville was the big kick of the day, and harked back to the days when all teams used man-to-man defense and knew how, and field goals were as hard to get as jobs are nowadays. However, tournament fright had something to do with the dearth of scoring, in addition to a couple of tight defenses.

Seven minutes went by before either team scored a field goal, then McMinnville got one and Franklin two, Franklin leading at the end of the period 6-4. The Portlanders went on to lead 13 to 6 at half time, McMinnville getting just two free throws.

Then, throughout the entire second half, Franklin got just two points, a field goal three minutes after the third quarter opened; thereafter McMinnville gradually crept up as Mullikin netted two more field goals and Tistadt one; the Bears had a chance to tie it up with a free throw in the last minute, but they couldn't do it.

No player on either team was detected in the act of aiming a shot for the basket, but that was largely because they never were allowed time for it. Dickinson of Franklin was the outstanding floor player.

McMinnville		Franklin
Mabee 3	F	2 Ager
Tistadt 2	F	6 Dickinson
Giddings 2	C	2 Jewel
Jones	G	2 Harvey
Mullikin 7	G	Leavens

Seek to Control Wild Gas Flow In Prairie Well

HOQUIAM, Wash., March 21.—(AP)—Truck loads of heavy drilling clay were rushed from here today to Ford's Prairie to aid in controlling a large natural gas well, which had been running wild for five days, M. F. Howard, a member of the drilling company, reported.

The gas as struck last week at a depth of 2,200 feet, he said, and had been running with an estimated daily volume of two million feet or more. He said it appeared to be in commercial quantities.

A year ago the company reported hitting gas at a shallower depth, but drilling was resumed.

The clay taken from here was from a test well drilled by the same company, and will be used to control the present well so that drilling may be continued deeper.

KOWITZ REFUSES TO FILE COMPLAINT

The city planning and zoning commission was temporarily balked yesterday in its desire to enjoin Haynes and Kim from further construction of a rest station on the parking strip in front of the firm's service station, 1505 Fairgrounds road, when City Attorney Chris J. Kowitz refused to file the necessary complaint in circuit court.

"I don't expect to get an injunction out until the council tells me to," Kowitz said he informed Chairman David W. Pugh of the commission "I told Pugh to deal through the council since the council had approved of the construction by special ordinance."

Pugh could not be reached to ascertain whether or not he would seek to obtain the injunction personally, as a result of Kowitz' refusal to take up the matter. At Tuesday's night meeting of the commission he stated he would sign his name to the injunction proceedings if necessary.

The commission requested Kowitz to stop the construction by means of an injunction because the council approved the work without first referring the matter to the commission. One commissioner declared against setting a precedent relative to construction on parking strips and others recalled that the project in question had once previously been denied.

S.A. Captain Warns Against Impostor

Warning to Salem residents to desist today from giving funds to an aged man who is expected to be here soliciting in the name of the Salvation Army was issued last night by Captain Lewis McAllan of the local Salvation Army office.

Captain McAllan was informed from Albany that the man, a former Army worker but for several years connected with a gospel mission in California, was ordered out of Albany late yesterday afternoon for soliciting in the name of the Army. Presumably he was headed toward Salem and will try to work this field today. He is in no way connected with the Army now.

Sen. Goss Calls, Campaign Tour

John D. Goss, Marshfield attorney and state senator from Coos and Curry counties, spent yesterday afternoon in Salem and Silverton conferring with democratic leaders. Goss is now actively in the campaign for the democratic nomination for congress in this district. He said he had received favorable reports from all sections of his district.

BOAT LINE OFFERS DAILY SERVICE NOW

Chamber of Commerce Will Hold Monday Luncheon on Northwestern

Announcement is made today by D. L. Greiner, acting manager for the Salem Navigation company here, that the steamboat "Stranger," recently purchased by the company in Portland, has been placed in service alongside the "Northwestern," on regular schedule between Salem, Portland and Vancouver, making daily service both ways possible for the first time. Nearly double the amount of cargo can now be carried, according to Mr. Greiner. One boat will leave Portland for Salem every night and the other will leave Salem for Portland.

"The fact that we have doubled our tonnage capacity and frequency of service does not mean that we expect to be carrying twice the amount of freight immediately," stated Mr. Greiner, "but it is indicative of the present and future policy of the company to keep its service a step ahead of the demands of shippers, rather than to be lagging behind in this respect. We believe that business is going to continue to improve with us and we want to be ready for it."

"For the same reason," continued Mr. Greiner, "we are doing considerable improvement work at our dock to speed up handling facilities and to increase our truck loading space and warehouse storage room."

The Salem chamber of commerce, at the directors' meeting March 12, accepted the invitation of the Salem Navigation company to hold the regular luncheon on the Northwestern Monday noon, March 26.

Short talks will be made during the luncheon by Salem men, including William P. Ellis, president of the chamber; Douglas McKay, mayor; K. A. Heinlein, manager of the Oregon Pulp and Paper company; Wm. G. Allen, manager of Hunt Bros. Packing company; Geo. Paulus of Paulus Bros. company, and possibly others including Theodore Roth of the Willamette Grocery company and William J. Busick.

Those visiting the luncheon will have the opportunity of experiencing a ride on an elevator which is used to raise and lower freight to and from the boats. It runs on a specially constructed track which carries the car downward and outward toward the boats at the same time. It is operated by a electric wench in the warehouse and will carry 18 to 20 passengers.

The Northwestern and Stranger will probably be re-named in the near future, according to company officials. In fact some names have been submitted, two of which are considered as particularly appropriate. These names are "The Rose City" and "The Cherry City."

Wilson Named as Member of Board At Salem Heights

SALEM HEIGHTS, March 21.—Those of this district who petitioned the county superintendent for the appointment of Dean F. M. Erickson to fill the vacancy on the Salem Heights school board on account of his wide school experience, received a distinct shock when it was learned that F. E. Wilson had been appointed instead. Petitioners stated that they supposed that the county superintendent would defer to the request of the majority of the school district voters.

Mrs. Wilson has been a resident of the Heights the past four or five years. He has been quite active in community affairs, has children in school and is well thought of.

Mrs. E. E. Barnett is critically ill with pneumonia. For awhile her life was despaired of by her attending physician.

NAME STAVISKY AS GANGSTER HEAD

PARIS, March 21.—(AP)—As investigators pieced together the blood-stained blocks of an amazing scandal-puzzle today, the figure of the late Serge Stavisky was emerging, they said, as chieftain of a band of gangster terrorists.

Fresh revelations came of mysterious deaths of persons allegedly associated with him, including that of a deputy by poisoning seven years ago which set political France by its ears.

The body of the alleged master swindler was ordered exhumed for a new autopsy.

Members of a parliamentary investigating committee said new clues had changed the entire aspect of the case. They faced, members added, a desperate gang which sowed death freely.

Deputies left the day's session dumfounded by ramifications of the adroit Stavisky's activities.

An attorney for Stavisky's secretary was arrested and police found several long-hunted checks in his possession.
