LARGE CROWD OUT FOR LIONS' EVENT

Ladies' Night Dinner Well Attended; Program and Dancing Featured

Forty couples including members, district officers and friends last night at the Masonic temple enjoyed what was declared to be one of the most successful "ladies' night" programs ever held by the Salem Lions club. Dinner was served at 7 p. m. followed by a program of stunts, formal entertainment, card playing and dancing.

Three members of the Salem den were honored with the presentation of keys signifying their activity in membership work. A master key, for obtaining 12 new members, was presented to O. D. "Frosty" Olden, president, and the first keys, for securing two new members, to Kenneth Braden and R. W. Niles. All three presentations were made by Ed Shea, district Lions governor, who with Frank Tate, district secretary, was an honor guest.

Dates for the 1934 district convention, Salem announced, have been changed to June 3, 4 and 5 to avoid conflict with a southern Oregon celebration. Eugene is this year's convention city. Two of a series of prizes awarded last night consisted of district convention registration certificates, given by Shea and won by Al Mayo and Leslie Springer. Other prizes went to Mrs. Marion Curry, silver platter; Mrs. W. R. Newmyer, stationery; J. P. Schimberg, shovel, jokingly suggested as an aid to his golf game.

Special entertainment was provided by M. Clodye Sullivan, self-styled "Harmonica Mike," a member of the Bessemer, Ala., Lions club, and Al Mayo's band. Members of the band include Ralph Branch, violin; Ralph Wagers, guitar; Richard Hines, violin; Leonard McCloud, banjo; Wendel Helm, piano; Earl Yarnell, trombone, and Mayo, drums.

The banquet hall was attractively decorated with flowers provided by Olson.

Bond Exchanging Plan is Popular; Currency Appears

Exchange of Fourth Liberty loan bonds for a new government issue bearing one per cent interest is proceeding rapidly, local banks which are handling the transfers for many persons, report. Almost without exception the customers are trading their bonds for the new 1944-46 issue instead of taking the cash for their bonds as Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's offer permits.

Bankers yesterday said a small amount of currency was still coming out of hiding and into deposit with the amount of such transactions steadily growing less.

Paris Divorce to End Vanderbilt Romance

Mrs. Cecil as a soloist. Hon. Francis Cecil. The divorce suit of Mrs. Cornelia Vanderbilt Cecil, recently filed in Paris, recalls the strange career of the $50,000,000 heiress daughter of the late George W. Vanderbilt. Reared in the hills of North Carolina, where her father had built a magnificent mansion, "Biltmore House," said to be the finest example of French Renaissance architecture in America, the young woman grew up like a simple mountain girl. She met the Hon. Francis Amherst Cecil in Washington, where he held a British diplomatic post. Their marriage was one of the most brilliant events ever seen in North Carolina. It was hailed as the perfect union until two years ago, when Mrs. Cecil went to England and became more British than the British. Her husband, who has grown to love the hills of North Carolina, stayed to manage the estate. There are two children, George Henry and William Amherst.

The Washington Spotlight

(By the Associated Press)
Congressional leaders planned to welcome President Roosevelt on his return from Florida.

The senate voted to increase inheritance, gift and corporation taxes to the highest peacetime levels in history.

Legislation to pay off "frozen" bank deposits was tied up in a parliamentary dispute as sentiment for it mounted.

Secretary Ickes said Dr. William A. Wirt had sought $2,000,000 for a public works project on property in which he was interested.

Investigation of the manufacture and sale of arms and ammunition was ordered by the senate.

Ex-Senator James A. Reed demanded that Representative Bulwinkle (D., N.C.) retract statements about Dr. William A. Wirt.

Legislation for RFC aid to financially distressed cities was made ready for President Roosevelt's consideration.

The durable goods industries demanded liberalization of the 1933 securities act.

Senate sub-committeemen approved sections of the stock market bill requiring regular reports from companies listing stocks.

The government attempted to prove that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., used campaign funds to pay heirs to an estate which he managed.

Speaker Rainey said congress could adjourn without acting on the stock market, commodity exchange or communications bills.

Fuel Dealers Go To Portland For Code Discussion

Claude McKenney, president of the Salem Fuel Dealers' association, and other prominent dealers of this district, will go to Portland tonight to attend a meeting of the divisional solid fuel code authority. The solid fuel dealers' code is now in effect. McKenney was informed by the code authority by telephone yesterday following receipt of a telegram from Washington, D. C.

The consumer as well as the retailer will benefit from the code, McKenney declared. He said mainly it would stabilize prices and enable purchases of supplies to be made with confidence. He averred that code provisions would safeguard from price penalty persons unable to stock up winter fuel supplies early in the season.

Duplicate Play is Good Practice

By MRS. WILLIAM H. QUINN
Culbertson Associate

If anyone wishes to improve his bridge game, I sincerely recommend that he play duplicate and play it regularly. The one fault with duplicate is that often the results depend too much on what your opponents bid. It is impossible to remove this element of luck from duplicate contract. In the majority of boards, however, you can trace the results directly to your own efforts.

There is no better way to improve your game, than to play duplicate, then analyze the bidding and the play. Compare your results with those obtained by others. Play with a kind partner or an instructor who will point out to you your mistakes. In Chicago you frequently see students playing with their instructors at the tournaments.

Naturally, there are many hands where there are just so many tricks to be taken. There is no way to squeeze out an extra trick. A player with just a slight knowledge of contract will do as well as the expert. But there are many hands where the safety plays pay high dividends.

One safety play that was demonstrated in the Olympic hands is the following:

Declarer holds A-K-9-6-5 of trumps; dummy holds J-3-2. The correct method of play is to lead the ace. Then the second round of trumps lead low toward the jack. Declarer can lose only one trump trick. Lay out various distributions and try the safety play.

— what it means — to store

70 million dollars worth of tobacco

— 4 1/2 miles of warehouses

Everything that Science knows about is used in making Chesterfields. One thing we do is to buy mild, ripe tobaccos and then lock up these tobaccos in modern storage warehouses to age and mellow like rare wines. It takes about 3 years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfield, for Time does something to tobacco that neither man nor machine can do.

It means something to keep 70 million dollars worth of tobacco in storage. It means just this: We do everything possible to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

the cigarette that's Milder the cigarette that TASTES BETTER
