BING CROSBY STAR IN ELSINORE SHOW

Sings Many New Songs in "We're Not Dressing"; Notables in Cast

Singing more songs than he has in any other motion picture, Bing Crosby comes today to the Elsinore in his brand new Paramount film, "We're Not Dressing."

They include "Love Thy Neighbor," "May I," "Once in a Blue Moon," "She Reminds Me of You" and "Goodnight, Lovely Little Lady." "We're Not Dressing" is a breezy, romantic song-fest, played against the background of a deserted South Sea island. In addition to Crosby, the film features Carole Lombard, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Ethel Merman and Leon Errol.

In the picture, Crosby plays the role of a singing sailor aboard the palatial yacht of a beautiful heiress. After a shipwreck, she and her guests are cast ashore on a South Sea island and find that Crosby is also a member of the shipwrecked party.

The heiress and her friends are totally impractical, unable to cope with the job of making themselves comfortable. Crosby takes over the command, institutes discipline, much to the displeasure of the heiress, with whom he is desperately in love. Romance, however, finds a way before the group is saved.

TRACY, OAKIE LEAD IN GRAND'S OPENER

"Looking for Trouble" Has Romance and Adventure as Well as Comedy

A fascinating glimpse behind the scenes of Telephonedom is offered in "Looking for Trouble," the fast-moving and romantic story of adventure which is the feature film attraction at the Grand theatre beginning today.

One of the scenes is taken in the Chinatown telephone exchange in San Francisco where all the operators are native girls in Chinese dress, each of whom speaks both Chinese and English with equal fluency.

Spencer Tracy and Jack Oakie compose the wise-cracking team of adventurous trouble hunters, who have some thrilling experiences with wire tappers and gangsters involving them in the solving of mystery deaths and bank robberies. They finally find themselves atop swaying telephone poles while the earth below them is rent asunder by an earthquake.

Constance Cummings and Arline Judge are the love-interest which helps to keep the story moving at a pace that never lets up from the beginning to the end of the picture.

'ALL QUIET' COMES TO CAPITOL TODAY

It's coming back—the greatest film ever made!

Throughout the history of motion pictures, certainly since the advent of sound, there has been no photoplay which can compare, in beauty, power, and terrific appeal, with "All Quiet on the Western Front."

The Capitol theatre takes pride in announcing this great Universal picture, which opens here today on a double bill.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" is the film translation of Erich Maria Remarque's war masterpiece. Produced four years ago, it has come to be the screen's most terrible indictment of war.

It was the first picture to strip war of propaganda, to show it as it really is. Today, when nations are again fearful of war, Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, brings back this all-revealing film to the theatres of the world.

Should a wife give up her husband to the other woman if she's guaranteed another husband just as good?

That's the unique situation in the domestic problem that besets Genevieve Tobin and Edward Everett Horton in Universal's sophis-

Grange in Polk to Give Scholarship for Summer Term

MONMOUTH, May 5.—Polk county's Pomona grange is again offering a two weeks' summer scholarship at Oregon State college for 4-H club members, which will be awarded some time in May. Each grange in the county will select the outstanding girl or boy club member in its district as an entry for the scholarship. Judging of the entry group will be done by a committee appointed by Glen Adams, master of the Pomona grange. Robert Ewing of Brush College won this prize in 1933.

HANDBILL BANNED

MONMOUTH, May 5.—The city council of Monmouth this week passed an ordinance rendering unlawful the distribution of handbills within the city limits without a license. The council also approved the purchase of 200 feet of 2 1/2-inch fire hose and an of the city hall, or any part of the hall, for commercial purposes.

'AGGIE APPLEBY' IS FEATURE AT STATE

RKO-Radio Pictures has secured what they believe to be an ideal comedy cast for "Aggie Appleby, Maker of Men," now at the State. The big names include Charles Farrell, Wynne Gibson, Zasu Pitts and William Gargan.

Farrell's role presents him as a studious, sedate youth, who, because of too-careful rearing by a wealthy aunt, has missed out on the enjoyable rowdiness of life. Tired of being the pride and joy of his aunt's home, he ventures quarters in the tenement district where he learns he-man and into the city and makes his head-roughneck technique.

Miss Gibson, in the title role, appears as the entirely self-sufficient little lady who is Farrell's chief instructor in the niceties of not being too nice.

Zasu Pitts injects her wanly pessimistic comedy into the often violent drama and scores heavily with the clever lines provided her.

William Gargan, in cast as an amateur fighter and professional-bouncer, by name, Red Brannan. It is he who offers the greater portion of the obstacles which appear to hazard Farrell's climb toward becoming a menacing strong man.

Victor Jory

Will James' novel, "Smoky," comes to life on the screen of Hollywood today with Victor Jory in the leading role. Children and adults both will like this clean, appealing animal picture.

Mason, Usona Claggett, Odessa McCleary, Martha Okuda and Emi Yada.—There will be no charge for the play, which requires two hours to present, but a free will offering will be taken.

Rev. Baergen, who has been a Mennonite minister, will be ordained a schoolhouse minister Friday, May 11. The services will be held at the Hayesville Baptist church.

Sunday School to Give Play Monday Night, Hayesville
